this book investigates the way United States foreign policy has been understood debated and explained in the period since the US emerged as a global force on its way to becoming the world power Starting from the premise that ideologies facilitate understanding by providing explanatory patterns or frameworks from which meaning can be derived the authors study the relationship between ideology and foreign policy demonstrating the important role ideas have played in US foreign policy Drawing on a range of US administrations they consider key speeches and doctrines as well as private conversations and compare rhetoric to actions in order to demonstrate how particular sets of ideas that is ideologies from anti colonialism and anti communism to neo conservatism mattered during specific presidencies and how US foreign policy was projected explained and sustained from one administration to another Bringing a neglected dimension into the study of US foreign policy this book will be of great interest to students and researchers of US foreign policy ideology and politics

Revolutionary States, Leaders, and Foreign Relations Houman A. Sadri, 1997-04-16 This book compares and contrasts the foreign relations strategies of China Cuba and Iran in the first decade of their post revolutionary periods Among a variety of explanatory variables leadership particularly the type of revolutionary leaders played a significant role in explaining the outcome of the policymaking process in each case Three distinct patterns of foreign relations strategies are evident among all three revolutionary regimes in the ten year period Two Track Conflictual and Conciliatory This book is a valuable source for both experts and non experts alike in providing insight into the foreign relations of revolutionary regimes in developing countries and in helping U S policymakers anticipate behaviors of future revolutionary leaders A focal point of this book is the examination of the nonalignment strategies of these prominent developing countries during the infancy of their regimes Each state s particular strategy is described and explained in detail and then contrasted and compared Although there are differences among their foreign policies considering their geographic locations size wealth military capabilities leadership characteristics and political institutions there are significant similarities regarding their foreign policy goals and trends in their foreign relations with the Great Powers Among explanatory factors leadership played a significant role in the policy making process although the foreign relations strategies of these revolutionary regimes were fed by a combination of national and international variables In all three states the tone of foreign policy was set by revolutionary leaders who were either idealists or realists Idealists tended to take a more active and conflictual approach toward one or both of the superpowers while Realists were more cautious and less willing to resort to a conflictual posture This book also investigates the gap between the theoretical and practical nonalignment stance of each state This cross regional study provides policy analysts with clues about the foreign policies of other revolutionary developing countries in similar situations Finally it makes suggestions about how a Great Power may relate to a developing country during its first post revolution decade American Policy and International Security American Academy of Political and Social Science, 1925
