Then World War II strengthened its grip and she found herself posted back to the island, a stark contrast to the exciting streets of the capital. Bridget realises the barbed wire around the camp is keeping in secrets that will test her training to the limit and what seems like a simple arrest leads her down a path that puts her and the Island's security at risk. And then there are the two brothers: one she's adored since childhood who's become a war hero, and the other a brave lifeboatman and farmer. Bridget finds she is torn between being the adult she wants to be and the tomboy from her childhood who roamed the cliffs without boundaries.
