Eisner,Michael D. Day,2004-04-12 This work provides an overview of the progress that has characterized the field of research and policy in art education It profiles and integrates history policy learning curriculum and instruction assessment and competing perspectives Color Expressions: an Art Educational Voyage Dr. Lonnie G. Ford,2009-08-28 Several years ago I enrolled in a graduate course on educational research that focused on closing the achievement gap for African American children The course was structured to explore issues causes and concerns for the achievement gap Studying different educational outcomes reading books and articles we regularly shared our insights about some leading causes Most importantly we were instructed to stay within our subject areas when finding any contributions to that gap In my attempt to complete the assignment of researching possible causes in my discipline of art education I found myself frustrated and angry Why There were no research studies exploring how art education was a part of the equation leading to solutions in closing the gap In addition there were no basic instructions or curricula designed to make connections to the art student to develop critical thinking skills or to incorporate the use of students life experiences for learning Furthermore I felt that art education was used as a testing ground in urban schools like the Chicago Public Schools using Teaching Artists to teach art with no teaching certification or teaching qualifications Booth 2003 The purpose of this approach was to use their knowledge and practices of art to influence change in students learning This kind of experiment branched away from any real effort to integrate art education and truly recognize it as a viable core subject area While conducting research for the course I found that researchers defined the achievement gap between white and African American students solely in terms of the four core subjects of math science social studies and language arts with no attention given to art education e g Berlak 2001 Honig 2001 Limn 2000 Sacks 2000 A study by the National Black Caucus entitled Closing the Achievement Gap Improving Education Outcomes for African American Children November 2001 reports Make improving the literacy skills of students a top priority Students who cannot read will experience little success in school Reading is the key to academic achievement in every subject ranging from math and English to science and history We must put reading first by finding initiatives and programs designed to strengthen the reading skills of students particularly low performing students Again there was no mention of art As both an African American and an art teacher I found it very disturbing that the recommendations of many national and local art educational organizations and schools failed to address the importance of teaching art education in African American urban school settings My dissertation research ultimately arose from this concern

Resources in Education ,2001 Studies in Art Education ,2004 Celebrating Pluralism F. Graeme Chalmers, 1996-01-01 Educational trends will change and research agendas will shift but art teachers in public institutions will still need to educate all students for multicultural purposes argues Chalmers in this fifth volume in the Occasional Papers series Chalmers describes how art education programs promote cross cultural understanding recognize racial and cultural diversity enhance self esteem in students cultural heritage and address issues of ethnocentrism stereotyping discrimination and racism After providing the context for multicultural art education Chalmers examines the implications for art education of the broad themes found in art across cultures Using discipline based art education as a framework he suggests ways to design and implement a curriculum for multicultural art education that will help students find a place for art in their lives Art educators will find Celebrating Pluralism invaluable in negotiating the approach to multicultural art education that makes the most sense to their students and their communities □□□□□□□□□□--□□□□□□□□□□ ,1995 The Journal of Social Theory in Art Education ,1991 The History of Art Education Albert Arthur Anderson (Jr.), Paul Erik Bolin, 1997 Art History and Education Stephen Addiss, Mary Erickson, 1993 Guided by Stephen Addiss's grounding in art history scholarship and Mary Erickson's expertise in art education theory and practice this volume approaches the issue of teaching art history from theoretical and philosophical as well as practical and political standpoints In the first section Addiss raises issues about the discipline of art history In the second Erickson examines proposals about how art history can be incorporated into the general education of children and offers some curriculum guides and lesson plans for art educators Journal of Multi-cultural and Cross-cultural Research in Art Education ,1998 El-Hi Textbooks & Serials in Print, 2000 ,2000 Visual Arts Research ,2007 Design for Inquiry Elizabeth Manley Delacruz, 1997 Celebrating Pluralism F.
