included Polish Canadian and Australian manned units formed the backbone of the Bomber Command night bombing force Over the next two years Wellingtons participated in all the major operations by Bomber Command including the daylight raid against German battleships in Brest harbour in July 1942 and the first three Thousand Bomber raids in the summer of 1942 This illustrated study explores the design development and deployment of the Vickers Wellington type charting its role in World War II from its earliest missions to its use in training after its withdrawal from frontline bomber missions in 1943 The text is supported by stunning full colour artwork A History of the Mediterranean Air War, 1940-1945 Christopher Shores, Giovanni Massimello, Russell Guest, 2012-06-19 This first volume in the seminal series on World War II aerial combat pilots and tactics that reads like an encyclopedia on the subject Portland Book Review In the early days of World War II both Allied and Axis powers extended the theater of war to North Africa where hard fought battles were conducted in the harsh desert But before anyone could claim victory on the ground they had to hold dominion in the air Here historian Christopher Shores has combined his books Fighters over the Desert and Fighters over Tunisia into one volume as well as adding updated information about the deadly fighter aircraft reconnaissance aircraft and maritime units active in the Mediterranean Full of in depth research and featuring essential maps this is an intimate introspection by these men of their experiences and the respect that they shared not only for each other but also their adversaries The Military Reviewer Bomber Squadrons of the R.A.F. and Their Aircraft Philip J. R. Moyes, 1964 Illustrated record of British Royal Air Force squadrons formed since the First World War including those formed from Allied and Dominions personnel Operation Oyster World War II's Forgotten Raid Kees Rijken, Paul Schepers, Arthur G. Thorning, 2014-08-15 Operation Oyster was carried out on the 6th December 1942 by 2 Group RAF Considered to be a notable success for the allies it cost the Germans an estimated six months of lost production time at a critical point in the conflict It is arguable according to the authors that the operation was in fact rather more significant than Operation Chastise the Dambuster raid while accepting that was a remarkable feat of arms Operation Oyster struck at the very heart of what Churchill termed the wizard war against German radio navigational technology by attacking a central hub of activity the Philips Radio Works in Eindhoven The Netherlands The development of electronics in WWII was the most significant technical aspect of weaponry over the course of the conflict On both sides there were great advances in radar and communications which at that time depended on the wide scale use of high frequency radio valves few companies had the technology to produce these but the leading one in Europe was Philips in Eindhoven Thus it was determined that Philips was the most important target Ninety three allied aircraft took part and a total of fourteen were lost But the result in terms of damages to the enemy was considerable hindering the German war effort significantly and consequently aiding the allies Despite these facts however the story of the raid has been underreported and the efforts of the aircrew who took part have been little recognized By comparison the Dambuster raid which came six months later has entered into folklore Here for the first time the overlooked Oyster raid is afforded the attention it deserves Encyclopedia
