Musical Recollections of the Last Half-Century Anonymous,2023-06-09 Reprint of the original first published in 1872

London Opera Observed 1711-1844 Michael Burden,2024-07-31 The thrust of these five volumes is contained in their title London Opera Observed It takes its cue from the numerous texts and volumes which during the seventeenth eighteenth and nineteenth centuries used the concept of spying or observing by a narrator or rambler as a means of establishing a discourse on aspects of London life The material in this five volume reset edition examines opera not simply as a genre of performance but as a wider topic of comment and debate The stories that surrounded the Italian opera singers illuminate contemporary British attitudes towards performance sexuality and national identity The collection includes only complete published material organised chronologically so as to accurately retain the contexts in which the original readers encountered them placing an emphasis on rare texts that have not been reproduced in modern editions The aim of this collection is not to provide a history of opera in England but to facilitate the writing of them or to assist those wishing to study topics within the field Headnotes and footnotes establish the publication information and provide an introduction to the piece its author and the events surrounding it or which caused its publication The notes concentrate on attempting to identify those figures mentioned within the texts The approach is one of presentation not interpretation ensuring that the collection occupies a position that is neutral rather than polemical

English Opera from 1834 to 1864 with Particular Reference to the Works of Michael Balfe George Biddlecombe,2018-11-06 First published in 1994 This study sets out to investigate English opera from 1834 to 1864 The author attempts to understand the circumstances influencing the development of English nineteenth century opera its characteristic features and the reasons why these traits held sway This title will be of great interest to students of art and cultural history
