Wordsworth to China Mi ville figure the monster as a barometer of changing urban patterns Here monstrosity becomes the herald of embryonic social forms and marginalized populations in portrayals of cities across media from video games film and avant garde sonic experiments to written tales of urban fantasy and gothic ruin This volume suggests that poetic and municipal structures evolve in tandem Within its chapters unearthly buildings and beings signal a host of new urban dispensations landscape cleansing and recycling as these former communist nations used new architectural functional and social forms to transform their urban spaces their meanings and uses Comparing case studies from different post socialist cities this book examines the culturally conditional variations between local powers and structures despite the similarities in the general processes and systems It considers the contemporary cultural landscapes of these post socialist cities as a dynamic fusion of the old communist forms and new free market meanings features and democratic practices of global influences and local icons The book assesses whether these urban spaces clearly reflect the social cultural and political conditions and aspirations of these transitional countries and so a critical analysis of them provides important insights     Urbanism Without Effort Charles R. Bulwarks of Unbelief Joseph Minich, 2023-04-12

How modernity creates atheists and what the church must do about it. Millions of people in the West identify as atheists. Christians often respond to this reality with proofs of God's existence as though rational arguments for atheism were the root cause of unbelief. In Bulwarks of Unbelief, Joseph Minich argues that a felt absence of God as experienced by the modern individual offers a better explanation for the rise in atheism. Recent technological and cultural shifts in the modern West have produced a perceived challenge to God's existence. As modern technoculture reshapes our awareness of reality and belief in the invisible, it in turn amplifies God's apparent silence. In this new context, atheism is a natural result. And absent of meaning from without, we have turned within. Christians cannot escape this aspect of modern life. Minich argues that we must consciously and actively return to reality. If we reattune ourselves to God's story, reintegrate the whole person, and reinhabit the world, faith can thrive in this age of unbelief.

New Urbanism Ilse Helbrecht, 2016-05-13

The advent of the 21st century marks the unfolding of a new urbanism, of a new urban fabric in the making. Bringing together a range of leading scholars from a wide range of disciplines, this edited collection examines innovative urban redevelopment projects around Europe and North America which are at the forefront of this new urbanism and which are here termed New Downtowns. It introduces this term and concept and addresses major questions such as: What does a sustained urbanity for the 21st century look like? Which strategies do politicians and planners deploy to create new synergies between planning for the public good and private interest? Can market forces be co-opted for collective interests? Does the imagination of a European city continue to inspire new urbanism within and beyond Europe And can a future urbanity for the 21st century be planned at all In particular it focuses on Hamburg s HafenCity which at around 155 hectares is one of the most prominent city centre development projects in Europe and will increase the size of Hamburg s city centre by 40 percent The project HafenCity serves as a starting point for a conceptually wide ranging debate on the character shape function and meaning of New Downtowns

Nusantara Robert Templer,2025-01-07 INDONESIA BUILDS A NEW CAPITAL Indonesia has a new capital city deep in the lush forests of Borneo Nusantara will soon replace Jakarta a city built by the Dutch in the 17th century that has grown into one of the largest metropolises in the world with a population of over 30 million people The new capital could not be more different it is planned as a forest city with 75 per cent of the land set aside to provide access for wildlife buildings will be connected by walkways to encourage pedestrians and there is a commitment to green energy and transport from the start Nusantara s architects and planners all of them Indonesian have set out a dream of a global city to be built over the next two decades growing to house a population of four million President Joko Widodo has even announced plans to bid for the 2036 Olympics there The ambition is a city that represents the diversity of Indonesia and balances economic development across the archipelago which for decades has been concentrated on Java That island is less than a tenth of the area of Indonesia but is home to 60 per cent of the population and the same share of the economy This has come at a high cost Jakarta is sinking more rapidly than any other city on the planet and suffers from regular floods The city was until recently the largest without a metro system now it has just one line connecting 13 stations The vast sprawl of concrete and motorways is covered most days in a thick haze it is regularly ranked as the world s most polluted city But Indonesia the country is taking a 40 billion gamble on whether moving the capital will help alleviate the problems of Jakarta and provide other benefits such as balancing economic development The site chosen for Nusantara is near the coast of Borneo close to the provincial capital of East Kalimantan and in an area with rapid economic growth due to energy and mineral extraction Purpose built capitals have a poor record of achieving their ambitions they often end up as soulless monuments to oppressive regimes They are also both a symptom and a driver of bad government by leaders who become isolated from their people Will the remoteness of Nusantara cut Indonesians off from the leaders at a time when their quality of democracy is in decline As the world s largest Muslim country and the third largest democracy it is a question that matters beyond its shores Nusantara could become a model for Indonesia and the region a carbon neutral city built not as a monument to a dictator but as a capital that respects the environment and promotes new ways of urban living for the 21st century Or if it lacks support from successive government and fails to attract the necessary investment it may become one of the many sad and empty capitals that dot the world another utopian vision fallen flat

Cities and Cinema Barbara Mennel,2008-03-19 Films about cities abound They provide fantasies for those who recognize their city and those for whom the city is a faraway dream or nightmare How does cinema rework city planners hopes and city dwellers fears of modern urbanism Can an analysis of city

Planning and Urban Development Pier Carlo Palermo, Davide Ponzini, 2010-06-25 Urban planning is a complex field of knowledge and practice Through the decades theoretical debate has formed an eclectic set of possible perspectives without finding in our opinion a coherent paradigmatic framework which can adequately guide the interpretation and action in urban planning The hypothesis of this book is that the attempts of founding an autonomous planning theory are inadequate if they do not explore two interconnected fields architecture and public policies The book critically reviews a selected set of current practices and theoretical founding works of modern and contemporary urban planning by highlighting the continuous search for the epistemic legitimization of a large variety of experiences The distinctive contribution of this book is a documented critique to the eclecticism and abstraction of the main international trends in current planning theory The dialogic relationship with the traditions of architecture and public policy is proposed here in order to critically review planning theory and practice The outcome is the proposal of a paradigmatic framework that in the authors opinion can adequately guide reflections and actions A pragmatic and interpretative heritage and the project orientated approach are the basis of this new
