Research Perspectives on Work and the Transition to Motherhood Christiane Spitzmueller, Russell A.

Matthews, 2016-08-19 This book examines the intricate challenges faced by women and families during the transition to motherhood. It presents unique theoretical and methodological approaches to studying women's transition from being employees to working mothers. Its focus is on the impact of work on the transition to motherhood and the impact of motherhood on women's working arrangements, work attitudes, work experiences, and perspectives. Special attention is given to intervention research that can enhance the health and well-being of mothers and employers as they reconcile demands of the family-work interface. Integrating theoretical framework, development, and methodological considerations, this book provides an in-depth introduction to the topic. It brings together researchers and experts on the work-family interface, on workplace discrimination during pregnancy and early motherhood, and on well-being. Psychosocial Adaptation to Pregnancy Regina Lederman, Karen Weis, 2009-09-16 presented in the Introduction Chapter 1. The focus of Chapter 1 is twofold: 1 to present the research foundations for the psychophysiological correlates of prenatal psychosocial adaptation and the seven prenatal personality dimensions with progress in labor and birth outcomes, and particularly 2 to present the theory underlying the seven dimensions of prenatal psychosocial adaptation, which are further analyzed in the following seven chapters. Chapters 2-8 present a content analysis of the interview responses to the seven significant prenatal personality dimensions that are predictive of pregnancy adaptation, progress in labor, birth outcomes, and postpartum maternal psychosocial adaptation, and they include: 1 Acceptance of Pregnancy, 2 Identification with a Motherhood Role, 3 Relationship with Mother, 4 Relationship with Husband, 5 Preparation for Labor, 6 Prenatal Fear of Pain, Helplessness, and Loss of Control in Labor, and 7 Prenatal Fear of Loss of Self-Esteem in Labor. There is no other comparable comprehensive in-depth prenatal personality research or empirical and content analysis of pregnancy-specific dimensions of maternal psychosocial adaptation to pregnancy. Annual Review of Nursing Research, Volume 2, 1984 Joyce J. Becoming A Person Martin Woodhead,2013-10-28 The first volume of readings for the Child Development in Social Context series concentrates on the importance of social relationships in the young child's life Early readings summarise recent research on children's emotional attachments But relationships are also the context of much of their early play and learning There are readings to illustrate how parents frame guide and scaffold young children's development with special reference to the way children are initiated into using language as a tool for learning The cross cultural dimension of early development is a particular focus of this volume which concludes with readings on the construction of personal identity First published in 1991 Routledge is an imprint of Taylor Francis an informa company Handbook of Parenting: Being and becoming a parent Marc H. Bornstein,2002 Despite the fact that most people become parents and everyone who has ever lived has had parents parenting remains a mystifying subject about which almost everyone has opinions but about which few people agree Striking permutations on the theme of parenting are emerging single parenthood blended families lesbian and gay parents and teen versus fifties first time moms and dads Divided into four volumes the Handbook of Parenting is concerned with different types of parents basic characteristics of parenting forces that shape parenting problems faced by parents and the practical sides of parenting Contributors have worked in different ways toward understanding all of these diverse aspects of parenting and look to the most recent research and thinking in the field to shed light on many topics every parent has wondered about Because development is too subtle dynamic and intricate to admit that parental caregiving alone determines the course and outcome of ontogeny Current Catalog National Library of Medicine (U.S.),1980 First multi year cumulation covers six years 1965 70 Death And Trauma Charles R. Figley,Brian E. Bride,Nicholas

Mazza,2022-09-16 First published in 1997 Although the fields of thanatology and traumatology have received robust attention during their parallel development little effort has been made to address their overlapping territory This volume is the first attempt to do so Specifically the purpose of this book is fourfold First is to provide a theoretical bridge between the two fields by providing conceptual terminology such as defining normal versus dysfunctional bereavement and the meaning and range of death related PTSD The second confirms and illustrates the identical patterns of reactions between those who survive the death of a loved one and those who survive other traumatic events Next the book applies the most useful theoretical models to the bereavement experience and in turn acknowledges the utility of generalizing bereavement models to other traumatic experiences in doing so the two fields can enrich each other Similarly the volume's final purpose is to identify and apply the most useful and effective approaches in traumatology literature to the study diagnosis and treatment of traumatic stressors other than death Engendering Psychology Florence Denmark,Vita Carulli Rabinowitz,Jeri A.

