

PARENTING STYLES

Parenting styles are often categorized into four main types based on the work of psychologist Diana Baumrind.

These styles reflect different approaches to parenting and have varying impacts on a child's development.

AUTHORITATIVE

Style: Parents have clear expectations, but are also responsive, nurturing, and willing to collaborate with the child.

Discipline: Natural consequences, guidance, and discussion are used to remediate behaviors and establish boundaries.

Impact: Kids tend to be more self-reliant, socially competent, and have higher self-esteem and academic achievement due to reliable and considerate support.

DISENGAGED

Style: Parents are neither demanding nor responsive and they provide little emotional support, guidance, or attention to the child's needs.

Discipline: Due to lack of parental presence or investment, rules and boundaries are not enforced.

Impact: Kids may experience emotional and behavioral difficulties, have low self-esteem, and struggle academically and socially due to the lack of parental involvement.

AUTHORITARIAN

Style: Parents are highly demanding and directive, and they expect compliance without much explanation or flexibility.

Discipline: Strict punishment, lectures, and yelling are used to enforce rules.

Impact: Kids may be superficially obedient, but tend to struggle with low self-esteem, social competence, and anxiety due to the lack of autonomy, collaboration, and empathetic parental response.

PERMISSIVE

Style: Parents are highly responsive and accommodating, but have few demands, boundaries, or expectations.

Discipline: Rules and boundaries are not enforced, and kids are often appeased for poor behavior or emotional distress.

Impact: Kids may exhibit increased independence and creativity, but may also struggle with self-regulation, discipline, anxiety, and authority due to lack of structure.

The Seven Principles for Raising a Self-Driven Child William Stixrud, PhD, Ned Johnson, 2025-03-25. From the authors of What Do You Say and The Self-Driven Child, a workbook of vital practices and step-by-step resources for parents striving to raise self-motivated, secure, and joyfully driven children. A guide to move from understanding the science and value behind nonanxious parenting to developing and sharpening the essential skills parents need to be a trusted resource for growing kids. Authors William Stixrud and Ned Johnson have watched firsthand as the crisis around education and the mental health crisis in childhood have converged in the postpandemic years. Their book The Self-Driven Child was ahead of the curve in addressing the way these forces converge in adolescents at pivotal moments as children develop their sense of autonomy, ambition, self-discipline, and learning style. As the authors have continued to lecture on the book's subject, parents have again and again homed in on the value of the model dialogues and practice prompts. Using material from their current work with parents and children and pulling essential principles from the science in The Self-Driven Child, this workbook guides parents to develop the practice of being a nonanxious presence in children's lives, as well as introducing essential skills for navigating the pressure cooker of school. With prompts to help parents diagnose and rewire their instinctual responses to stressful situations, exercises to give them the language to communicate clearly and calmly, and lists to keep anxiety responses in check and big picture goals in view, this workbook will bring peace and clarity to parents and educators seeking to support the unique path each child traverses on the road to growing up. Parenting Styles and Practices Katherine
