Traveler Tom Kubiak, 2018-02-09 After the fall of communist Russia when the Cold War ends paradigms shift worldwide and a society dating back to Catherine the Great develops a plan to reshape Russia's place in the world Amidst the chaos Thomas Miller a university student with roots in an influential German family is approached for recruitment by a mysterious Russian official with absolutely no option to decline From secretive back room deals in Russia to bloody assassinations on the streets of Montreal Miller is swept up in an intergenerational conflict that jeopardizes all he holds dear In the midst of this epic struggle between East and West he stuns the other participants when he begins to play the game his own way A lyrical atmospheric piece peopled with compelling characters The Traveler features a complex engaging forward moving plot studded with exciting action And although it unfailingly entertains it also has a lot that's important to say about the dark and soulless nature of political and financial machinations in the world Intermarriage and the Friendship of Peoples

Adrienne Edgar, 2022-05-15 Co winner of the Central Eurasian Studies Society's prize for best book in History and the Humanities in 2022 and 2023 and winner of the The Joseph Rothschild Prize in Nationalism and Ethnic Studies of the Association for the Study of Nationalities Intermarriage and the Friendship of Peoples examines the racialization of identities and its impact on mixed couples and families in Soviet Central Asia In marked contrast to its Cold War rivals the Soviet Union celebrated mixed marriages among its diverse ethnic groups as a sign of the unbreakable friendship of peoples and the imminent emergence of a single Soviet people Yet the official Soviet view of ethnic nationality became increasingly primordial and even racialized in the USSR's final decades In this context Adrienne Edgar argues mixed families and individuals found it impossible to transcend ethnicity fully embrace their complex identities and become simply Soviet

Looking back on their lives in the Soviet Union ethnically mixed people often reported that the official nationality in their identity documents did not match their subjective feelings of identity that they were unable to speak their own native language and that their ambiguous physical appearance prevented them from claiming the nationality with which they most identified. In all these ways mixed couples and families were acutely and painfully affected by the growth of ethnic primordialism and by the tensions between the national and supranational projects in the Soviet Union. Intermarriage and the Friendship of Peoples is based on more than eighty in depth oral history interviews with members of mixed families in Kazakhstan and Tajikistan along with published and unpublished Soviet documents, scholarly and popular articles from the Soviet press, memoirs and films and interviews with Soviet era sociologists and ethnographers.

A Russian Story Eugenia Kononenko, 2018-01-01. He is young, intelligent, well educated with patriotic sentiments. But certain misunderstandings oblige him to flee from Ukraine. For some reason everything in his life builds up to a certain Russian scenario. So to what extent should one burden Ukrainians with the outcome of this Russian Story? Finding himself involuntarily identified with Pushkin's Eugene Onegin, the hero of the novel Eugene Samarsky becomes a superfluous man in Ukraine. The novel by Eugenia Kononenko deals with love and the quest for one's own identity with the vaguely remembered circumstances rendering life nonsensical in Ukraine during the last years of the empire and the early years of independence. It considers the possibility of a mid Atlantic meeting in today's globalised world.

The Russian's Runaway Bride Elizabeth Lennox, 2015-11-20. She'd left him. And on their wedding day no less. Stefan Kozlov couldn't believe that the woman he'd married had disappeared only hours after exchanging their vows. After months of happy courting interspersed with cold showers as he forced them to wait for their wedding night, Livia had left without explanation. Stefan was angry and confused but still determined to reunite and consummate their relationship. Even if Livia wouldn't have him, her mother's medical emergency still made it critical that he find her. Livia had thought everything was perfect. The perfect man and the perfect life. So what had gone wrong? Why hadn't she seen the clues? Surely there had been something that could have warned her of Stefan's deep dark secret. Unfortunately even her knowledge of his true nature couldn't stop her from falling under his spell. There had always been a powerful chemistry between the two of them. Now she was truly in a bind, caught between trying to help and protect her injured mother while living with a husband she now felt she barely knew.