Sechzer,2016-01-08 Engendering Psychology s treatment of issues is based solidly on scientific evidence and presented in a balanced manner The text combines a developmental and topical approach Denmark Rabinowitz and Sechzer explore the concept of gender as a social construction across the lines of race ethnicity class age and sexual orientation pulling from the exciting new scholarship that has emerged over the last few years Thoughtful discussion questions emphasize critical thinking skills as well as encourage students to open a dialogue with both their professors and their peers This text will help readers understand the concept of gender as a social construct in contrast to the concept of sex which denotes biological differences Upon completing this text readers will have a deeper understanding of women and the knowledge that woman is a diverse and multifaceted category Sourcebook of Social Support and Personality Gregory R. Pierce,Brian

Lahey,I.G. Sarason,2013-11-11 The work of 47 contributors from the U S Canada and Israel the Sourcebook gives special attention to the complexity of the social support construct expanding the field s theoretical base by seriously reappraising social support research in the context of findings from other fields of psychology and related disciplines Personality processes are specified to account for observed associations between social support and physical well being Several new studies are included which illustrate empirical approaches to exploring these processes And key contributions highlight the great strides made in understanding the links among personal dispositions situational contexts and potentially supportive transactions The New Don't Blame Mother Paula Caplan,2002-06-01 In 1990 Paula Caplan a nationally recognized expert on the psychology of women wrote the groundbreaking Don tBlame Mother Now almost ten years later she finds that we are still blaming mothers Fully revised updated with a new introduction this second edition proposes new ways of mending the mother daughter relationship The NewDon t Blame Mother Mending the Mother DaughterRelationship shows us that dangerous myths about mothers pervade our culture and have created or aggravated many of the problems between mothers and daughters Myths of the Perfect Mother give rise to impossible expectations and set mothers up for failure good mothers don t get angry good mothers are endlessly giving and myths of the Bad Mother exaggerate mothers failings and create a monster figure in her image mothers are too needy mothers can t let go Caplan shows that if women can identify these myths then they can take concrete steps to build a strong and loving relationship with their mothers The New Don t Blame Mother shows how the anger and agony of the mother daughter relationship can be replaced with a new bond based on understanding and respect The New Don t Blame Mother is a must read for all mothers and daughters Caplan drawing on over twenty five years of research clinical practice and the experience of workshop participants will show you how to stop blaming mother and instead start loving her Gender, Class and Education (Routledge Revivals) Stephen Walker,Len

Barton,2013-11-05 First published in 1983 Gender Class and Education is a collection of papers that formed presentations at the Westhill Sociology of Education Conference in January 1982 and is the fifth such collection to emerge from the annual conference. The conference theme Race Class and Gender was not only chosen because of its topicality but also to provide a framework for debate between educational researchers and teachers. The papers focus on the reproduction of gender relations through education and provide important insights into how this process works, how it is resisted in schools and colleges, and the possibilities for radical intervention. This volume includes three teaching bibliographies on gender and education which were not presented at the conference but were compiled specially for the book. Biosocial Foundations of Family Processes Alan Booth, Susan M. McHale, Nancy S. Landale, 2010-12-01. Biosocial Research Contributions to Family Processes and Problems based on the 17th annual National Symposium on Family Issues examines biosocial models and processes in the context of the family. Research on both biological and social environmental influences on behavior, health, and development is represented, including behavioral endocrinology, behavior genetics, neuroscience, evolutionary psychology, sociology, demography, anthropology, economics, and psychology. The authors consider physiological and social environmental influences on parenting and early childhood development, followed by adolescent adjustment and family formation. Also, factors that influence how families adapt to social inequalities are examined.
