The Happy Mind: Cognitive Contributions to Well-Being Michael D. Robinson, Michael Eid, 2017-06-28 This edited volume focuses on different views of happiness and well being considering constructs like meaning and spirituality in addition to the more standard constructs of positive emotion and life satisfaction A premise of the volume is that being happy consists of more than having the right things happen to us it also depends on how we interpret those events as well as what we are trying to achieve Such considerations suggest that cognitive emotional factors should play a fairly pronounced role in how happy we are The present volume pursues these themes in the context of 25 chapters organized into 5 sections The first section centers on cognitive variables such as attention and executive function in addition to mindfulness The second section considers important sources of positive cognition such as savoring and optimism and the third section focuses on self regulatory contributions to well being Finally social processes are covered in a fourth section and meaning related processes are covered in the fifth What results is a rich and diverse volume centering on the ways in which our minds can help or hinder our aspirations for happiness

Baudrillard and the Media William Merrin, 2005 Baudrillard and the Media is the first in depth critical study of Jean Baudrillard s media theory Rejecting the common positioning of Baudrillard within the discipline as a postmodernist it argues instead for the necessity of a fuller reading of his ideas and critical project Merrin offers an overview and evaluation of his key arguments and themes focusing especially upon the organising principle of his work his theory of symbolic exchange and critique of the semiotic and of simulation Upon this basis the book also resituates Baudrillard within media theory developing an original critical re reading of his relationship with McLuhanism and arguing for the significance instead of hitherto neglected influences such as Boorstin Emphasizing his critical value and contemporary relevance Baudrillard and the Media also provides the most detailed exploration yet of Baudrillard s theory of the non event considering its applicability through case studies of his controversial analyses of the Gulf War of 9 11 and the Afghan and Iraq Wars and of his own appearance in the film The Matrix Considering also Baudrillard's discussion of cinema his theory and personal practice of photography and his critique of new media the book concludes with an evaluation of his place within media and communication studies and an argument for his importance for this field Students and scholars of the media and media theory in particular will welcome this clear and comprehensive study

The Geological Record of Neoproterozoic Glaciations Emmanuelle Arnaud, Galen P. Halverson, Graham Shields-Zhou, 2011 In recent years interest in Neoproterozoic glaciations has grown as their pivotal role in Earth system evolution has become increasingly clear One of the main goals of the IGCP Project number 512 was to produce a synthesis of newly available information on Neoproterozoic successions worldwide This Memoir consists of a series of overview chapters followed by site specific chapters The overviews cover key topics including the history of research on Neoproterozoic glaciations identification of glacial deposits chemostratigraphic techniques and datasets palaeomagnetism biostratigraphy geochronology and climate modelling The site specific chapters include reviews of the history of research on these rocks and up to date syntheses of the structural framework tectonic setting palaeomagnetic geochronological constraints physical biological and chemical stratigraphy and descriptions of the glaciogenic and associated strata including economic deposits

Ramanujan's Lost Notebook George E. Andrews, Bruce C. Berndt, 2012-06-08 In the spring of 1976 George Andrews of Pennsylvania State University visited the library at Trinity College Cambridge to examine the papers of the late G N Watson Among these papers Andrews discovered a sheaf of 138 pages in the handwriting of Srinivasa Ramanujan This manuscript was soon designated Ramanujan's lost notebook Its discovery has frequently been deemed the mathematical equivalent of finding Beethoven's tenth symphony This volume is the third of five volumes that the authors plan to write on Ramanujan's lost notebook and other manuscripts and fragments found in The Lost Notebook and Other Unpublished Papers published by Narosa in 1988 The ordinary partition function  $p(n)$  is the focus of this third volume In particular ranks cranks and congruences for  $p(n)$  are in the spotlight Other topics include the Ramanujan tau function the Rogers Ramanujan functions highly composite numbers and sums of powers of theta functions Review from the second volume Fans of Ramanujan's mathematics are sure to be delighted by this book While some of the content is taken directly from published papers most chapters contain new material and some previously published proofs have been improved Many entries are just begging for further study and will undoubtedly be inspiring research for decades to come The next installment in this series is eagerly awaited MathSciNet Review from the first volume Andrews and Berndt are to be congratulated on the job they are doing This is the first step on the way to an understanding of the work of the genius Ramanujan It should act as an inspiration to future generations of mathematicians to tackle a job that will never be complete Shank,2015-04-23 A beautifully illustrated reference providing fascinating insights into the hidden world of the seafloor using the latest deep sea imaging New Perspectives on the Caledonides of Scandinavia and Related Areas F. Corfu,D. Gasser,D. M. Chew,2014-04-14 The Caledonides are a major orogenic belt that stretches from the Arctic through Scandinavia East Greenland Britain and Ireland into the Atlantic coast of North America Following the break up of Rodinia the Caledonides formed in the Palaeozoic by the drifting of various continents and their eventual aggregation in the Silurian and Devonian The orogen subsequently fragmented during the opening of the Atlantic Ocean This volume brings together 25 papers presenting the results of modern research that investigates the orogenic processes and the provenance of specific components of the belt The contributions reflect different lines of research linking traditional field studies with modern analytical techniques In addition three overview papers summarize the main features of the belts in Scandinavia Svalbard East Greenland Britain and Ireland highlighting the advances made since the last major synthesis of the Scandinavian Caledonides 30 years ago and discussing important open questions Perspectives on Abstract Concepts Marianna Bolognesi,Gerard J. Steen,2019-06-15 Human language is the most powerful communication system that evolution has produced Within this system we can talk about things we can physically see such as cats and tables but also about more abstract entities such as theories and feelings But how are these abstract concepts grounded in human cognition and represented in the mind How are they constructed in language And how are they used in natural communication settings This book addresses these questions through a collection of studies that relate to various theoretical frameworks ranging from Conceptual Metaphor Theory to Words as Social Tools Contributors investigate how abstract concepts are grounded in the mind represented in language and used in verbal discourse This richness is matched by a range of methods used throughout the volume from neuroimaging to computational modeling and from behavioral experiments to corpus analyses
