Dagara Black Bagr English & Dagaare Alexis B. Tengan, 2006 In this volume the author presents a version of Africa's longest oral recitation of myth of origination the black bagr myth found among the Dagara of Northern Ghana and Southern Burkina Faso and discusses in detail its historical and literary significance for the society Hence the author first outlines the historical conditions possibly responsible for the coming into existence of both the mythical narratives and the rites of initiation that accompany the narration and then presents the literary frame and structure in which the black bagr narrative is composed The rest of the book is a unique bilingual Dagara and English presentation of the black bagr narration recorded and viewed live from within a secret rite of initiation The narration itself similar to all black bagr ritual narrative sessions lasted up to three hours and was performed without interruption by one speaker The narrative content shows to what extent the rites achieve the double purpose of teaching the initiates culture knowledge and giving them new individual identities that will equip them for different social positions in life

Moortown Diary Ted Hughes, 2010-11-25 Originally published in 1979 Moortown Diary is the updated version of Ted Hughes's acclaimed Devon farming sequence written over a period of several years during which he was spending almost every day outside either gardening or farming The introduction and notes added in 1989 sketch in the background from which these remarkable poems emerged as an improvised verse journal sparsely edited coalescing spontaneously on the page Moortown Diary keeps its eye firmly on the creatures behind the language It s written in the style of Hughes s play translations very swift and bright and urgent and speakable Hughes strips away the protective layers the soundproofed ears the double glazed eyes that prevent us making contact with anything outside ourselves Right now I can t think of anything more important than that kind of poem Because we re not just here to think about literature We re here to try to wake up Alice Oswald The Guardian It grips your heart and your intestines like a vice from the first page He makes language as physical as a bruise and in these poems beauty and tenderness blend with violence John Carey Sunday Times The Moortown sequence includes some of Hughes s finest poems They are like no other poems I have read with a degree of intensity sanity and grace that he has never equalled Anthony Thwaite Times Literary Supplement
