Railway Posters 1923-1947 Beverley Cole, Richard Durack, 1992 Between 1923 and 1947 the railway poster in Britain was in its heyday These were the years of the so called Big Four companies the Great Western Railway Southern Railway London Midland and Scottish Railway and London and North Eastern Railway In the competition for passengers each of the companies developed its own distinctive style of poster advertising This book contains over 200 of the most striking and innovative designs of the period Railway Posters Lorna Frost, 2012-07-20 Railway posters have huge appeal for the modern audience but just what explains this continuing interest Enduring images of iconic locomotives bathing beauties and characters such as Sunny South Sam are testament to the creativity of the railway company marketing departments and the posters tell us not only about railway history and technology architectural and engineering accomplishments but also about the cultural and social significance of the railways The influence of the railway industry on our cities and coastlines and on the development of leisure time and holiday resorts can be seen in the recurring images of ramblers bathers and idyllic tourist destinations This book explores the changing styles and functions of the railway poster from the early pre grouping days through to the inter war golden age and nationalised British Railways Trains, Literature, and Culture Steven D. Spalding, Benjamin Fraser, 2011-12-29 Trains Literature and Culture Reading and Writing the Rails delves into the rich connections between rail travel and the creation of cultural products from short stories to novels from photographs to travel guides and from artistic manifestos of the avant garde to Freud's psychology Each of the contributions engages in critical readings of textual or visual representations of trains across a wide spectrum of time periods and traditions from English and American to Mexican West African and European literary cultures By turns trope metaphor and emblem of technological progress these textual and visual representations of the train serve at times to index racial and gender inequalities to herald the arrival of a nation's independence and at still others to evince the trauma of industrialization In each instance the figure of the train emerges as a complex narrative form engaged by artists who were Reading Writing the Rails as a way of assessing the competing discursive investments of cultural modernity Resorts and Ports Peter Borsay, John K. Walton, 2011-10-14 Histories of seaports and coastal resorts have usually been kept in separate compartments This book brings them together and looks at how resort development affected historic ports during the rise and development of the seaside holiday in Europe from the 18th century to the 20th and what the attributes of ports fishing harbour crafts the whiff of the exotic fishermen's homes and families contributed to the attractions of resorts Case studies drawn from across Europe from Wales and the Netherlands to Norway Latvia and Spain bring original perspectives to bear on these histories and relationships and consider their influence on seaside heritage and regeneration at a time when coastal settlements are increasingly using their past to secure their future The book will interest academics in tourism studies history geography and cultural studies as well as provide essential information and analysis for policy makers in coastal regeneration Railway

T. Scott, 2010-01-01 This book sets out to explore the way with the onset of a new and integral relationship between text and image the modern poster is able to evolve distinctive persuasive strategies that will transform modern advertising The book shows how this fundamental development is closely related to contemporary developments in the visual arts in particular Futurism and Art Deco and reflects the increasing cross fertilisation and symbiosis between art and graphic design The book focuses in particular on the way conventional textual strategies metaphor metonymy rebus are adapted by the modern poster to produce visual or textual visual equivalents which through their employment of combined pictorial and linguistic elements maximise their attractive or persuasive power over the viewer reader A key aim of the book is to clarify the assumptions on which semiology the study of signs is based in the context of modern poster artists practice The text image relation is explored through five chapters focussing on 1 the rhetoric of image text in general 2 text and image in airline logos British Airways and Air France 3 visual metonymies in boxing posters 4 text and image in posters expressing speed 5 text image in Swiss tourist posters There are approximately 120 colour illustrations arranged in groups that reflect the different orientations of the chapters

The Image of Georgian Bath 1700-2000 Peter Borsay, 2000-07-06 This interdisciplinary study explores the evolution structure and uses of the image of Georgian Bath from its genesis in the eighteenth century to its renaissance in the twentieth century In recent decades there has been both a popular resurgence of interest in heritage and tradition and a growing academic awareness of the power of imagery in shaping the lives of individuals and societies There is perhaps no city in Britain so saturated in history and layered with historic imagery as Bath It therefore provides an ideal case study to investigate the dynamic fusion and impact of the forces of past and representation The dominant perception of Bath today is that of a classical and particularly

Georgian city In this stimulating and scholarly study Peter Borsay examines the construction and development of this image Its principal components biography and architecture are explored together with the media through which it was constructed and transmitted as well as its commercial social political and psychological uses Dr Borsay concludes by relating the findings for Bath to current debates on towns heritage and the nature of history
