Everyday Linguistic and Cultural Practices of the Russophone Diaspora Ekaterina Protassova, Maria

Yelenevskaya, 2024-11-15 The Russian language has evolved into a lingua franca in post Soviet immigrant communities prompting an analysis of its use in different domains Everyday Linguistic and Cultural Practices of the Russophone Diaspora explores the language maintenance of Russian abroad emphasizing the role of educational ventures and transnational communications facilitated by the internet This book researches specific aspects of migrant life including occupational practices homemaking family dynamics cultural engagement and linguistic hybridity and makes use of extensive empirical data spanning Soviet post Soviet and non Soviet migrant generations collected from European North American and Asian communities Relations between different migration waves are not always friendly but are mediated through online discussion forums which help to foster mutual understanding Like all migrants Russophones seek better opportunities by establishing new homes revealing intergenerational differences in lifestyle and adaptation This volume focuses on the emigration waves between 1990 and 2020 and points to shifts in values and migration expectations and reflecting on the evolution of diasporic communities and the dynamic adaptation of the Russian language The Romance of Words Ernest Weekley, 1911 The Art and Science of Making the New Man in Early 20th-Century Russia Yvonne Howell, Nikolai Krementsov, 2021-12-02 The idea that morally mentally and physically superior new men might replace the currently existing mankind has periodically seized the imagination of intellectuals leaders and reformers throughout history This volume offers a multidisciplinary investigation into how the new man was made in Russia and the early Soviet Union in the first third of the 20th century The traditional narrative of the Soviet new man as a creature forged by propaganda is challenged by the strikingly new and varied case studies presented here The book focuses on the interplay between the rapidly developing experimental life sciences such as biology medicine and psychology and countless cultural products ranging from film and fiction dolls and museum exhibits to pedagogical projects sculptures and exemplary agricultural fairs With contributions from scholars based in the United States Canada the UK Germany and Russia the picture that emerges is emphatically more complex contradictory and suggestive of strong parallels with other new man visions in Europe and elsewhere In contrast to previous interpretations that focused largely on the apparent disconnect between utopian new man rhetoric and the harsh realities of everyday life in the Soviet Union this volume brings to light the surprising historical trajectories of new man visions their often obscure origins acclaimed and forgotten champions unexpected and complicated results and mutual interrelations In short the volume is a timely examination of a recurring theme in modern history when dramatic advancements in science and technology conjoin with anxieties about the future to fuel dreams of a new and improved mankind Words Like Birds

Jenanne Ferguson, 2019-02 What does it mean to speak Sakha in the city Words Like Birds a linguistic ethnography of Sakha discourses and practices in urban far eastern Russia examines the factors that have aided speakers in maintaining and adapting their minority language over the course of four hundred years of contact with Russian speakers and the federal power apparatus Words Like Birds analyzes modern Sakha linguistic sensibilities and practices in the urban space of Yakutsk Sakha is a north Siberian Turkic language spoken primarily in the Sakha Republic Yakutia in the northeastern Russian Federation For Sakha speakers Russian colonization in the region inaugurated a tumultuous history in which their language was at times officially supported and promoted and at other times repressed and discouraged Jenanne Ferguson explores the communicative norms that arose in response to the top down promotion of the Russian language in the public sphere and reveals how Sakha ways of speaking became emplaced in villages and the city's private spheres Focusing on the language ideologies and practices of urban bilingual Sakha Russian speakers Ferguson illuminates the changes that have taken place in the first two post Soviet decades in contexts where Russian speech and communicative norms dominated during the Soviet era Weaving together three major themes language ideologies and ontologies language trajectories and linguistic syncretism this study reveals how Sakha speakers transform and adapt their beliefs evaluations and practices to revalorize a language maintain and create a sense of belonging and make their words heard in Sakha again in many domains of city life Like the moveable spirited words the focus of Words Like Birds is mobility change and flow the tracing of the situation of bilinguals in Yakutsk Sphere of Understanding Kalevi Kull, Ekaterina Velmezova, 2025-03-17 The book presents dialogues with fourteen highly influential semioticians Juri Lotman Vyacheslav Ivanov Boris Uspenskij Umberto Eco Paolo Fabbri Myrdene Anderson Winfried N th Gunther Kress Roland Posner Stuart Kauffman Jesper Hoffmeyer Terrence Deacon Paul Cobley and Jaan Valsiner They have all made a remarkable impact on contemporary research in the Tartu centre of semiotics As well as these remarkable dialogues the first part of the volume features an illuminating sequence of chapters on topics including the importance of dialogues the historical roots and context of semiotics in Tartu since the 19th century plus the main principles formulated in Jakob von Uexküll's and Juri Lotman's works Cognitive Perspectives on Bilingualism Monika Reif, Justyna A. Robinson, 2016-04-25 Only 15 years ago bilingualism was somewhat outside the main debates in cognitive linguistics Cognitive linguistics had to a large extent taken for granted the fact that language is embodied in our experience However not much attention was given to questions of whether any changes to our language repertoire alter the way we perceive the world around us A growing body of recent research suggests that one cannot understand the cognitive foundations of language without looking at bi and multilingual speakers In this vein the present book aims to contribute to the existing debate of the relationship between language culture and cognition by assessing differences and similarities between monolingual and bilingual language acquisition and use In particular it investigates the effect of conceptual semantic and pragmatic properties of constructions on code choice and code switching as well as the impact of bilingual and bicultural education on speakers cognitive development This collective volume systematises reviews and promotes a range of theoretical perspectives and research techniques that currently inform work across the disciplines of bilingualism and code switching

Word-Formation across Languages Pavol Štekauer, Salvador Valera, Lívia Körtvélyessy, 2017-01-06 Research into cross linguistic aspects and typology of word formation has not been paid relevant and systematic attention by morphologists and only a few articles dealing with various word formation issues of this kind appear in journals The chapters in this volume address this issue by discussing on contrastive principles important questions of word formation in a sample of 26 languages The focus of the book as a whole is on typological features of word formation in the languages sampled It is aimed at researchers that have an interest in word formation in a variety of languages
