Losing My Religion Moving On From Evangelical Faith:

Leaving Christian Fundamentalism and the Reconstruction of Identity Josie McSkimming, 2016-10-04 There is an increasing interest in the influence of religious fundamentalism upon people's motivation, identity and decision making. Leaving Christian Fundamentalism and the Reconstruction of Identity details the stories of those who have left Christian fundamentalist churches and how they change after they have left. It considers how the previous fundamentalist identity is shaped by aspects of church teaching and discipline that are less authoritarian and coercive and more subtle and widely spread throughout the church body. That is, individuals are understood as not only subject to a form of judgment but also exercise it with everyone seemingly complicit in maintaining the stability of the church organisation. This book provocatively illustrates that the reasons for leaving an evangelical Christian church may be less about what happens outside the church in terms of the lures and attractions of the secular world and more about the experience within the community itself. Voices from the Borderland Chris Shannahan, 2016-04-01 Urban theology affirms the importance of context, notably the place of the city in theological reflection. However, it has often been confined to particular contexts or theological camps and thus failed to engage with the fluidity of contemporary urban societies. Voices from the Borderland presents an overview of urban theology, arguing that the twenty-first century demands a dialogical model of theology that enacts progressive change. The volume draws on studies of the multicultural and multi-faith British urban experience and situates these within the wider international context. The works of influential theologians in the field are examined and the dialogue between theology, globalisation, post-colonialism, postmodernism and post-religious urban culture critically explored. The volume is unique in bringing together urban liberation theology, urban black theology, reformist urban theology, globalisation, urban theology and post-religious urban theology. Secularization and Its Discontents Rob Warner, 2010-12-23 Authoritative guide to contemporary debates and issues in the sociology of religion, providing a clear examination of classical secularization and the post-secularization paradigm. Shalom, the Spirit and Pentecostal Conversion Grace Milton, 2015-08-17 In Shalom, the Spirit and Pentecostal Conversion Grace Milton presents a uniquely practical theological model of Pentecostal conversion centered on empirical data from a congregational case study. Pentecostal Charismatic conversion is commonly equated with a dramatic Damascus road type event which directly opposes prevailing theories within the social sciences that conversion is a more gradual process over time. This raises the question: how far do these Pentecostal stereotypes reflect lived experience? In this book, for the first time, the experiences and beliefs of ordinary Pentecostal believers are drawn into conversation with conversion theories from the human sciences, sociology, psychology and anthropology and theology. The result is a distinctly Pentecostal model of conversion which interprets religious transformation through the theological lens of Shalom. British Evangelical Identities Past and Present, Volume 1 Mark Smith, 2009-04-01 The nature of evangelical identity in Britain is both a perennial issue and an urgent one. This is especially the case because evangelical Christianity has throughout its history been characterized by a remarkable degree of dynamism and diversity These essays by a distinguished list of contributors explore the issue of evangelical identity and the nature of evangelical diversity by investigating the interactions of evangelicalism with national and denominational identities race and gender and its expression in spirituality and culture from the evangelical revivals of the eighteenth century to evangelical churches and movements of the present A second volume will investigate similar issues in relation to evangelical interactions with the Bible and theology Contributors Rob Ambler Andrew Atherstone Kristin Aune David W Bebbington David Goodhew John Harvey Andrew R Holmes David Ceri Jones Ian Jones Rachel Jordan David Killingray Ian Randall Mark Smith Brian Talbot Peter Webster Martin Wellings and Eryn White

Crisp, 2016-04-01 For much of the twentieth century professional social work sought to distance itself from its religious origins with the consequence being that the role of spirituality in the lives of service users tended to be sidelined Yet it is clear that many people begin to explore their spirituality precisely at times when they are trying to make sense of difficult life circumstances or experiences and may come into contact with social workers In recent years there has been an increasing understanding that in order to be relevant to the lives of people they work with social workers need to go beyond their material needs but there is little understanding of how spirituality can be sensitively incorporated into practice especially when either practitioners or service users have no religious affiliation or there is no shared religious background In this pathbreaking volume Beth Crisp offers social workers ideas of beginning conversations in which spiritual values and beliefs may surface allowing service users to respond from their own framework and to begin to discuss the specific religious or spiritual practices and beliefs which are important to them She considers spirituality in the context of lived experience a perspective that she argues breaks down any mystique and suspicion of explicitly religious language by focusing on language and experiences with which most people can identify Such a framework allows exploration of issues that emerge at different stages in the lifespan both by persons who are religious and those who do not identify with any formal religion Most literature on spirituality within social work refers to the elderly to those who are sick or have been bereaved yet as Crisp points out spirituality is important for people of all ages and not just at seemingly exceptional moments Losing My Religion? Gordon Lynch, 2003 Explores what leads people to begin to question their faith Lynch recounts his own experience of the processes and the challenges he encountered in moving away from Evangelical faith Includes interviews with Dave Tomlinson and Jo Ind Trans Men in the South Baker A. Rogers, 2020-01-23 Through the voices of 51 trans men Baker A Rogers analyzes what it means to be a trans man in the southeastern United States Rogers argues that the common themes that pervade trans men s experiences in the South are complicated by other intersecting identities such as sexuality religion race class and place This study explores the intersectionalities of a group of people who are often invisible by choice or necessity in broader culture Rogers engages with debates about trans experiences of masculinity passing and discrimination within LGBTQ spaces in order to provide a comprehensive study of trans men s experiences
