1910-1990 David Craven, 2006-01-01 In this uniquely wide ranging book David Craven investigates the extraordinary impact of three Latin American revolutions on the visual arts and on cultural policy The three great upheavals in Mexico 1910 40 in Cuba 1959 89 and in Nicaragua 1979 90 were defining moments in twentieth century life in the Americas Craven discusses the structural logic of each movement's artistic project by whom how and for whom artworks were produced and assesses their legacies In each case he demonstrates how the consequences of the revolution reverberated in the arts and cultures far beyond national borders The book not only examines specific artworks originating from each revolution's attempt to deal with the challenge of socializing the arts but also the engagement of the working classes in Mexico Cuba and Nicaragua with a tradition of the fine arts made newly accessible through social transformation Craven considers how each revolution dealt with the pressing problem of creating a dialogical art one that reconfigures the existing artistic resource rather than one that just reproduces a populist art to keep things as they were In addition the author charts the impact on the revolutionary processes of theories of art and education articulated by such thinkers as John Dewey and Paulo Freire The book provides a fascinating new view of the Latin American revolutionaries from artists to political leaders who defined art as a fundamental force for the transformation of society and who bequeathed new ways of thinking about the relations among art ideology and class within a revolutionary process Bibliographic Guide to North American History, 1985 Sandino's Nation

Stephen Henighan, 2014-04-01 Ernesto Cardenal and Sergio Ramirez are two of the most influential Latin American intellectuals of the late twentieth and early twenty first centuries Addressing Nicaragua's struggle for self definition from divergent ethnic religious generational political and class backgrounds they constructed distinct yet compatible visions of national history anchored in a reappraisal of the early twentieth century insurgent leader Augusto Cesar Sandino During the

Sandinista Revolution of 1979-90 Cardenal appointed Nicaragua's minister of culture became one of the most provocative and internationally recognized figures of liberation theology while Ramirez a member of the revolutionary junta and later elected vice president of Nicaragua emerged as an authoritative figure for third world nationalism But before all else the two were groundbreaking creative writers Through a close reading of the works by Nicaragua's best known and most prolific modern authors Sandino's Nation studies the construction of Nicaraguan national identity during three distinct periods of the country's recent history before during and after the 1979-90 revolution Stephen Henighan offers rigorous textual analyses of poems memoirs essays and novels interwoven with a sharply narrated history of Nicaragua The only comprehensive study of the careers of Cardenal and Ramirez Sandino's Nation is essential to understanding transformations to both Nicaragua and the role of the writer in Latin America

After Revolution Florence E. Babb, 2010-01-01 Nicaragua's Sandinista revolution 1979-1990 initiated a broad program of social transformation to improve the situation of the working class and poor women and other non elite groups through agrarian reform restructured urban employment and wide access to health care education and social services This book explores how Nicaragua's least powerful citizens have fared in the years since the Sandinista revolution as neoliberal governments have rolled back these state supported reforms and introduced measures to promote the development of a market driven economy Drawing on ethnographic research conducted throughout the 1990s Florence Babb describes the negative consequences that have followed the return to a capitalist path especially for women and low income citizens In addition she charts the growth of women's and other social movements neighborhood lesbian and gay indigenous youth peace and environmental that have taken advantage of new openings for political mobilization Her ethnographic portraits of a low income barrio and of women's craft cooperatives powerfully link local cultural responses to national and global processes
