Remaking Society Murray Bookchin, 2023-02-21 According to Murray Bookchin a humane solution to the climate crisis will require replacing industrial capitalism with an egalitarian ecological society decentralized democratic communities and sustainable technologies Drawing on rich traditions of ecological science anthropology history utopian philosophy and ethics Remaking Society offers a coherent framework for social and ecological reconstruction This innovative work on nature and society provides readers with clear strategies for averting disaster In their foreword to this new edition of Remaking Society Marina Sitrin and Debbie Bookchin show that remaking is a continuing project If hierarchy has deeply wounded our relationships with each other and the natural world capitalism has plunged a knife that much more deeply into the wound Capitalism Bookchin believes has distorted every aspect of political social and even personal life Our challenge then is to build movements everywhere that will preserve and expand our innate creativity and eradicate any tendencies toward hierarchy status or other forms of domination

Agents of Social Change Sung H. Bauta, 2022-07-15 This book goes where no other work has gone It refuses to conform to the conventional descriptions of the realities of widows in Africa Thus rather than approach the issue of widowhood from the vantage point of what society can do for widows the book considers what widows can do for society Christian widows in northern Nigeria are defying the restrictions assigned to their widowhood Remarriage and property inheritance for instance are not central to widows ambitions Widows believe that they are not passive observers within society rather they are agents of social change Therefore they are drawing from their faith in religious social and economic engagements towards societal transformation Of the institutions that influence their lives Christian institutions provide the best guide for the embodied agency of Christian widows in northern Nigeria The theory of embodiment considers the ways Christian widows emulate the life of Jesus towards remaking society Building Free Life International Initiative, 2020-02-15 From Socrates to Antonio Gramsci imprisoned philosophers have marked the history of thought and changed how we view power and politics From his solitary jail cell Abdullah calan has penned daringly innovative works that give profuse evidence of his position as one of the most significant thinkers of our day His prison writings have mobilized tens of thousands of people and inspired a revolution in the making in Rojava northern Syria while also penetrating the insular walls of academia and triggering debate and reflection among countless scholars So how do you engage in a meaningful dialogue with Abdullah calan when he has been held in total isolation since April 2015 You compile a book of essays written by a globally diverse cast of the most imaginative luminaries of our time send it to calan s jailers and hope that they deliver it to him Featured in this extraordinary volume are over a dozen writers activists dreamers and scholars whose ideas have been investigated in calan s own writings Now these same people have the unique opportunity to enter into a dialogue with his ideas Building Free Life is a rich and wholly original exploration of the most critical issues facing humanity today In the broad sweep of this one of a kind dialogue the contributors explore topics ranging from democratic confederalism to women s revolution from the philosophy of history to the crisis of the capitalist system from religion to Marxism and anarchism all in an effort to better understand the liberatory social forms that are boldly confronting capitalism and the state There can be no boundaries or restrictions for the development of thought Thus in the midst of different realities from closed prisons to open air prisons the human mind will find a way to seek the truth Building Free Life stands as a monument of radical thought a testament of resilience and a searchlight illuminating the impulse for freedom Contributors include Shannon Brincat Radha D Souza Mechthild Exo Damian Gerber Barry K Gills Muriel Gonz lez Athenas David Graeber Andrej Gruba i John Holloway Patrick Huff Donald H Matthews Thomas Jeffrey Miley Antonio Negri Norman Paech Ekkehard Sauermann Fabian Scheidler Nazan st nda Immanuel Wallerstein Peter Lamborn Wilson and Ra l Zibechi

Social Ecology After Bookchin Andrew Light, 1998-01-01 For close to four decades Murray Bookchin s eco anarchist theory of social ecology has inspired philosophers and activists working to link environmental concerns with the desire for a free and egalitarian society New veins of social ecology are now emerging both extending and challenging Bookchin s ideas For this instructive book Andrew Light has assembled leading theorists to contemplate the next steps in the development of social ecology Topics covered include reassessing ecological ethics combining social ecology and feminism building decentralized communities evaluating new technology relating theory to activism and improving social ecology through interaction with other left traditions

