Scientific and Political Freedom in Islam Uriya Shavit, 2017-02-24 This book critically explores the modernist apologetic Islamic approach to the relation between revelation and science and politics which for over a century has been a central part of Arab discourses on the future of Muslim societies The main thesis of the book is that the modernist apologetic approach has great potential to be a force for liberalization but also possesses inherent limitations that render its theory on the relation between revelation and freedom self contradictory

Hauser, 2015-04-14 In German Religious Women in Late Ottoman Beirut Competing Missions Julia Hauser offers a critical analysis of the German Protestant Kaiserswerth deaconesses orphanage and boarding school for girls in late Ottoman Beirut as situated within the larger field of educational development in the city Drawing among other sources on the deaconesses largely unpublished letters home her study illuminates that the only way missionary organizations like the deaconesses could succeed was by entering into negotiations with their local environment adapting their agenda in the process Mission therefore was shaped not merely at home but by conflictual negotiations on the periphery a perspective quite different from the top down isolationist perspective of earlier research on missions

Freemasonry in the Ottoman Empire Dorothe Sommer, 2015-01-30 The network of freemasons and Masonic lodges in the Middle East is an opaque and mysterious one and is all too often seen within the area as a vanguard for Western purposes of regional domination But here Dorothe Sommer explains how freemasonry in Greater Syria at the end of the nineteenth and beginning of the twentieth century actually developed a life of its own promoting local and regional identities She stresses that during the rule of the Ottoman Empire freemasonry was actually one of the first institutions in what is now Syria and Lebanon which overcame religious and sectarian divisions Indeed the lodges attracted more participants such as the members of the Trad and Yaziji Family Khaireddeen Abdulwahab Hassan Bayhum Alexander Barroudi and Jurji Yanni than any other society or fraternity

In The Shadows of Glories Past John W. Livingston, 2018-02-01 The title of this volume implies two things the greatness of the scientific tradition that Muslims had lost and the power of the West in whose threatening shadow reformers now labored to modernize in order to defend themselves against those very powers they were taking as models Copernicus and Darwin were the names that dominated the debate on science whose arguments and rebuttals were published mainly in the religious and secular journals in Cairo and Beirut from the 1870s Analysis and interpretation of this literature shows the hope that Arab reformers had of duplicating the Japanese success followed by the despair when success was denied A cultural malaise

festered from generations of despair defeat and foreign occupation and this feeling transmogrified after 1967 to a psychosis in a significant number of secular writers educators and religious reformers The great debate on assimilating science was turned inward where defensive mechanisms of denial spun out perversions of science the Quran becoming a thesaurus of science and a more extreme derivative of that something called Islamic Science arising as an alternate science that was to be in harmony with the Quran Shari a and Muslim belief This volume reveals the undermining effect of European imperialism on western oriented religious reformers and secular intellectuals for whom science and political reform went together and concludes with a chapter on the state of science in contemporary Muslim societies and the efforts to institutionalize science before the upheavals of 2011 so as to bring to life an authentic and indigenous culture that would sustain scientific study and research as autonomous pursuits      Gog and Magog Georges Tamer,Andrew Mein,Lutz Greisiger,2023-12-31 The tale of a collective evil force known as Gog and Magog has occupied the imagination of Jews Christians and Muslims for millennia finding expression in literary and scholarly works and other cultural artifacts This book gathers the papers from two conferences at the University of Erlangen Nuremberg by scholars ranging from history to religious studies to art history and is the most thorough work on the subject to date      Teachers and Students, Reflections on Learning in Near and Middle Eastern Cultures ,2024-01-08 Teachers and Students Reflections on Learning in Near and Middle Eastern Cultures Collected Studies in Honour of Sebastian G nther contains essays on the developments ideals and practices of teaching and learning in the Islamic world past and present The authors address topics that reflect and thus honour Sebastian G nther s academic achievements in this particular area The volume offers fresh insights into key issues related to education and human development including their shared characteristics as well as their influence on and interdependence with cultures of the Islamic world especially in the classical period of Islam 9th 15th century CE The diverse spectrum of topics covered in the book as well as the wide range of innovative interdisciplinary approaches and research tools employed pay tribute to Sebastian G nther s research focus on Islamic education and ethics through which he has inspired many of his students colleagues and friends      Religious Dynamics under the Impact of Imperialism and Colonialism Björn Bentlage,Marion Eggert,Hans Martin Krämer,Stefan Reichmuth,2016-10-11 This sourcebook offers rare insights into a formative period in the modern history of religions Throughout the late 19th and the early 20th centuries when commercial political and cultural contacts intensified worldwide politics and religions became ever more entangled This volume offers a wide range of translated source texts from all over Asia the Middle East and Europe thereby diminishing the difficulty of having to handle the plurality of involved languages and backgrounds The ways in which the original authors some prominent and others little known thought about their own religion its place in the world and its relation to other religions allows for much needed insight into the shared and analogous challenges of an age dominated by imperialism and colonialism      The Making of the Arab Intellectual Dyala Hamzah,2012-11-27 In the wake of the Ottoman Empire s nineteenth century reforms as guilds

