Religious Life of the Ilavas of Kerala George Jacob, 1995 Hindu religious life of Ezhavas study based on field work done in Murukkumpula town in Trivandrum District Kerala during July 1984 Aug 1985 Modernization and Effeminization in India Anna Lindberg, 2005 Although Kerala is well known for being one of India's most progressive states processes of modernization have had an ambiguous impact on women This innovative study combines archival research with in depth fieldwork to trace changes since the 1930s in gender relations among low caste men and women by examining organization of work trade union activities and ideologies regarding marriage and family life Sufi Women of South Asia Tahera Aftab, 2022-05-16 In Sufi Women of South Asia Veiled Friends of God the first biographical compendium of hundred and forty one women from the eleventh to the twentieth century Tahera Aftab fills a serious gap in the existing scholarship regarding the historical presence of women in Islam and brings women to the centre of the expanding literature on Sufism The book's translated excerpts from the original Farsi and Urdu sources that were never put together create a much needed English language source base on Sufism and Muslim women The book questions the spurious religious and cultural traditions that patronise gender inequalities in Muslim societies and convincingly proves that these pious women were exemplars of Islamic piety who as true spiritual masters avoided its public display Liberalization's Children Ritty A. Dempsey, 2001-01-25 Kerala Christian Sainthood is an ethnography based study that celebrates the multi vocal function of saints Drawing on pilgrim anecdotes shrine practices official hagiographies and regional lore author Corinne Dempsey demonstrates how the business of saints routinely extends beyond their capacity as earthly conduits of miraculous power Saintly characters described in this book hailing from the religiously pluralistic south Indian state of Kerala tend not only to the health and happiness of individual devotees but help craft and express the multiple identities and complex power relations of their devotional communities as well. Throughout the study Dempsey highlights the traditions of Sr Alphonsa of Bharananganam 1910-1946 and St George the martyr, two figures who reflect the many preoccupations of Kerala sainthood. Sr Alphonsa, native of Kerala and famous for her life of suffering and posthumous power, stands in line to be canonized by the Vatican. St George the caped dragon slayer, imported to Kerala by Syrian merchants and later by Portuguese and British colonizers, is today partially debunked by Rome. These two figures, while differing dramatically in temperament, nationality, age of cult, and Vatican standing, boast a vast popular appeal in Kerala's Kottayam district. In examining Sr Alphonsa and St George, Dempsey shows how Kerala's saint traditions reflect devotees' hybrid identities in both colonial and postcolonial times. This ethnography of Christian sainthood within a Hindu cultural context of foreign traditions adopted by native practice and of female sanctity negotiated through patriarchal expectation is poised at a number of intersections. Dempsey provides not only a comparative study of cultures, religions, and worldviews but also a unique grounding for contemporary ethnographic, postcolonial, and feminist concerns.

Vocations in Kerala Jose Kuriedath, 1997 The Christians of Kerala Susan Visvanathan, 1993. This book is an attempt to understand the practice of Christianity in a small neighbourhood in Kerala and argues that people's interpretations of Christianity constitute a powerful mode of cultural expression and societal flexibility. Visvanathan explores the relationship between Christianity and Hinduism by using the categories of time, space, architecture, and the body and examines the rich cultural tapestry of Hindu, Christian, and Syrian life.