The Health of Nations Philip Allott, 2002-10-31 The human world is changing Old social structures are being overwhelmed by forces of social transformation which are sweeping across political and cultural frontiers A social animal is becoming the social species The animal that lives in packs and herds family corporation nation state is becoming a member of a human society which is the society of all human beings the society of all societies The age old problems of social life religious philosophical moral political legal economic must now be addressed at the level of the whole species and the level where all cultures and traditions meet and will contribute to an exhilarating and hazardous new form of human self evolving In this book Philip Allott explores the social and legal implications and potentialities of these developments in the light of the general theory of society and law which is proposed in his groundbreaking Eunomia New Order for a New World

Reproducing Citizens: family, state and civil society Sasha Roseneil, Isabel Crowhurst, Ana Cristina Santos, Mariya Stoilova, 2017-10-02 Whilst the politics of reproduction have been at the heart of feminist struggles for over a century and a half their analysis has not yet come to occupy a central place in the interdisciplinary study of citizenship This volume takes up the challenge posed by Bryan Turner when he noted the absence of any systematic thinking about familial relations reproduction and citizenship 2008 and offers the first major global collection of work exploring this nexus of practices and political contestations The book brings together citizenship scholars from across Europe the Americas and Australia to develop feminist and queer analyses of the relationship between citizenship and reproduction and to explore the ways in which citizenship is reproduced Extending the foundational work of feminist political theorists and sociologists who have interrogated the public private dichotomy on which traditional civic republican and liberal understandings of citizenship rest the contributors examine the biological sexual and technological realities of natality and the social realities of the intimate intergenerational material and affective labour that are generative of citizens and that serve to reproduce membership of and belonging to states nations societies and thus of citizenship itself This book was published as a special issue of Citizenship Studies

The Impossible Community John P. Clark, 2013-06-06 This book is available as open access through the Bloomsbury Open Access programme and is available on www.bloomsburycollections.com The Impossible Community confronts a critical moment when social and ecological catastrophe loom the Left seems unable to articulate a response and the Right is monopolizing public debates This book offers a reformulation of anarchist social and political theory to develop a communitarian anarchist solution It argues that a free and just social order requires a radical transformation of the modes of domination exercised through social ideology and institutional structures Communitarian anarchism unites a universalist concern for social and ecological justice while recognizing the integrity and individuality of the person In fact anarchist principles of mutual aid and voluntary cooperation can already be seen in various contexts from the rebuilding of New Orleans after Katrina to social movements in India This work offers both a theoretical framework and concrete case studies to show how contemporary anarchist practice continues a long tradition of successfully synthesizing personal and communal liberation This significant contribution will appeal not only to students in anarchism and political theory but also to activists and anyone interested in making the world a better place

The Idea of Decline in Western History Arthur Herman, 2010-06-15 Historian Arthur Herman traces the roots of declinism and shows how major thinkers past and present have contributed to its development as a coherent ideology of cultural pessimism From Nazism to the Sixties counterculture from Britain's Fabian socialists to America's multiculturalists and from Dracula and Freud to Robert Bly and Madonna this work examines the idea of decline in Western history and sets out to explain how the conviction of civilization's inevitable end has become a fixed part of the modern Western imagination Through a series of biographical portraits spanning the 19th and 20th centuries the author traces the roots of declinism and aims to show how major thinkers of the past and present including Nietzsche DuBois Sartre and Foucault have contributed to its development as a coherent ideology of cultural pessimism

The Murray Bookchin Reader Janet Biehl, Murray Bookchin, 1999 This collection provides an overview of the thought of the foremost social theorist and political philosopher of the libertarian left today Best known for introducing ecology as a concept relevant to radical political thought in the early 1960s Murray Bookchin was the first to propose in the innovative and coherent body of ideas that he has called social ecology that a liberatory society would also have to be an ecological one His writings span five decades and encompass subject matter of remarkable breadth Bookchin's writings on revolutionary philosophy politics and history are far less known than the specific controversies that have surrounded him but deserve far greater attention Despite Bookchin's critical engagement with both Marxism and anarchism his political philosophy known as libertarian municipalism draws on the best of both for the emancipatory tools to build a democratic libertarian alternative His nature philosophy is an organic outlook of generation development and evolution that grounds human beings in natural evolution yet contrary to today's fashionable anti-humanism places them firmly at its summit Bookchin's anthropological writings trace the rise of hierarchy and domination out of egalitarian societies while his historical writings cover important chapters in the European revolutionary tradition Consistent throughout Bookchin's work is a search for ways to replace today's capitalist society which disenfranchises most of humanity for the benefit of the few and is poisoning the natural world with a more rational and humane alternative The selections in this reader constitute a sampling from the writings of one of the most pivotal thinkers of our era

