Through the Kaleidoscope Vivian Schelling, 2000 Modernity in Latin America is defined above all by its multi layered kaleidoscopic quality Reminiscent of Octavio Paz's labyrinth it is a modernity which has accommodated a piling on of new traditions to old a blending of external cultures with local and of high cultures with more popular ones mixes which allowed a rich and celebratory avant garde movement for example to emerge in the 1920s and prompted the explosive growth of cities like Rio de Janeiro Many such cultural as well as technological innovations have occurred without equivalent changes in social and political life however and so the region has also been at the mercy of what might be termed an uneven development in many of its civic institutions In this prestigious volume of original essays many of the best writers on the region are brought together to examine the nature and manifestations of a specifically Latin American modernity Beatriz Sarlo and Nicolau Sevcenko write about Buenos Aires and São Paulo in an exploration of twentieth century urban experience and shifting patterns of migration and immigration Renato Ortiz and Ana López look at mass media and the ways in which radio television and cinema have shaped modernity Jose Jorge de Carvalho Jose de Souza Martins and Nelson Manrique address questions of religion politics ideology and social movements Gwen Kirkpatrick and Beatriz Rezende explore the intricacies of artistic and literary modernism and Nestor Canclini and Rubén Oliven open the collection with essays which unravel the many forces the legacy of slavery the freedom from an unquestioning faith in development and progress the impact of globalisation that have given rise to a characteristically hybrid modernity

Kinetoscopio Angel de Campo, 2004 Chronology of the Birth of Cinema, 1833-1896 Deac Rossell, 2022-10-18
Written from an international perspective this account of the origins of the cinema begins in 1833 with the introduction of optical toys for reproducing movement and ends with a thorough examination of the first full year of projected moving pictures in 1896 Comprehensive and verifiable with citations that support each individual entry the book examines the events that culminated in the establishment of the moving picture world that was the dominant visual medium of the last century Drawing on a range of international sources this chronology is a readable vivid account that corrects many longstanding errors in the story of moving pictures while at the same time recording the astounding diversity of ideas apparatus personalities and exhibitions that turned a passing novelty into a major industry Populated by dreamers inventors scientists and entrepreneurs with widely different skills interests and backgrounds the many origins of the cinema are all recorded here in a rich tapestry that has been woven with attention to the detailed shape and placement of each individual thread The result is a fully indexed reference that reflects the state of modern scholarship and should be useful over the long term as both a reference to the period of early cinema and as a starting point for further research

Mexico's Cinema Joanne Hershfield, David R. Maciel, 1999-11-01 In recent years Mexican films have received high acclaim and impressive box office returns. Moreover Mexico has the most advanced movie industry in the Spanish speaking world and its impact on Mexican culture and society cannot be overstated.

Mexico's Cinema: A Century of Film and Filmmakers is a collection of fourteen essays that encompass the first 100 years of the cinema of Mexico. Included are original contributions written specifically for this title plus a few classic pieces in the field of Mexican cinema studies never before available in English. These essays explore a variety of themes including race and ethnicity, gender issues, personalities and the historical development of a national cinematic style. Each of the book's three sections, The Silent Cinema, The Golden Age and The Contemporary Era, is preceded by a short introduction to the period and a presentation of the major themes addressed in the section. This insightful anthology is the first published study that includes pieces by Mexican and North American scholars, including a piece by the internationally acclaimed essayist Carlos Monsivais. Contributors include other acclaimed scholars and critics as well as young scholars who are currently making their mark in the area of film studies of Mexico. These authors represent various fields: community studies, film studies, cultural history, ethnic studies and gender studies, making this volume an interdisciplinary resource important for courses in Latin America and Third World cinema, Mexican history and culture and Chicano and ethnic studies.

Cosmopolitan Film Cultures in Latin America, 1896-1960 Rielle Navitski, Nicolas Poppe, 2017-06-19

Cosmopolitan Film Cultures in Latin America examines how cinema forged cultural connections between Latin American publics and film-exporting nations in the first half of the twentieth century. Predating today's transnational media industries by several decades, these connections were defined by active economic and cultural exchanges as well as longstanding inequalities in political power and cultural capital. The essays explore the arrival and expansion of cinema throughout the region from the first screenings of the Lumi  re Cinematographe in 1896 to the emergence of new forms of cinephilia and cult spectatorship in the 1940s and beyond. Examining these transnational exchanges through the lens of the cosmopolitan, which emphasizes the ethical and political dimensions of cultural consumption, illuminates the role played by moving images in negotiating between the local, national and global and between the popular and the elite in twentieth-century Latin America. In addition, primary historical documents provide vivid accounts of Latin American film critics, movie audiences and film-industry workers' experiences with moving images produced elsewhere; encounters that were deeply rooted in the local context yet also opened out onto global horizons.

The Precarious in the Cinemas of the Americas Constanza

Burucúa,Carolina Sitnisky,2018-05-29 Historically cinema in the Americas has been signed by a state of precariousness Notwithstanding the growing accessibility to video and digital technologies access to the material means of film production is still limited affecting the spheres of production distribution and reception Equally questions about the precarious can be traced in cultural and archival policies film legislations as well as in thematic and aesthetic choices While conventional definitions of the precarious have been associated with notions of scarcity and insecurity this volume looks at precariousness from a non monolithic angle exploring its productivity and potential for original critical approaches with the aim of providing new readings to the variedly rich and complex cinemas of the Americas

American Cinema, 1890-1909 André

Gaudreault,2009 The essays in American Cinema 1890 1909 explore and define how the making of motion pictures flowered into an industry that would finally become the central entertainment institution of the world Beginning with all the early types of pictures that moved this volume tells the story of the invention and consolidation of the various processes that gave rise to what we now call cinema

