Sacramento Northern Railway Paul C. Trimble, 2005 The Sacramento Northern Railway was once a critical interurban link between California's northern Central Valley communities the state capital and the Bay Area Running through orchards farmland swamps and cities this electric railway began its life in 1905 Service eventually ran from Chico to Oakland but after the Bay Bridge opened in 1939 the 186 mile route started in San Francisco's Financial District crossed the bridge on the lower deck ran through Contra Costa County towns like Moraga Lafayette and Pittsburg across the Suisun straits on the massive rail ferry Ramon which could hold an entire train and into Sacramento the halfway point From there the train continued through rolling hills and farms on to Marysville and finally to Chico before making its return journey The Sacramento Northern soldiered on until World War II but eventually the growing car culture along with competing diesel railroads undid this splendid line Interurban passenger service ended in 1941 and the various lines were gradually abandoned or dieselized Today a 22 mile segment of the route remains in operation at the Bay Area Electric Railway Museum in Solano County

Railroads of Placer County Arthur Sommers and Roger Staab, 2018 Though small in geographic size Placer County is large in its rich history of railroading in California This book covers 14 different railroads that did or still do exist in some association with Placer County There were narrow gauge and standard gauge long transcontinental and short point to point railroads Some railroads were fully contained within the county and others just touched the county Some railroads were short lived operations while others operated for decades One railroad still functions today undiminished after 150 years in service This book is more than just a collection of photographs of locomotives it provides the reader with a visual history of various aspects of the many railroads operating in Placer County over the years

Sacramento Southern Railroad Kevin Hecteman, 2009-03-09 The Sacramento Southern Railroad was born into a famous railroad family and a busy railroad town in July 1903 The mighty Southern Pacific which controlled the new line from the outset built south from Sacramento along the eastern bank of the Sacramento River into the delta's rich farmland area At its zenith the line was about 31 miles long serving the communities of Freeport Hood Locke Walnut Grove and Isleton Trains on what became known as the Walnut Grove Branch hauled pears sugar beets asparagus and other products from the agricultural regions packing sheds and canneries Competition from trucking and damage from flooding took a severe toll on the railroad and the Southern Pacific largely abandoned it by 1978 but a portion lives on as a labor of love

Records Relating to North American Railroads, 2001 More Classic American Railroads Mike Schafer, 2000 A groundbreaking new book that upends our understanding of ancient America Conventional history tells us humans migrated on foot across present day Alaska populating the Americas far later than other continents However emerging new evidence suggests seafarers reached the continents thousands of years earlier and developed far more sophisticated civilizations than previously imagined From distinguished historian BBC World Service Gavin Menzies the author of the blockbuster New York Times bestseller 1421 comes a revolutionary new account of how the first humans came to North and South America Menzies reveals that ancient peoples used the oceans natural currents and prevailing winds to make voyages across both the Atlantic and Pacific What s more we now must accept that they had time to develop remarkably advanced cultures Armed with cutting edge DNA evidence newly unearthed artifacts and astonishing linguistic and archaeological discoveries Menzies shows humans have been making transoceanic voyages as far back as 100 000 years ago vastly predating the supposed overland migration to the Americas during the last Ice Age the ancient South American civilizations of the Olmec and Maya in Central and South America may have had direct origins and influences from Asia ancient maps held in the Library of Congress in Washington D C show there must have been sustained and dedicated voyages to the Western Hemisphere by Chinese explorers as early as 2200 B C huge Chinese settlements occupied and made exploratory journeys from Nova Scotia Japanese Korean and even earlier European voyages likewise predated the explorations currently recorded by history A maverick scholar Menzies has made a riveting new contribution to the story of humanity s earliest explorers revealing the truth behind one of history s most fascinating questions Who discovered America Pacific Business ,1928 Port Series ,1975 California Journal of Development ,1928 Railway Journal E.
