Zarbafi,2021-07-28 We are living in times where the issue of identity and difference has taken on a more defensive hue The tide is turning towards an inward looking nostalgia of sameness based on fear rather than on understanding The experience of hearing another language the way it is spoken and being faced with the image of the other is now more complex imbued with projections of powerlessness fear terrorism and survival The issue of identity appears to have become even more complex All cultures are concerned with how we speak and communicate as this represents identity history and home Communication is also essential for survival both emotionally and socially The speaking person is an individual but also part of a culture or cultures with dense collective and individual shapes The issue of identity that feeling of belonging is essential full of possibility and at times very uncomfortable as it touches the tensions between who we are and who we are becoming This sits next to more complex historical experiences and memories of languages and cultures being changed or lost or banished due to the colonial imperial and regional moves of powerful nations in search of conquest and economic gain This collection addresses how language affects therapists and their patients and how it can be understood culturally and therapeutically Drawn from talks given at the Multi lingual Psychotherapy Centre MLPC the contributors not only bring a therapeutic slant but also their other roles as academics writers and artists These reflections memories and stories give a glimpse of the multilingual journey the MLPC has been exploring for over twenty years and leave much food for thought The book contains contributions from Cedric Bouet Willaumez Giselle China Patricia Gorringer Natsu Hattori Monique Morris Esti Rimmer and Edna Sovin

Diversity, Discipline and Devotion in Psychoanalytic Psychotherapy Gertrud Mander,2018-04-17 This book is a selection of papers written over 25 years of practising psychoanalytic psychotherapy of training and supervising psychotherapists psychodynamic counsellors and supervisors It reflects a preoccupation with the growth and diversification of counselling and psychotherapy with the imperatives of training supervision and regulation and with the significant changes in the profession due to the invention of brief time limited intermittent and recurrent psychotherapy An overall theme is the conviction that what patients and therapists share is vulnerability and that the therapist is a wounded healer whose reparative tendency informs his professional choice his therapeutic empathy and his capacity to bear the rigours of therapeutic work Thus an unconscious connection between the helper and the helped is the driving force of every therapeutic relationship for better and for worse Its responsible management requires thorough training ongoing supervision and a firm frame in order to contain the powerful forces operating when two strangers meet for the purpose of therapy Psychotherapy and Culture Zack Eleftheriadou, 2018-05-08 this book focuses on cross cultural relationships and examines how culture and racial factors manifest in the clinical setting It discusses on how to work with both cross cultural differentiation and integration
