Wright's model for worldview analysis in order to provide necessary nuance and complexity to scholarly interpretations of the Word of Faith. The reader receives insights into the movement's narrative, semiotic, practical and propositional dimensions which cumulatively offer a multifaceted understanding of how the Word of Faith interprets reality and engages with the world. The analysis shows that there is a narrative core to Word of Faith beliefs in the form of a unique theological story with focus set on the present restoration of Eden's authority and blessings. This study demonstrates how the Word of Faith operates as a distinct worldview that parses the world through the lens of faith's causative power to affect a direct correspondence between present reality and Eden's perfection. The findings advance a critical and therapeutic approach that acknowledges how the worldview both strengthens and subverts Pentecostalism.

The Fifth Edition Luke Milbourne, 1710 Maori Religion and Mythology Elsdon Best, 1924 Religion in Essence and Manifestation Gerardus Van der Leeuw, 2014-07-14

In this book van der Leeuw discusses the horizontal path to God and the vertical paths descending from God and ascending to Him. If God Himself appears it is in a totally different manner which results not in intelligible utterance but in proclamation and it is with this that theology has to deal. The New Irish pulpit, or, Gospel preacher [ed. by T.R. and R. Dunckley]. Thomas R. Dunckley, 1838 The Word, 1910 Religion, Power, and Illusion Patrick J Hurley, 2022-12-07

According to anthropologists, religion arose in the Neolithic period, a time that began 12 thousand years ago when people abandoned the hunter-gatherer lifestyle and started settling down in communities. By the time of the ancient Egyptians, religion had reached a significant level of development. The spirits of the seeds and the weather had evolved into gods. In the end, the gods numbered more than a thousand, every god required a temple, and every temple needed a priest or several of them. Following the death of Jesus, for the Christian god to reach its final form took an additional three hundred years. It was accomplished through the work of dozens of bishops who wrestled with the problem of how a god consisting of three persons could really be one entity. Religious orthodoxy as we know it today is the result of the countless solutions proposed by priests, not the result of divinely inspired texts or teachings with various bishops condemning some proposals as heretical and blessing others as conventional. But how were orthodoxy and heresy distinguished? Any position that increased the power of the bishops was by definition orthodox, and any position that undermined it was heretical. Thus, the Christian god that we have today is a construct assembled over many years, and for two thousand years it has served to augment and solidify the power of the bishops who created it and who sustain it Religion Power Illusion concludes that priestly power is so firmly rooted in the human condition that religion is not likely to disappear any time soon It also explores the defective logic used by religious promoters and what is necessary for experiences to be non illusory Feasting on the Word: Year B, Volume 1 David L.