The SAGE Handbook of Film Studies

James Donald, Michael Renov, 2008-04-16 Written by a team of veteran scholars and exciting emerging talents The SAGE Handbook of Film Studies maps the field internationally drawing out regional differences in the way that systematic intellectual reflection on cinema and film has been translated into an academic discipline It examines the conversations between Film Studies and its contributory disciplines that not only defined a new field of discourse but also modified existing scholarly traditions It reflects on the field's dominant paradigms and debates and evaluates their continuing salience Finally it looks forward optimistically to the future of the medium of film the institution of cinema and the discipline of Film Studies at a time when the very existence of film and cinema are being called into question by new technological industrial and aesthetic developments

Corporeality in Early Cinema Marina Dahlquist, Doron Galili, Jan Olsson, Valentine Robert, 2018-10-16 Corporeality in Early Cinema inspires a heightened awareness of the ways in which early film culture and screen praxes overall are inherently embodied Contributors argue that on and offscreen and in affiliated media and technological constellations the body consists of flesh and nerves and is not just an abstract spectator or statistical audience entity Audience responses from arousal to disgust from identification to detachment offer us a means to understand what spectators have always taken away from their cinematic experience Through theoretical approaches and case studies scholars offer a variety of models for stimulating historical research on corporeality and cinema by exploring the matrix of screened bodies machine made scaffolding and their connections to the physical bodies in front of the screen

Creating Mexican Consumer Culture in the Age of Porfirio Díaz Steven B. Bunker, 2012-12-15 In Gabriel García Márquez's novel One Hundred Years of Solitude a character articulates the fascination goods technology and modernity held for many Latin Americans in the early twentieth century when he declares that incredible things are happening in this world The modernity he marvels over is the new availability of cheap and useful goods Steven Bunker's study shows how goods and consumption embodied modernity in the time of Porfirio Díaz how they provided proof to Mexicans that incredible things are happening in this world In urban areas and especially Mexico City being a consumer increasingly defined what it meant to be Mexican In an effort to reconstruct everyday life in Porfirian Mexico Bunker surveys the institutions and discourses of consumption and explores how individuals and groups used the goods practices and spaces of urban consumer culture to construct meaning and identities in the rapidly evolving social and physical landscape of the capital city and beyond Through case studies of tobacco marketing department stores advertising shoplifting and a famous jewelry robbery and homicide he provides a colorful walking tour of daily life in Porfirian Mexico City Emphasizing the widespread participation in this consumer culture Bunker's work overturns conventional wisdom that only the middle and upper classes participated in this culture 1903: Primera parte. El espacio urbano del cine. Juan Felipe Leal y Eduardo Barraza, Eduardo Barraza, 2015-04-30 Juan Felipe Leal y Eduardo Barraza nos obsequian un volumen más de esta magna colección. A lo largo de esta ya vasta obra nos hemos adentrado de manera detallada y amena a lo que a oímos por mes y casi da por dada en el emocionante universo de la llegada la difusión y el desarrollo en nuestro país de los aparatos capaces de registrar y reproducir el movimiento desde el kinetógrafo y el kinetoscopio de Edison pasando por el cinematógrafo de los hermanos Lumière hasta los múltiples ingenios técnicos que los sucedieron y superaron. Como se apunta en la introducción de este libro los autores se proponen ofrecernos un relato que articule aparatos productores y exhibidores salas y espectadores acontecimientos relevantes y obras cinematográficas cronistas y críticos. Nos encontramos en el año de 1903. Falta apenas un lustro para que la industria cinematográfica internacional se estructure como hoy en día la conocemos con sus tres ramas plenamente diferenciadas: producción, distribución y exhibición. Se trata de un momento señalado por la existencia de mercados tan rústicos y desorganizados. A pesar del enorme éxito que tienen las proyecciones de las vistas de movimiento entre los distintos públicos de la tan diversa geografía nacional, empresarios como Román J. Barreiro, los hermanos Becerril, Emilio Bellón, Carlos Mongrand, Enrique Rosas y Salvador Toscano entre otros enfrentan dificultades para renovar sus respectivos repertorios. Pero en la Ciudad de México un hecho establece de manera definitiva el favor del público por el espectáculo: Ernesto Pugibet, director general de la Fábrica de Tabacos "El Buen Tono" gestiona en mayo de 1903 ante el Ayuntamiento la autorización para la proyección gratuita y al aire libre de películas. Con el apoyo de la habitual pareja de operadores de cinematógrafo que forman Henri Moulini y su esposa Pugibet promueve con éxito la venta de sus cigarrillos y arrasa en la capital del país con los demás empresarios del ramo que deben cobrar por el espectáculo. En fin, este texto es una grata lectura de historia del cine y un modelo para el aprendizaje de lo que el rigor metodológico y la exploración exhaustiva de las fuentes pueden redituarnos. El cine de Carlos Fuentes Iván Ríos Gascón, 2017-11-24. Es muy probable que al escribir jamás dejó de pensar en la pantalla como una de las formas más acabadas del arte y como un lujo de la inspiración. Para Carlos Fuentes el cine fue una de sus pasiones más intensas. Una disciplina que abordó como crítico literario y en la que incluso incursionó como guionista al tiempo que consolidaba su carrera literaria. Entre la crítica y el ensayo este libro explora la relación del cine con su narrativa con el fin de desentrañar las inquietudes y certezas de la voluntad creadora. El cine de Carlos Fuentes nos lleva a recorrer los caminos literarios y las claves estéticas que el autor de "Aura" plasmó en sus cuentos y novelas, incluyendo la mirada de los cineastas que trasladaron sus obras al celuloide. forum for inter-American research Vol 5 Wilfried Raussert, 2023-07-20.
