English Poems: Old English and middle English periods 450-1550 Walter Cochrane Bronson, 1910 Select Translations from Old English Poetry Albert Stanburrough Cook, Chauncey Brewster Tinker, 1926 The United States Catalog, 1906 Dominicana, 1927 The Poems Of Cynewulf (1910) Charles W Kennedy, 2018-12-14 Published in 1910 this volume presents translations of eight poems attributed to the poet Cynewulf Covering the poems Juliana Christ Elene and Fates of the Apostles which have been signed by Cynewulf and Andreas Guthlac Phoenix Dream of the Rood and Riddles that have been assigned to Cynewulf by experts from the field the author provides accompanying historical reference points to provide focus and context for the writings New Readings in the Vercelli Book Samantha Zacher, Andy Orchard, 2009-12-15 The late tenth century Vercelli Book Vercelli Biblioteca Capitolare CXVII contains one of the earliest surviving collections of homilies and poetry in the English language The manuscript's combination of poetry and homiletic prose has generated intense scholarly debate and there is no consensus concerning the original purpose of the compiler New

Readings in the Vercelli Book addresses central questions concerning the manuscript's intended use, mode of compilation and purpose and offers a variety of approaches on such topics as orthography, style, genre, theme and source study. The contributors include some of the foremost Vercelli experts as well as the two most recent editors of the homilies. The remarkable essays in this volume offer the first sustained literary analysis of both the poetry and prose texts of the Vercelli Book, providing important new perspectives on a dynamic and valuable historical document.

The Study of Literature Louise Dudley, 1928 Main Currents of English Literature Percy Hazen Houston, 1926 The Exeter Book George Philip Krapp, Elliott Van Kirk Dobbie, 2023-08-10 The Exeter Book, 1936, contains the texts of the Exeter Book, the largest of the great miscellanies of Anglo-Saxon poetry, together with an extensive introduction and notes.

Phoenix David Herbert Lawrence, 1968 The Dream of the Rood Michael Swanton, 1970 The Dream of the Rood is a poem that has entranced generations of scholars. It is one of the greatest religious poems in English literature, the work of a nameless poet of superb genius. Immediately attractive, its poetic content is readily accessible to the modern reader, being in the mainstream of Western religious thought. Representative of the Golden Age of Anglo-Saxon culture, drawing on both visual and doctrinal motifs, it provides a ready introduction to its own intellectual and artistic milieu. This is underlined by intimate links with the Ruthwell Cross, the documentary context of the earlier version, and itself often regarded as one of the finest monuments of the Anglo-Saxon Age. This edition presents a conservative text with variant readings described in the notes. In his introduction

Professor Swanton describes the Vercelli Book in which the full text of The Dream of the Rood is found and gives an account of the Ruthwell Cross the sources for which are scattered and not normally familiar to students of Old English The relationship between the two texts the doctrine behind the poem and its style and structure are also discussed The edition includes extensive notes and a glossary A History of Great Britain Howard Robinson, 1927 Halleck's New English Literature Reuben Post Halleck, 1913 Transactions and Proceedings of the American Philological Association American Philological Association, 1914 Bibliographical record of works published by members of the Association in v 28 1897

Between Medieval Men David Clark, 2009-02-26 Between Medieval Men argues for the importance of synoptically examining the whole range of same sex relations in the Anglo Saxon period revisiting well known texts and issues as well as material often considered marginal from a radically different perspective The introductory chapters first lay out the premises underlying the book and its critical context then emphasise the need to avoid modern cultural assumptions about both male female and male male relationships and underline the paramount place of homosocial bonds in Old English literature Part II then investigates the construction of and attitudes to same sex acts and identities in ethnographic penitential and theological texts ranging widely throughout the Old English corpus and drawing on Classical Medieval Latin and Old Norse material Part III expands the focus to homosocial bonds in Old English literature in order to explore the range of associations for same sex intimacy and their representation in literary texts such as Genesis A Beowulf The Battle of Maldon The Dream of the Rood The Phoenix and lfric's Lives of Saints During the course of the book's argument David Clark uncovers several under researched issues and suggests fruitful approaches for their investigation He concludes that in omitting to ask certain questions of Anglo Saxon material in being too willing to accept the status quo indicated by the extant corpus in uncritically importing invisible because normative heterosexist assumptions in our reading we risk misrepresenting the diversity and complexity that a more nuanced approach to issues of gender and sexuality suggests may be more genuinely characteristic of the period
