This short book is number 13 in the Development Issues Monograph Series published by NCDS Asia Pacific Press and consists of six chapters written by eight contributors. As a book it is somewhat unusual in that it does not contain a preface and an index. A preface is often useful in giving the rationale behind a book and an index is important for reference purposes. As an edited book, it is also somewhat unusual in that its initial chapter does not provide an overview of the contributions in the book, nor is there a concluding chapter which synthesises or summarises results. So it is more like an issue of a journal than a book. It is a pity that it does not contain these missing features. However, it is not uncommon for monographs to be "half-finished" in relation to the above. Most established publishers, however, at least insist on an index.

Apart from the above shortcomings, readers with interests in the Chinese economy and economies in transition will find the essays in this book useful as background reading. They are policy-oriented and non-technical in nature, so they can be profitably read not only by economists generally but by non-economists with an interest in change in China's socio-economic system.

The initial chapter by Yiping Huang (The Australian National University), Fang Cai (Peking University) and Ron Duncan (The Australian National University) provides a historical overview of the reform of state-owned enterprises (SOEs) in China in which key measures and major issues in the policy debates about the reforms of SOEs are systematically outlined. It provides a detailed backdrop which helps to put most of the succeeding chapters in context.

In Chapter 2, Ding Xuedong (National Administrative Bureau of State-Owned Property, China) gives particular attention to systems of property rights in SOEs and outlines five different schools of thought about how reform of China's SOEs should proceed.

Albert Kreidel (World Bank Resident Mission, Beijing) outlines trends in the rates of returns to SOEs. Overall returns on investment in SOEs have sunk to very low levels in recent times and their indebtedness to banks has risen to levels causing concern. Many of their debts are bad debts and there is a risk that Chinese banks may be driven into insolvency by their "over extension" of

Reform Of State Owned Enterprises In China Autonomy Incentive And Competition Development Issues No 13:

Reform of State-owned Enterprises in China Yiping Huang, Ronald C. Duncan, 1998 Sustaining Administrative Reform in China Through Path Dependence and Creation Yuqing Liang, 2024-02-29 This book looks into the processes sustaining the administrative reform in Chinese local government and the roles of different actors during different phases by tracing a vivid administrative reform process in Shunde district Guangdong province between 2009 and 2014 In 2008 Chinese central government initiated a new round of large scale top to bottom administrative reform mega ministry administrative reform to address the long lasting administrative problems Against this background the reforms in Shunde government county level operated well and sustained for several years which was enlarged to the administrative licensing field and hence influenced China s reforms in the following 10 years Shunde case could allow us a better peep at the factors that contribute to the sustenance of reform The analyses in this book find that sustenance of reform reflects ironically the logics of both path dependence and path creation The past reform trajectories have created a favorable background for further reform to evolve and a receptive ground in which exogenous forces interacted with the local reform minded actors to create the new reform innovations The combination of path dependence and path creation kept local reform afloat

Reform, Transformation and Growth Jun Zhang, 2024-07-19 This book aims to present the observation and Interpretation for China s economic growth since Reform and Opening up from a Chinese economist s view The book is divided into 5 sections including the research of traditional socialist economic structure China s transformation from planned economy to market economy reform of Chinese industrial economy economic growth and political economy Key topics are covered over the past 40 years including strategies for economic transformation dual track pricing industrial transformation and enterprise reform capital formation and economic growth structural changes and productivity growth macroeconomics fiscal relations between central and local governments and the political economy of growth Bibliographic Index , 1999

Changing Lanes in China Eric Thun, 2006-01-16 This book addresses two of the most important trends in political economy during the last two decades globalization and decentralization in the context of the world s most rapidly growing economic power China The intent is to provide a better understanding of how local political and economic institutions shape the ability of Chinese state owned firms to utilize foreign direct investment FDI to remake themselves in the transition from inefficient and technologically backward firms into powerful national champions In a global economy the author argues local governments are increasingly the agents of industrial transformation at the level of the firm Local institutions are durable over time and they have important economic consequences Through an analysis of five Chinese regions the treatment seeks to specify the opportunities and constraints that alternative institutional structures create how they change over time and ultimately how they prepare Chinese firms for the challenge of global competition China's Economic Development Dennis Yang, 2014-12-03 This collection of papers is from Palgrave s journal Comparative Economic Studies carefully selected by a

Duncan,1998 The Oxford Handbook of International Tax Law Florian Haase,Georg Kofler,2023-10-13 International Tax Law is at a turning point Increased tax transparency the tackling of Base Erosion and Profit Shifting BEPS the reconstruction of the network of bilateral tax treaties the renewed discussion about a fair and efficient allocation of taxing rights between States in a global digitalized economy and the bold push for minimum corporate taxation are some expressions of this shift. This new era also demonstrates the increased influence of international standard setters such as the OECD, the UN and the EU. Each of these developments alone has the potential of being disruptive to the traditional world of international tax law but together they have the potential to reshape the international tax system. The Oxford Handbook of International Tax Law provides a comprehensive exploration of these key issues which will shape the future of tax law. Divided into eight parts, this handbook traces the history of international tax law from its earliest days until the present, including reflections on the developments that have characterized the last one hundred years. The second section places tax law within the broader international context, considering how it relates to public and private international law as well as corporate, trade and criminal law. Sections three and four consider key legal principles and issues such as regional tax treaty models, OECD dispute resolution and transfer pricing versus formulary apportionment. Subsequent analysis places these issues within their European and cross border contexts, providing an assessment of the role of the ECJ, state aid and cross border VAT. Section seven broadens the scope of this analysis, asking how trends in recent major economies and regions have helped shape the current outlook. The final section considers emerging issues and the future of international tax law. With over sixty authors from 28 different countries, the Oxford Handbook of International Tax Law is an invaluable resource for scholars, academics and practitioners alike.

Cumulated Index to the Books, 1999 China's Political System Ning Fang, 2020-09-30. This book includes collective research by the Institute of Political Science of the Chinese Academy of Social Sciences, which is an important research institution of political science and a think tank in China. The book was completed by the expert team of China's Political System headed by Director Fang Ning for several years and after several changes in their manuscripts. This book covers the core political systems of China, such as the leadership system of the Communist Party of China, the decision making system of the Party and government in Chinese politics, the system of the people's congress, the relationship between the central and local authorities, the system of officials training and selection, the system of discipline inspection and supervision, the system of consultative democracy and the system of community level self governance etc. This book aims to build a new paradigm of empirical research and introduction of the contemporary Chinese political system by using the description and research method of materialization and dynamics of the political system.

The Cumulative Book Index, 1999 Information India, 1993-94 J. C. Aggarwal, 1997 Transition, 1994 Corporate behaviour and sustainable development Haiyue Liu, Xiaoyu Wang, Yuli Shan, Shiyang Hu, Rui Xue, 2023-05-09 Proceedings Boon Chye Lee, Charles Harvie, 2000 Transition and Institutions Giovanni Andrea Cornia, Vladimir Mikhaïlovich Popov, 2001. This book is the first comprehensive assessment of the mortality crisis which has affected most economies in transition but which has remained so far largely unexplained. It reconciles long term and short term explanations of the crisis and makes use of special micro data sets never used before. By providing a rigorous multidisciplinary analysis of this upsurge in mortality rates, the book hopes to contribute to the launch of vigorous policies to tackle this societal problem
