The Only Mind Worth Having Fiona Gardner, 2015-11-06 In The Only Mind Worth Having Fiona Gardner takes Thomas Merton s belief that the child mind is the only mind worth having and explores it in the context of Jesus challenging paradoxical and enigmatic command to become like small children She demonstrates how Merton s belief and Jesus s command can be understood as part of contemporary spirituality and spiritual practice To follow Christ s command requires a great leap of the imagination Gardner examines what it might mean to make this leap when one is an adult without it becoming sentimental and mawkish or regressive and pathological Using both psychological and spiritual insights and drawing on the experiences of Thomas Merton and others Gardner suggests that in some mysterious and paradoxical way recovering a sense of childhood spirituality is the path toward spiritual maturity The move from childhood spirituality to adulthood and on to a spiritual maturity through the child mind is a move from innocence to experience to organized innocence or from dependence to independence to a state of being in dependence with God

Cusa's thought on the one hand and on the other to test a particular methodology and interpretative framework for the understanding of mediaeval culture The Crossing of the Visible Jean-Luc Marion, 2004 Ranging across artists from Raphael to Rothko Caravaggio to Pollock The Crossing of the Visible offers both a critique of contemporary accounts of the visual and a constructive alternative According to Marion the proper response to the nihilism of postmodernity is not iconoclasm but rather a radically iconic account of the visual and the arts which opens them to the invisible The Opening of Vision David Michael Levin, 2023-05-12 Nietzsche and Heidegger saw in modernity a time endangered by nihilism Starting out from this interpretation David Levin links the nihilism raging today in Western society and culture to our concrete historical experience with vision Kino-Eye Dziga Vertov, 1984 Dziga Vertov was one of the greatest innovators of Soviet cinema The radical complexity of his work in both sound and silent forms has given it a central place within contemporary theoretical inquiry Vertov's writings collected here range from calculated manifestos setting forth his heroic vision of film's potential to dark ruminations on the inactivity forced upon him by the bureaucratization of the Soviet state Phenomenology in Japan A.J. Steinbock, 2013-03-14 Since the introduction of phenomenology to Japan in the 1910's Japan has steadily become a major international site for both original and scholarly phenomenological work Phenomenology in Japan presents several of Japan's leading phenomenologists studied in both the Buddhist and Western thought who bring to bear their unique backgrounds on our rich fields of experience These contributions converge in novel ways on the problem of dualism and draw on resources within the phenomenological tradition to respond to its challenges Constructive Citizenship Lawrence Pearsall Jackson, 1927 The Relational View of Perception Farid Masrour, Ori Beck, 2025-02-28 Relationalism is the view in philosophy of mind that particulars in our environment are constituents of conscious perception It is an important theory of perceptual experience offering explanations of perception's phenomenal character and its epistemic and semantic role However it has also been criticised for a lack of empirical grounding In this outstanding collection an international team of contributors examine relationalism and consider its role in philosophy of mind and perception across four key areas The significance of empirical evidence to the theory of relationalism Dependence of experience on the subject's internal makeup Hallucinations and the unity of perceptual experience Relationalism and empirical knowledge The Relational View of Perception New Philosophical Essays will be of great interest to advanced students and scholars in philosophy of mind Contributors Dominic Alford Duguid Rami Ali Ori Beck Alex Byrne Elijah Chudnoff Peter Epstein Craig French E.J. Green Roberta Locatelli Heather Logue Farid Masrour Alva Noë Adam Pautz Ian Phillips Thomas Raleigh Susanna Schellenberg Umrao Sethi Matthew Soteriou and Lisa Titus Cross Narratives Neal J. Anthony, 2010-06-01 Luther's radical interpretation of the two natures of Christ and specifically its expression through the ubiquitous presence of the humanity of Christ is a fundamental integral expression of that same theology This expression of Luther's theology of the cross Anthony asserts provides both a fuller elaboration and an important and creative corrective with reference to recent signal expressions of the theology of the cross As contemporary theologians of the cross have articulated most notably Douglas John Hall and the late Alan E Lewis the theology of the cross through a transformation of the divine attributes that honors the integrity of created beings is preeminently a theology of redemption from within within redemption In the process of outlining and analyzing these theologies of within redemption Anthony exposes an impasse created by these theologies regarding the relationship of within redemption to individual human narratives It is through Luther s radical interpretation of the two natures of Christ Anthony contends that complete within redemption can be expressed Anthony also evaluates the Christology of Karl Barth from the perspective of his findings Not only is Anthony s work an innovative and fresh application of Luther s Christology for contemporary discussions of the theology of the cross but it places Luther s Christology at the cutting edge of contemporary discussions regarding the theology of the cross and its within redemption
