Secret Selves Young Love

Hugh Walpole

Secret Selves Young Love:

Boys' Secrets and Men's Loves: David A.J. Richards, 2019-06-04 Boys Secrets and Men's Loves is the memoir of a law professor who has written over twenty books on the basic rights of American constitutionalism. He has been a prominent advocate of gay rights and feminism which joins men and women in resistance. A gay man born into an Italian American family in New Jersey, he relates in this book his own experience on how the initiation of boys into patriarchy inflicts trauma, leading them to mindlessly accept patriarchal codes of masculinity and how through art, philosophy, and experience, including mutual love, he and others, straight and gay men, come to join women in resisting patriarchy through the discovery of how deeply it harms men as well as women.

The Young Enchanted Hugh Walpole, 1921 A story of young love and of brother and sister.

Learning Self-Therapy Through Writing Nathaniel Gadsden, 2000 This book designed for self discovery and self empowerment. The journal explores three basic questions: who am I, what can I do, and what do I want to do. Then the book challenges you to get started today. The journal is unique because it guides you through very creative but simple exercises that help you visualize your innermost thoughts and fears while empowering you to move forward. The journal can be used for group interaction and individual counseling sessions. The journal also contains a section devoted to those persons that are affected by drug/alcohol abuse. The weekly self contract section and the monthly flushing sessions are great tools that can be used by teens and adults alike.

Self and Secrecy in Early Islam Ruqayya Yasmine Khan, 2008 An original inquiry into the meanings of concealment and revelation in early Arabo-Islamic texts. In this comparative analysis of the significance of keeping and revealing secrets in early Islamic culture, Ruqayya Yasmine Khan draws from a broad range of Arabo-Islamic texts to map interconnections between concepts of secrecy and identity. In early Islamic discourse, Khan maintains, individual identity is integrally linked to a psychology of secrecy and revelation, a connection of even greater importance than what is being concealed or displayed. Khan further maintains that secrecy and identity demarcate boundaries for interpersonal relations when governed by the cultural norms of discretion espoused in these texts. As evidence for her study, Khan explores religious and literary representations of secrecy in classical texts as diverse as the Qur'an, the Book of Concealing the Secret and Holding the Tongue by al-Jahiz, and courtly love poems including the story of Majnun and Layla. These works represent divergent approaches to spiritual, ethical, and romantic life in early Islam, yet Khan extrapolates from each a shared construction of secrecy and revelation. In advancing our understanding of the dynamic tensions between secrecy and revelation as depicted in these early Arabo-Islamic discourses, Khan illustrates that the creation of individual identity and subjectivity was inherently tied to these same tensions. The resulting analysis opens new vistas for understanding the meanings of secrecy in Islamic studies, Qur'anic studies, Islamic philosophy, and mysticism, Arabic literary studies, as well as European intellectual history.
