Doig, 2005-09-01 The purpose of this guidelines initiative was to develop or update and validate an evidence based feeding guideline for critically ill patients. A widely accepted methodology was adopted which requires the identification of previously developed and validated evidence based guidelines. The process then specifies a methodology for identifying and assimilating evidence that may be used to change or update the previously validated guidelines An extensive literature search was conducted closeout date April 2003 Four hundred and sixty five full text papers were retrieved and reviewed The only evidence based guideline for feeding critically ill patients that had been validated in an RCT was identified Martin et al 2004 When evaluated in a cluster randomised trial including 499 patients from 14 hospitals the adoption of this guideline resulted in a 10% reduction in mortality p 0 058 and an average decrease in hospital stay of 10 days p 0 003 The process and evidence used to support and update this guideline is presented in this document The final ratified guideline was evaluated in a 27 hospital cluster randomised trial conducted in Australia and New Zealand

Care of the Critically Ill Patient Jack Tinker,Warren M. Zapol,2012-12-06 Nine years have passed since the first edition of Care of the Critically Ill Patient was published As its editors Maurice Rapin and I were fortified by the many positive and helpful comments of reviewers and readers the work appeared to have fulfilled our original aims and objectives Intensive care medicine has of course advanced and changed in many ways since 1982 and it therefore seemed appropriate to consider the preparation of a second edition Encouraged by the reception of the first and the timely prompting of the publishers we began in 1986 to prepare for a new edition Caring for critically ill patients is of universal concern and we were therefore delighted when Warren Zapol joined us as C n editor widening our international base The three of us subsequently spent many happy and productive times together planning the content priorities scale and contributions for the new edition A great tragedy then overcame us Maurice Rapin died suddenly His death deprived us of a true friend and colleague who had been an international pioneer during the development of intensive care medicine I will always remember with affection and professional pride the many hours he and I worked together in preparing the first edition of this book and also as founding editors of the now firmly established journal Intensive Care Medicine An obituary written by Warren Zapol that appeared in the journal follows the Preface
