Carnal Thoughts Vivian Sobchack, 2004-11-01 In these innovative essays Vivian Sobchack considers the key role our bodies play in making sense of today's image-saturated culture. Emphasizing our corporeal rather than our intellectual engagements with film and other media, Carnal Thoughts shows how our experience always emerges through our senses and how our bodies are not just visible objects but also sense-making visual subjects. Sobchack draws on both phenomenological philosophy and a broad range of popular sources to explore bodily experience in contemporary moving image culture. She examines how, through the conflation of cinema and surgery, we've all had our eyes done, why we are moved by the movies, and the different ways in which we inhabit photographic, cinematic, and electronic space. Carnal Thoughts provides a lively and engaging challenge to the mind/body split by demonstrating that the process of making sense requires an irreducible collaboration between our thoughts and our senses. Life in a Rear View Mirror Douglas E.S. Horne, 2008-01-04 LIFE IN A REAR VIEW MIRROR begins with a cryptic and purposefully humorous review of the author's life from birth through the formative years. This life is transformed by the forces of war, providing a first view of death from a very close perspective. This haunting experience is followed by inscription into Military Service and the perilous training that follows to develop a warrior. The story progresses through a peace-time service fraught with the problems of unprofessional elements within. Thrust into war in SE Asia, the military next contends with experts unable to accept the new challenge: guerrilla warfare. Recounts of duty in SE Asia demonstrate the horrors of war and those elements of humor intertwined throughout this process of fighting a war without definitive guidelines and lacking the total support of your government. Post-war assignments with foreign nations and a brief service in the black world with the CIA conclude this military career. The story culminates with a new war, RETIREMENT, and the pitfalls it holds for ex-military personnel.