waned and new professions emerged the scholarly estate underwent social differentiation Some found employment in the state s new institutions as translators teachers and editors whilst others resisted civil servant status Gradually the scholar morphed into the public writer Despite his fledgling status he catered for the public interest all the more so since new professionals such as doctors engineers and lawyers endorsed this latest social role as an integral part of their own self image This dual preoccupation with self definition and all things public is the central concern of this book Focusing on the period after the tax farming scholar took the bow and before the alienated intellectual prevailed on the contemporary Arab cultural scene it situates the making of the Arab intellectual within the dysfunctional space of competing states interests known as the Nahda Located between Empire and Colony the emerging Arab public sphere was a space of over and under regulation hindering accountability and upsetting allegiances The communities that Arab intellectuals imagined including the Pan Islamic Pan Arab and socialist sat astride many a polity and never became contained by post colonial states Examining a range of canonical and less canonical authors this interdisciplinary approach to The Making of the Modern Arab Intellectual will be of interest to students and scholars of the Middle East history political science comparative literature and philosophy

Reading Darwin in Arabic, 1860-1950 Marwa Elshakry, 2014-01-06 In Reading Darwin in Arabic Marwa Elshakry questions current ideas about Islam science and secularism by exploring the ways in which Darwin was read in Arabic from the late 1860s to the mid twentieth century Borrowing from translation and reading studies and weaving together the history of science with intellectual history she explores Darwin s global appeal from the perspective of several generations of Arabic readers and shows how Darwin s writings helped alter the social and epistemological landscape of the Arab learned classes Providing a close textual political and institutional analysis of the tremendous interest in Darwin s ideas and other works on evolution Elshakry shows how in an age of massive regional and international political upheaval these readings were suffused with the anxieties of empire and civilizational decline The politics of evolution infiltrated Arabic discussions of pedagogy progress and the very sense of history They also led to a literary and conceptual transformation of notions of science and religion themselves Darwin thus became a vehicle for discussing scriptural exegesis the conditions of belief and cosmological views more broadly The book also acquaints readers with Muslim and Christian intellectuals bureaucrats and theologians and concludes by exploring Darwin s waning influence on public and intellectual life in the Arab world after World War I Reading Darwin in Arabic is an engaging and powerfully argued reconceptualization of the intellectual and political history of the Middle East

The Renaissance of the Levant Michael Kreutz, 2019-03-18 Since the Mediterranean connects cultures Mediterranean studies have by definition an intercultural focus Throughout the modern era the Ottoman Empire has had a lasting impact on the cultures and societies of the Southern and Eastern Mediterranean However the modern Balkans are usually studied within the context of European history the southern Mediterranean within the context of Islam Although it makes sense to connect both regions this is a vast field and requires a command of different languages not necessarily related to each other Investigating both Greek and Arabic sources this book will shed some light on the significance of ideas in the political transitions of their time and how the proponents of these transitions often became so overwhelmed by the events that they helped trigger adjustments to their own ideas Also the discourses in Greek and Arabic reflect the provinces of the Ottoman Empire and it is instructive to see their differences and commonalities which helps explain contemporary politics