Socialist and Post-Socialist Mongolia Simon Wickhamsmith, Phillip P. Marzluf, 2021-03-03. This book re-examines the origins of modern Mongolian nationalism, discussing nation building as sponsored by the socialist Mongolian People's Revolutionary Party and the Soviet Union and emphasizing in particular the role of the arts and the humanities. It considers the politics and society of the early revolutionary period and assesses the ways in which ideas about nationhood were constructed in a response to Soviet socialism. It goes on to analyze the consequences of socialist cultural and social transformations on pastoral Kazakh and other identities and outlines the implications of socialist nation building on post socialist Mongolian national identity. Overall Socialist and Post Socialist Mongolia highlights how Mongolia's population of widely scattered seminomadic pastoralists posed challenges for socialist administrators attempting to create a homogenous mass nation of individual citizens who share a set of cultural beliefs, historical memories, collective symbols and civic ideas. Additionally, the book addresses the changes brought more recently by democratic governance. Contested Tongues Laada Bilaniuk, 2005. During the controversial 2004 elections that led to the Orange Revolution in Ukraine, cultural and linguistic differences threatened to break apart the country. Contested Tongues explains the complex linguistic and cultural politics in a bilingual country where the two main languages are closely related but their statuses are hotly contested. Laada Bilaniuk finds that the social divisions in Ukraine are historically rooted, ideologically constructed and inseparable from linguistic practice. She does not take the labeled categories as givens but questions what Ukrainian and Russian mean to different people and how the boundaries between these categories may be blurred in unstable times. Bilaniuk's analysis of the contemporary situation is based on ethnographic research in Ukraine and grounded in historical research essential to understanding developments since the fall of the Soviet Union. Mixed language practices, surzhyk in Ukraine, have generally been either ignored or reviled, but Bilaniuk traces their history, their social implications and their accompanying ideologies. Through a focus on mixed language and purism, the author examines the power dynamics of linguistic and cultural correction through which people seek either to confer or to deny others social legitimacy. The author's examination of the rapid transformation of symbolic values in Ukraine challenges theories of language and social power that have as a rule been based on the experience of relatively stable societies. Congressional Record United States.

Congress, 1999. The Congressional Record is the official record of the proceedings and debates of the United States Congress. It is published daily when Congress is in session. The Congressional Record began publication in 1873. Debates for sessions prior to 1873 are recorded in The Debates and Proceedings in the Congress of the United States 1789-1824, the Register of Debates in Congress 1824-1837, and the Congressional Globe 1833-1873. Military Review, 2018. Treaty Between U.S.

Language Alternation, Language Choice and Language Encounter in International Tertiary Education Hartmut Haberland, Dorte Lønsmann, Bent

Preisler, 2013-06-26. Reflecting the increased use of English as lingua franca in today's university education, this volume maps the interplay and competition between English and other tongues in a learning community that in practice is not only bilingual but multilingual. The volume includes case studies from Japan, Australia, South Africa, Germany, Catalonia, China, Denmark and Sweden, analysing a range of issues such as the conflict between the students' native languages and English, the reality of parallel teaching in English as well as in the local language and classrooms that are nominally English speaking but multilingual in practice The book assesses the factors common to successful bilingual learners and provides university administrators policy makers and teachers around the world with a much needed commentary on the challenges they face in increasingly multilingual surroundings characterized by a heterogeneous student population Patterns of language alternation and choice have become increasingly important to the development of an understanding of the internationalisation of higher education that is occurring world wide This volume draws on the extensive and varied literature related to the sociolinguistics of globalisation linguistic ethnography discourse analysis language teaching language and identity and language planning as the theoretical bases for the description of the nature of these emerging multilingual communities that are increasingly found in international education It uses observational data from eleven studies that take into account the macro societal meso university and micro participant levels of language interaction to explicate the range of language encounters highlighting both successful and problematic interactions and their related language ideologies Although English is the common lingua franca the studies in the volume highlight the importance of the multilingual resources available to participants in higher educational institutions that are used to negotiate and solve their language problems The volume brings to our attention a range of important insights into language issues found in the internationalisation of higher education and provides a resource for those wishing to understand or do research on how language hybridity and multilingual communicative practices are evolving there Richard B Baldauf Jr Professor The University of Queensland

