Radio Boys Cronies by Wayne Whipple At other stations these scenes were repeated but the climax came when we got to Port Huron I had to jump off the train about a quarter of a mile from the station which was situated out of town I had paid a big Dutch boy to haul several loads of sand to that point and the engineers knew I was going to jump so they slowed down a bit Still I was quite an expert on the jump I heaved off my bundle of papers and landed all right As usual the Dutch boy met me and we carried the rest of the papers toward the town We had hardly got half way when we met a crowd hurrying toward the station I thought I knew what they were after so I stopped in front of a church where a prayer meeting was just closing I raised the price to twenty five cents and began taking in a young fortune Almost at the same moment the meeting closed and the people came rushing out The way the coin materialized made me think the deacons had forgotten to pass the plate in that meeting We are delighted to publish this classic book as part of our extensive Classic Library collection Many of the books in our collection have been out of print for decades and therefore have not been accessible to the general public The aim of our publishing program is to facilitate rapid access to this vast reservoir of literature and our view is that this is a significant literary work which deserves to be brought back into print after many decades The contents of the vast majority of titles in the Classic Library have been scanned from the original works To ensure a high quality product each title has been meticulously hand curated by our staff Our philosophy has been guided by a desire to provide the reader with a book that is as close as possible to ownership of the original work We hope that you will enjoy this wonderful classic work and that for you it becomes an enriching experience Radio Boys Cronies Wayne Whipple, Samuel Francis Aaron, 2020-12-08 Radio Boys Cronies presents a vibrant exploration of the early 20th century's fascination with radio technology encapsulated through a series of narratives that effortlessly blend adventure camaraderie and innovation This anthology serves as a tribute to the era when communication technology was burgeoning and transforming societies Through a diversity of literary styles ranging from thrilling escapades to reflective musings the collection captures the myriad ways in which technology was perceived and utilized during this pivotal era Featuring narratives that emphasize ingenuity and the enduring spirit of youthful curiosity the collection provides a rich tapestry of stories that remain relevant to today's readers The anthology is curated by Wayne Whipple and Samuel Francis Aaron who both bring their unique perspectives to this collection drawing on their backgrounds to weave a rich narrative fabric Whipple and Aaron known for their contributions to early speculative fiction and children's literature have rooted these works in the cultural tides of the early 1900s The resulting anthology mirrors both the optimism and the challenges faced during a period of rapid technological advancement while offering insights into the socio cultural landscape that gave rise to the radio's golden age Recommended for readers intrigued by the confluence of history and technology Radio Boys Cronies offers an exceptional opportunity to embark on a literary journey through multiple perspectives and styles This anthology not only highlights the transformative power of radio but also encourages readers to appreciate the broader implications of technological advancements on society Its educational value and the dynamic dialogue it promotes between different authors make it a compelling read for both literary enthusiasts and historians alike Radio Boys Cronies - The Original Classic Edition, 2012-03-01 This is a high quality book of the original classic edition It was previously published by other bona fide publishers and is now finally back in print This is a freshly published edition of this culturally important work which is now at last again available to you Enjoy this classic work These few paragraphs distill the contents and give you a quick look inside The first speaker a lad of fifteen large for his age fair haired though as brown as a berry and athletic in all his easy deliberate yet energetic movements turned to the one he had called Bill a boy of about his own age or a little older but altogether opposite in appearance for he was undersized dark haired black eyed and though a life long cripple with a twisted knee as quick and nervous in action as the limitations of his physical strength and his ever present crutch permitted Young Edison had a friend up in the printing office who let him see proofs from the edition being set up so that he kept posted as to what was to be in the paper before it came off the press Watching the compositors at work he learned to set type and make up the forms so within two weeks after purchasing the press he brought out the first number of The Weekly Herald the first paper ever written set up proof read printed published and sold besides all his other work on a local train and this by a boy of fourteen He had to read to find out things there seemed to be no one who could tell him the half that he wanted to know and I guess a lot of people got pretty tired of having him ask so many questions they couldn't answer. Maybe he's not altogether right about that for education is mighty fine and I'd like to go to a technical school. Gus and I both are aiming for that but we're going to read and study a lot our own way too and experiment aren't we Gus.

The speaker, a roughly clad boy of about fifteen or over, caught hold of his companion's sleeve and looked sympathetically in his face. The lad whom he called Maurice was better dressed and he seemed to carry with him a certain air of refinement that was lacking in his friend who was of a rougher nature. Despite this difference, he and Thad Tucker were the closest of chums, sharing each other's joys and disappointments small though they might be. They had met just now at the post office of a little country town, not many miles below Evansville, Indiana, as the afternoon mail was being sorted. The yellow flood of the great Ohio River could be seen from where they stood, glowing in the early November sunshine. Upon being greeted with these words, Maurice Pemberton shook his head dolefully.
