Looking Other Stories:

Good Looking Bloke and other stories Ken Byerly, 2009-08-18 I didn't set out to write about sex though in some of these stories it does appear that that's what makes the turkey trot. Rather the beginning was mundane enough. In August 2008 I discovered two boxes of old letters in the basement of our house in Vermont. Letters I received and saved between the ages of 18 and 29. For reasons I can't explain these crinkly typed and written pages ignited in me a creative frenzy. I resurrected and rewrote four old short stories and over the next eight months created seven new ones. Have I a favorite I like them all but it struck me in my final run through for this volume that there was only one story MY FRIEND in which I did not change a single word. Here they are, hormones and all. Enjoy.

from sources as varied as ancient philosophers and contemporary biologists Kissed by a Fox challenges readers to enact a different story of nature one in which people and place are not separate where other creatures respond to human need and where humans and all others together create the world Dissatisfaction with nature flows throughout Western civilization as deep as its blood as abiding as its bones Convinced to the marrow that something is deeply wrong with nature the Western world tries to remake it into something better For Priscilla Stuckey this is a fundamental and heartbreaking misconception that nature can be fixed exploited or simply ignored Modern societies try to bend nature to human will instead of engaging in give and take with a living breathing land community Using her personal experiences as the cornerstone Stuckey explores the depth of relationship possible with the birch tree in our backyard the nearby urban creek the dog who settles on our bed
