Long Walks In The Afternoon Poems:

Long Walks in the Afternoon Margaret Gibson, 1982-11-01 Southern Writers Joseph M. Flora, Amber Vogel, 2006-06-21 This new edition of Southern Writers assumes its distinguished predecessor's place as the essential reference on literary artists of the American South. Broadly expanded and thoroughly revised, it boasts 604 entries, nearly double the earlier edition's, written by 264 scholars. For every figure, major and minor, from the venerable and canonical to the fresh and innovative, a biographical sketch and chronological list of published works provide comprehensive, concise, up-to-date information. Here, in one convenient source, are the South's novelists and short story writers, poets and dramatists, memoirists and essayists, journalists, scholars, and biographers from the colonial period to the twenty-first century. What constitutes a southern writer is always a matter for debate. Editors Joseph M. Flora and Amber Vogel have used a generous definition that turns on having a significant connection to the region in either a personal or literary sense. New to this volume are younger writers who have emerged in the quarter century since the dictionary's original publication, as well as older talents previously unknown or unacknowledged. For almost every writer found in the previous edition, a new biography has been commissioned. Drawn from the very best minds on southern literature and covering the full spectrum of its practitioners, Southern Writers is an indispensable reference book for anyone intrigued by the subject. Made Thing: an Anthology of Contemporary Southern Poetry, 2nd Ed (p) Leon Stokesbury, 1999 The second edition features twelve new poets, as well as new work by Donald Justice, T. R. Hummer, Dave Smith, Pattiann Rogers, Andrew Hudgins, Henry Taylor, Gerald Barrax, Rodney Jones, and others. Among the new additions are Mark Jarman, Cathy Smith, Bowers, and Charlie Smith. Many teachers realize that the best way to get their students to relate to poetry is to show them poems that contain landscapes and subjects they understand and can identify with. Leon Stokesbury has put together a richly varied collection, used in classrooms not only in the South but all over the country, as a means of studying the important influence of southern poetry on American literature. With the publication of the second edition of The Made Thing, Stokesbury has marked the end of the twentieth century and the rise to prominence of southern writers. This collection serves as a substantial sampling of poets whose works span more than five decades and who explore the rich personal and cultural history that extends beyond the boundaries of the South.

Where the Angels Come Toward Us David St. John, 1995 For almost twenty years from the publication of his seminal and highly influential collection of poems, Hush, to the appearance of the stunning Study for the World's Body, new and selected poems, David St. John has been considered one of the most accomplished and innovative of all American poets. Here, for the first time, David St. John has selected from essays and reviews written over the course of his career about many of the major figures of our time: W. S. Merwin, Philip Levine, Mark Strand, Charles Wright, Donald Hall, Marvin Bell, Donald Justice, Jorie Graham, and dozens of others, and brought them together with six uncompromising and refreshingly candid interviews about the craft of poetry and the state of poetry today. Always passionate about the poets he loves and always provocative in his poetic judgements David St John has given us a lucid and exciting volume of prose that all readers of poetry can turn to for both pleasure and instruction Back cover The Vigil: A Poem in Four Voices Gibson, Margaret, 1993

One Body Margaret Gibson, 2007 One Body is Margaret Gibson's most intimate collection of poems to date Written as if to honor the injunction Work to simplify the heart the poems are direct empathetic and tender in their study of life and death The thirteen poems of the opening sequence as well as other poems throughout look steadily at life and death until they are transparently one body Closer to death she writes I want great faith and great doubt Whether the focus is personal or social Gibson has written the poems in this stunning collection because I want to see how the body goes still how the mind how the lens of the eye magnifies to an emptiness so deep so flared wide there is everywhere field and the Source of field One Body is the work of a richly contemplative poet

Walking with Eve in the Loved City Roy Bentley,2018-03-01 Finalist 2018 Miller Williams Poetry Prize Walking with Eve in the Loved City is an ambitious collection Using a variety of male figures Jeff Goldblum Ringo Starr the poet s uncle Billy to name a few these poems skillfully interrogate masculinity and its cultural artifacts searching for a way to reconcile reverence for the father figure with a crisis of faith about the world as run by men And yet despite the gravity of the subjects these poems engage this is a hopeful frequently funny book that encourages the reader to look deeply at the world and then to laugh if she can Roy Bentley often accomplishes this work
