The Canadian Naval Chronicle, 1939-1945 Robert A. Darlington, Fraser McKee, 1998 In World War II the Canadian Navy embarked on a five year anti submarine offensive with a tiny fleet of six destroyers and a navy largely untrained in submarine warfare This chronicle of ship successes and losses charts the increase in fighting capability of the Canadian naval forces and their growing success against enemy submarines and surface warships From the dreadful loss of sixteen ships out of a single convoy in 1941 to the painstaking teamwork of hunting down and destroying an asdic contact a few years later the authors have managed to capture the drama of these events in considerable detail The information provided in each account represents comprehensive research into the incident from available records and from personal recollections and interviews collected by the authors Each includes the ships and crews involved on both sides their movements just prior to the event the action itself the casualty lists and the medals awarded as a result of the action This book also contains for the first time a complete record of all the Canadian owned Merchant ships lost as well as a table of RCAF Squadron successes against enemy U boats with the Allied forces to devastating effect Hunting in wolf packs they would prey on merchant shipping and naval vessels In this startling new book Jak P Mallmann Showell tells the story of this battle as viewed through the conning towers of these U boats Using surviving logs written as the action unfolded You taste the salt smell the nauseating stench of the U boats and hear orders being whispered quietly while diving back in time to the horrendous inhumanity of the Battle of the Atlantic

Dönitz, U-boats, Convoys Jak P. Mallmann Showell, 2013-08-21 This unique WWII history combines the memoirs of a Nazi Admiral with secret British naval reports for a comprehensive view of the U Boat war The memoirs of Admiral Karl Dönitz Ten Years and Twenty Days are a fascinating first hand account of the Battle of the Atlantic as seen from the headquarters of the U boat fleet Now noted naval historian Jak P Mallmann Showell has combined Dönitz's memoirs in a parallel text with the British Admiralty's secret Monthly Anti Submarine Reports to produce a unique view of the U boat war as it was perceived at the time by both sides The British Monthly Anti Submarine Reports were classified documents issued only to senior officers hunting U boats They were supposed to have been returned to the Admiralty and destroyed at the end of the War but by chance a set survived in the archives of the Royal Navy's Submarine Museum in Gosport They offer significant and hitherto unavailable insight into the British view of the Battle of the Atlantic as it was being fought With expert analysis of these firsthand sources from opposing sides of the conflict Jak P Mallmann Showell presents what may be the most complete contemporary account of the desperate struggle in the North Atlantic during the Second World War
