Rebuilding Catholic Culture Ryan Nathan Scott Topping, Ryan Topping, 2013-01-18 Rarely does a book come along that so succinctly explains the decline of modern culture articulates a defense of the Church's teachings and offers a hope filled path for building a civilization grounded in Catholic truth In these pages Dr Ryan Topping does all three pulling back the curtain on the false philosophies of the secularists and showing that in the West today the most formidable threat to freedom is not failing economies or Islam but secularism Our best defense he claims is a vibrant Catholic culture and our best hope for creating it lies in the principles found in the Catechism of the Catholic Church In Rebuilding Catholic Culture you'll discover sensible ways to begin restoring Catholic culture right now in your own life and family and in our larger communities as well in the theater in the classroom in our hospitals and even in the public square This profoundly accessible book will renew your confidence in the world transforming character of our Creed and in the potency of our Faith to shape and redefine the culture of the West Book jacket

Rights, Gender and Family Law Julie Wallbank, Shazia Choudhry, Jonathan Herring, 2009-12-04 There has been a widespread resurgence of rights talk in social and legal discourses pertaining to the regulation of family life as well as an increase in the use of rights in family law cases in the UK the US Canada and Australia Rights Gender and Family Law addresses the implications of these developments and in particular the impact of rights based approaches upon the idea of welfare and its practical application There are now many areas of family law in which rights and welfare based approaches have been forced together But whilst to many they are premised upon different ethics respectively of justice and of care for others they can nevertheless be reconciled In this respect a central concern is the gender blind character of rights based approaches and the ontological and practical consequences of their employment in the gendered context of the family Rights Gender and Family Law explores the tensions between rights based and welfare based approaches explaining their differences and connections considering whether if at all they are reconcilable and addressing the extent to which they can advantage or disadvantage the interests of women children and men It may be that rights based discourses will dominate family law at least in the way that social policy and legislation respond to calls of equality of rights between mothers and fathers This collection however argues that rights cannot be given centre stage without thinking through the ramifications for gendered power relations and the welfare of children It will be of interest to researchers and scholars working in the fields of family law gender studies and social welfare

Redefining Fatherhood Nancy E. Dowd, 2000-07-01 Most fathers parent less than most mothers Those fathers who do parent equally or more so than mothers are poorly supported by our society For children this means a loss of adult care as well as an ongoing and sharply defined differentiation between fathers and mothers Fathers are not present in children s lives to a significant degree if at all or when they are present they are often rendered socially invisible For many men their parenthood is defined as biological or economic while a minority of men struggle against the presumption that they are not caregivers In Redefining Fatherhood Nancy Dowd argues that this skewed social pattern is mirrored and supported by law Dowd makes the case for reenvisioning fatherhood away from genes and dollars and toward nurture Integrating economic social and legal aspects of fathering she makes the case for focusing on social nurturing behavior as the core meaning of fatherhood In this nuanced and complex analysis she explores the barriers to redefinition including concepts of masculinity the interconnections between fathers and mothers male violence and homophobia Redefining Fatherhood offers a progressive view on how men and society at large can change understandings and practices of fatherhood