Information Wars Richard Stengel, 2019-10-08 A well told insider account of the State Department s twenty first century struggle to defend America against malicious propaganda and disinformation The Washington Post Disinformation is nothing new When Satan told Eve nothing would happen if she bit the apple that was disinformation But today social media has made disinformation even more pervasive and pernicious In a disturbing turn of events authoritarian governments are increasingly using it to create their own false narratives and democracies are proving not to be very good at fighting it During the final three years of the Obama administration Richard Stengel former editor of Time was an Under Secretary of State on the front lines of this new global information war tasked with unpacking disproving and combating both ISIS s messaging and Russian disinformation Then during the 2016 election Stengel watched as Donald Trump used disinformation himself In fact Stengel quickly came to see how all three had used the same playbook ISIS sought to make Islam great again Putin tried to make Russia great again and we know the rest In Information Wars Stengel moves through Russia and Ukraine Saudi Arabia and Iraq and introduces characters from Putin to Hillary Clinton John Kerry and Mohamed bin Salman to show how disinformation is impacting our global society He illustrates how ISIS terrorized the world using social media and how the Russians launched a tsunami of disinformation around the annexation of Crimea a scheme that would become a model for future endeavors An urgent book for our times now with a new preface from the author Information Wars challenges us to combat this ever growing threat to democracy A refreshingly frank account revealing Kirkus Reviews This sobering book is indeed needed to help individuals better understand how information can be massaged to produce any sort of message desired Library Journal

Language Contact in the Territory of the Former Soviet Union Diana Forker, Lenore A. Grenoble, 2021-06-15 The former Soviet Union USSR provides the ideal territory for studying language contact between one and the same dominant language Russian and a wide range of genealogically and typologically diverse languages with varying histories of language contact This is the first book that bundles different case studies and systematically investigates the impact of Russian at all linguistic levels from the lexicon to the domains of grammar to discourse and with varying types of outcomes such as relatively rapid language shift structural changes in a relatively stable contact situation pidginization and super variability at the post pidgin stage The volume appeals to linguists studying language contact and contact induced language change from a broad range of perspectives who want to gain insight into how one of the largest languages in the world influences other smaller languages but also experts of mostly minority languages in the sphere of the former Soviet Union

Choosing a Mother Tongue Corinne A. Seals, 2019-10-11 This book presents a sociocultural linguistic analysis of discourses of conflict as well as an examination of how linguistic identity is embodied negotiated and realized during a time of war It provides new insights regarding multilingualism among Ukrainians in Ukraine and in the diaspora of New Zealand the US and Canada and sheds light on the impact of the Russian Ukrainian war on language attitudes among Ukrainians around the world Crucially it features an analysis of a new movement in Ukraine that developed during the course of the war changing your mother tongue which embodies what it is to renegotiate linguistic identity It will be of value to researchers faculty and students in the areas of linguistics Slavic studies history politics anthropology sociology and international affairs as well as those interested in Ukrainian affairs more generally This book is open access under a CC BY NC ND licence

The Red Mirror Gulnaz Sharafutdinova, 2020 What explains Putin's enduring popularity in Russia In The Red Mirror Gulnaz Sharafutdinova uses social identity theory to explain Putin's leadership The main source of Putin's political influence she finds lies in how he articulates the shared collective perspective that unites many Russian citizens Under his tenure the Kremlin's media machine has tapped into powerful group emotions of shame and humiliation derived from the Soviet transition in the 1990s and has politicized national identity to transform these emotions into pride and patriotism Culminating with the annexation of Crimea in 2014 this strategy of national identity politics is still the essence of Putin's leadership in Russia But victimhood based consolidation is also leading the country down the path of political confrontation and economic stagnation To enable a cultural social and political revival in Russia Sharafutdinova argues political elites must instead focus on more constructively conceived ideas about the country's future Integrating methods from history political science and social psychology The Red Mirror offers the clearest picture yet of how the nation's majoritarian identity politics are playing out