writings of Ralph Waldo Emerson frequently taught in American literature courses this book examines the corpus of his published work to cultivate a unique understanding of his ideas in relation to reading By following the history of Emersonian criticism over the years including research surrounding Emerson and reading theory these chapters provide a persuasive and accessible exploration of Emerson that highlight the value of his work for both literary and reading scholars Boatright argues that while Emerson predates the research in reading studies that emerged in the early twentieth century his ideas around reading engagement shared reading experiences and experimentation with reading are exceedingly relevant for encouraging healthy reading practices in the literature classroom Toward an Ecological Society Murray Bookchin, 2024-03-05

Visionary essays from a founder of the modern ecology movement In this collection of essays Murray Bookchin's vision for an ecological society remains central as he addresses questions of urbanism and city planning technology self management energy utopianism and more Throughout he opposes efforts to reduce ecology to a toothless environmentalism a task as vital today as when these essays were first published Written between 1969 and 1979 the essays in this collection represent a fascinating and fertile period in Bookchin's life Coming out of the unfulfilled promise of the sixties and trying to develop a revolutionary critique of social life that avoided the pitfalls of Marxism he was entering his creative intellectual peak He was laying the foundations of a truly social ecology a society based on decentralization interdependence democratic self management mutual aid and solidarity Presented with clarity and fervor these key works contain the kernels of concerns that would occupy him until his death in 2006 This edition also includes a new foreword by Dan Chodorkoff someone who was with Bookchin at the founding of his Institute for Social Ecology and who understands his work better than anyone The Human Person and Society Dasheng Zhu, Xiping Jin, George F. McLean, 1997 Basic Income and a Just Society David A. Green, Jonathan Rhys Kesselman, Daniel Perrin, Gillian Petit, Lindsay M. Tedds, 2023-07-31 As governments struggle to adapt half century old income and social support programs to new needs and realities some are calling for the introduction of a basic income guarantee for working age Canadians But is a basic income really the best policy response to poverty precarious work and unemployment Is it the best way to build a just and inclusive society Basic Income and a Just Society provides a comprehensive evaluation of basic income and its application as a primary social policy tool Drawing on extensive research and analysis produced for the British Columbia Expert Panel on Basic Income combined with pan Canadian data and current evidence leading scholars examine the various claims made for and against a basic income They assess its potential to reduce poverty and improve social outcomes as well as the costs associated with implementing such a program in Canada and how it would interact with existing social programs In examining the key arguments advanced by proponents of a basic income contributors take a hard look at Canada's social safety net and its strengths and weaknesses proposing a different path forward one that entails a full paradigm shift in social policy and rests on providing the bases of self and social respect to all Canadians A Community of One Martin A. Danahay, 1993-08-24 Complementing recent feminist studies of female self representation this book examines the dynamics of masculine self representation in nineteenth century British literature Arguing that the category autobiography was a product of nineteenth century individualism the author analyzes the dependence of the nineteenth century masculine subject on autonomy or self naming as the prerequisite for the composition of a life history The masculine autobiographer achieves this autonomy by using a feminized other as a metaphorical mirror for the self The feminized other in these texts represents the social cost of masculine autobiography Authors from Wordsworth to Arnold including Samuel Taylor Coleridge Thomas De Quincey John Ruskin Alfred Tennyson Robert Louis Stevenson John Stuart Mill and Edmund Gosse use female lovers and family members as symbols for the community with which they feel they have lost contact In the theoretical introduction the author argues that these texts actually privilege the autonomous self over the images of community they ostensibly value creating in the process a self enclosed and self referential community of one
