Rain and snow are probably the most well known types of precipitation, but there are others. The temperature of the cloud and the air between the cloud and the ground create different kinds of precipitation.

Below freezing

Rain

Rain made of liquid water droplets falls when temperatures in the air and at the surface are above freezing (32°F, 0°C). Rain can start as water droplets or ice crystals in a cloud but always falls as liquid water.

Hail

The balls of ice that fall from clouds and can even put dents in cars are known as hail. Hail is created in thunderstorm clouds. Water droplets form in the cloud and get pushed upward, where temperatures are colder. The droplets freeze and form hailstones. The hailstones grow as more water droplets freeze onto them and eventually fall to the ground.
