Russian Classical Literature Today Yordan Ljutskanov, Hristo Manolakev, Radostin Rusev, 2014-06-19. This book explores a range of misuses of the Russian classical literature canon and its symbolic capital by contemporary Russian literature, cinema, literary scholarship, and mass culture. It outlines processes of current canon formation in a situation of the expiration of a literature-centric culture that has been imbued with specific messianism and its doubles. The book implements Pierre Bourdieu's theory of the cultural field, focussing on a field's constitutive pursuit of autonomy and on its flexible resistance to the double pressure of the political field and the economic field. It provides material for elaborating this theory through postulating the principal presence of a third factor of heteronomy, the strong neighbour within the cultural field. Furthermore, this volume demonstrates the heuristic of comparing the current Russian misuses of classical literature to prior Russian and current foreign ones. As such, it also discusses such issues as the historical relativity of a literary field's notion of autonomy and the geo-cultural variability of the Russian literary canon.

Russian Literature Kropotkin Peter Kropotkin, 2021-02-15. Introduction by George Woodcock. In this work, Peter Kropotkin is propounding the thesis that in Russia, literature occupies a unique position because it is the only way of reflecting the real currents of intellectual development and of underground political opinion. The consequence he feels has been that the best minds of the country have chosen the poem, the novel, the satire, or literary criticism as the medium for expressing their aspirations, their conceptions of national life, and their ideals. Concentrating on content rather than on form, on intention rather than achievement, Russian Literature provides a fair and comprehensive introduction to Russian writing up to the end of the nineteenth century. Almost every poet and prose writer of any significance is discussed: Pushkin, Lermontoff, Gogol, Turgueneff, Tolstoy, Dostoyevsky, and every class of literature is included: criticism as well as novels and political writings as well as poetry.
