to an aspect of warfare that is all too often overlooked but can be crucial to the outcome The public's attitude to the day to day conduct of war is becoming ever more significant and this fascinating book examines why Shooting the Messenger Paul Moorcraft, 2011-10-31 Wars have dominated politics since history began In the modern era most of what the media reports on foreign conflicts comes from a small band of war correspondents As the furore over the Iraq Afghan and now the Libyan wars demonstrates Western governments and militaries often collude to keep their voters in the dark about the causes and the conduct of wars waged in their name In this entertaining and unspun account of modern war reporting the authors ask whether the media itself drives democracies to war Or does it serve to constrain evil ignorant and messianic leaders Are the heirs of William Howard Russell the first modern war reporter watchdogs or lapdogs In the age of Wikileaks and corrupt media empires what is the political impact of war correspondents Are they the heroes or harlots of their profession The Reporters' Magazine, 1886 Communication Ethics Now Richard Keeble, 2008 Communication lies at the heart of human experience After all we know about our world largely through communication We consume books advertisements photographs letters newspapers magazines and the broadcast media This book draws together pieces from the 2005 volume of Ethical Space Journal Journalists and Knowledge Practices Hansjakob Ziemer, 2022-11-11 This multi disciplinary anthology provides new perspectives on the journalist's role in knowledge generation in the newspaper age covering diverse topics from fake news to new technologies Fake news journalistic authority and the introduction of cutting edge technologies are often viewed as new topics in journalism However these issues were prevalent long before the twenty first century Connecting for the first time two burgeoning strands of research a newly perceived history of knowledge and the study of journalism Journalists and Knowledge Practices provides insights into the journalist's role in the world of knowledge in the newspaper age ca 1860s to 1970s This multi disciplinary anthology asks how journalists conducted their work and reconstructs histories of journalistic practices in specific regional constellations in Europe and North America From fake news writing to inventing psychological concepts integrating electric telegrams to fabricating photographs explaining pandemics to creating communities these case studies written by distinguished scholars from various disciplines in the humanities show how notions of fact and truth were shaped new technologies integrated and knowledge transfers arranged This book is crucial reading for scholars and students interested in the historically changing relationships between journalistic practices and the generation and dissemination of knowledge This volume is crucial reading for scholars and students interested in the history of journalistic practice Daily Graphic Ransford Tetteh, 2010-02-25 British Humanities Index, 2000
