Renee Cox Renée Cox, 2001 Catalog of an exhibition held Oct 10 Nov 10 2001 Cutting a Figure Richard J. Powell, 2008 Examining portraits of black people over the past two centuries Cutting a Figure argues that these images should be viewed as a distinct category of portraiture that differs significantly from depictions of people with other racial and ethnic backgrounds The difference Richard Powell contends lies in the social capital that stems directly from the black subject's power to subvert dominant racist representations by evincing such traits as self composure self adornment and self imagining Powell forcefully supports this argument with evidence drawn from a survey of nineteenth century portraits in depth case studies of the postwar fashion model Donyale Luna and the contemporary portraitist Barkley L Hendricks and insightful analyses of images created since the late 1970s Along the way he discusses major artists such as Frédéric Bazille John Singer Sargent James Van Der Zee and David Hammons alongside such overlooked producers of black visual culture as the Tonka and Nike corporations Combining previously unpublished images with scrupulous archival research Cutting a Figure illuminates the ideological nature of the genre and the centrality of race and cultural identity in understanding modern and contemporary portraiture Not Your Mother's Mammy Tracey L Walters, 2021-04-16 Not Your Mother's Mammy examines how black artists of the African diaspora many of them former domestics reconstruct the black female subjectivities of domestics in fiction film and visual and performance art In doing so they undermine one dimensional images of black domestics as victims lacking voice and agency and prove domestic workers are more than the aprons they wear An analysis of selected media by Alice Childress Nandi Keyi Victoria Brown Kara Walker Mikalene Thomas Renee Cox Lynn Nottage and others provides examples of generations of domestics who challenged their performative roles of subservience by engaging in subversive actions contradicting the image of the deferential black maid Through verbal confrontation mobilization passive resistance and performance black domestics find their voices exercise their power and maintain their dignity in the face of humiliation Not Your Mother's Mammy brings to life stories of domestics often neglected in academic studies such as the complexity of interracial homoerotic relationships between workers and employers or the mental health challenges of domestics that lead to depression and suicide In line with international movements like MeToo and timesup the women in these stories demand to be heard The Grove Encyclopedia of American Art Joan M. Marter, 2011 Arranged in alphabetical order these 5 volumes encompass the history of the cultural development of America with over 2300 entries

Troubling Vision Nicole R. Fleetwood, 2011-01-30 Nicole R Fleetwood explores how blackness is seen as a troubling presence in the field of vision and the black body is persistently seen as a problem She examines a wide range of materials from visual and media art documentary photography theatre performance and more Who Runs the Artworld Brad Buckley, John Conomos, 2017-09-01 Who Runs the Artworld Money Power and Ethics examines the economics and mythologies of today's global artworld It unmaskes the complex web of relationships that now exist among high profile curators collectors museum trustees and corporate sponsors and the historic and ongoing complicity between the art and money markets The book examines alternative models being deployed by curators and artists influenced by the 2008 global financial crisis and the international socio political Occupy movement with a particular focus on a renewed activism by artists This activism is coupled with an institutional and social critique led by groups such as Liberate Tate the Precarious Workers Brigade and Strike Debt Who Runs the Artworld Money Power and Ethics brings together a diverse range of thinkers who draw on the disciplines of art theory social sciences and cultural economics and curatorship and the lived experience of artists The contributors to this book are in their respective contexts working at the forefront of these compelling issues

American Photo, 2001-05 Provoking Religion Anthony Michael Petro, Petro, 2025 In the late twentieth century artists were on the front lines of the culture wars Leaders of the Christian Right in the U S made a national spectacle out of feminist and queer art blasting it as sacrilegious or pornographic and sometimes both On the bully pulpits of television and talk radio as well as in the halls of Congress conservatives denounced artists ranging from Robert Mapplethorpe and Judy Chicago to Marlon Riggs and David Wojnarowicz Conservatives alarmed by shifting sex and gender norms collided with progressive artists who were confronting sexism homophobia and racism In Provoking Religion Anthony Petro offers a compelling new history of the culture wars that places competing moralities of gender and sexuality alongside competing visions of the sacred The modern culture wars he shows are best understood not as contests pitting religious conservatives against secular activists but as a series of ongoing historical struggles to define the relationship between the sacred and the political Through captivating case studies of subversive artists Provoking Religion illuminates the underside of the culture wars revealing how progressive artists and activists rendered from those most apparently profane aspects of human life the stuff of conservatives worst nightmares their own haunting visions of the sacred The Blackwell Guide to Feminist

Seeing Differently Amelia Jones, 2013-06-19 Seeing Differently offers a history and theory of ideas about identity in relation to visual arts discourses and practices in Euro American culture from early modern beliefs that art is an expression of an individual the painted image a world picture expressing a comprehensive and coherent point of view to the rise of identity politics after WWII in the art world and beyond The book is both a history of these ideas for example tracing the dominance of a binary model of self and other from Hegel through classic 1970s identity politics and a political response to the common claim in art and popular political discourse that we are beyond or post identity In challenging this latter claim Seeing Differently critically examines how and why we identify works of art with an expressive subjectivity noting the impossibility of claiming we are post identity given the persistence of beliefs in art discourse and broader visual culture about who the subject is and offers a new theory of how to think this kind of identification in a more thoughtful and self reflexive way Ultimately Seeing Differently offers a mode of thinking identification as a queer feminist durational process that can never be fully resolved but must be accounted for in thinking about art and visual culture Queer feminist durationality is a mode of relational interpretation that affects both art and interpreter potentially making us more aware of how we evaluate and give value to art and other kinds of visual culture

Black Matrilineage, Photography, and Representation Lesly Deschler Canossi, Zoraida Lopez-Diago, 2022-10-03 Black Matrilineage Photography and Representation Another Way of Knowing questions how the Black female body specifically the Black maternal body navigates interlocking structures that place a false narrative on her body and that of her maternal ancestors This volume which includes a curated selection of images addresses the complicated relationship between Blackness and photography and in particular its gendered dimension its relationship to health sexuality and digital culture primarily in the context of racialized heteronormativity With over forty contributors this volume draws on scholarly inquiry ranging from academic essays interviews poetry to documentary practice and on contemporary art Black Matrilineage Photography and Representation Another Way of Knowing thus offers a cross section of analysis on the topic of Black motherhood mothering and the participation of photography in the process This collection challenges racist images and discourses both historically and in its persistence in contemporary society while reclaiming the innate brilliance of Black women through personal narratives
