Modern Russian Cinema as a Battleground in Russia's Information War Alexander Rojavin, Helen Haft, 2024-07-31 This book explores how modern

Russian cinema is part of the international information war that has unfolded across a variety of battlefields including social media online news and television. It outlines how Russian cinema has been instrumentalized both by the Kremlin's allies and its detractors to convey salient political and cultural messages often in subtle ways thereby becoming a tool for both critiquing and serving domestic and foreign policy objectives shaping national identity and determining cultural memory. It explains how regulations legislation and funding mechanisms have rendered contemporary cinema both an essential weapon for the Kremlin and a means for more independent figures to publicly frame official government policy. In addition the book employs formal cinematic analysis to highlight the dominant themes and narratives in modern Russian films of a variety of genres situating them in Russia's broader rhetorical ecosystem and explaining how they serve the objectives of the Kremlin or its opponents.

Contemporary Russian Cinema Vlad Strukov, 2016-04-12 Analysing films by established directors such as Sokurov and Zeldovich as well as lesser known filmmakers like Balabanov and Kalatozishvili this book explores the particular style of film presentation that has emerged in Russia since 2000 characterised by its use of highly abstract concepts and visual language.

Russian Cinema David C. Gillespie, 2014-09-25 Russian Cinema provides a lively and informative exploration of the film genres that developed during Russia's tumultuous history with discussion of the work of Eisenstein Pudovkin Mikhalkov Paradzhanov Sokurov and others. The background section assesses the contribution of visual art and music especially the work of the composers Shostakovich and Prokofiev to Russian cinema. Subsequent chapters explore a variety of topics: The literary space the cinematic rendering of the literary text from Sovietized versions to bolder and more innovative interpretations as well as adaptations of foreign classics. The Russian film comedy looks at this perennially popular genre over the decades from the domestication of laughter under Stalin to the emergence of satire. The historical film how history has been used in film to affirm prevailing ideological norms from October to Taurus. Women and Russian film discusses some of the female stars of the Soviet screen Liubov Orlova Vera Alentova Liudmila Gurchenko as well as films made by male and female directors such as Askoldov and Kira Muratova. Film and ideology shows why ideology was an essential component of Soviet films such as The Maxim Trilogy and how it was later definitively rejected The Russian war film looks at Civil War and Second World War films and the post Soviet treatment of recent conflicts in Afghanistan and Chechnya Private life and public morality explores the evolution of melodramas about youth angst town and village life personal relationships and the emergence of the dominant sub genre of the 1990s the gangster thriller Autobiography memory and identity offers a close reading of the work of Andrei Tarkovskii Russia s greatest post war director whose films including Andrei Rublev and Mirror place him among the foremost European auteur film makers Russian Cinema offers a close analysis of over 300 films illustrated with representative stills throughout As with other titles in the Inside Film series it includes comprehensive filmographies a thorough bibliography and an annotated further reading list The book is a jargon free accessible study that will be of interest to undergraduates of film studies modern languages Russian language and literature as well as cineastes film teachers and researchers Insiders and Outsiders in Russian Cinema Stephen M. Norris,Zara M. Torlone,2008-05-14 Examines in a remarkably rich and varied way the construction of otherness and foreignness within this complexly national cinema tradition John MacKay Yale University Identifying who was inside and who was outside the Soviet Russian body politic has been a matter of intense and violent urgency especially in the high Stalinist and post Soviet periods It is a theme encountered prominently in film Employing a range of interpretive methods practiced in Russian Soviet film studies Insiders and Outsiders in Russian Cinema highlights the varied ways that Russian and Soviet cinema constructed otherness and foreignness While the essays explore the us versus them binary well known to students of Russian culture and the ways in which Russian films depicted these distinctions the book demonstrates just how impossible maintaining this binary proved to be Contributors are Anthony Anemone Julian Graffy Peter Kenez Joan Neuberger Stephen M Norris Oleg Sulkin Yuri Tsivian Emma Widdis and Josephine Woll An anthology that is the best I have ever had the pleasure of reading Lucidly written well researched persuasively argued lavishly illustrated Insiders and Outsiders in Russian Cinema can be read with pleasure and profit by anyone from the general reader interested in Russian culture to the most seasoned Russian film specialist Denise J Youngblood University of Vermont Russian Review In a word the theoretical richness and sophistication of this collection parallel the complexity of its topics and serve as an excellent cross section of how the theme of foreigners and outsiders is examined in contemporary studies in film Slavonic East European Journal Early Cinema in Russia and its Cultural Reception Yuri Tsivian,2013-12-13 This book examines the development of cinematic form and culture in Russia from its late nineteenth century beginnings as a fairground attraction to the early post Revolutionary years The author traces the changing perceptions of cinema and its social transition from a modernist invention to a national art form He explores reactions to the earliest films from actors novelists poets writers and journalists His richly detailed study of the physical elements of cinematic performance includes the architecture and illumination of the cinema foyer the speed of projection and film acoustics In contrast to standard film histories this book focuses on reflected images rather than discussing films and film makers it features the historical film goer and early writings on film The book presents a vivid and changing picture of cinema culture in Russia in the twilight of the tsarist era and the first decades of the twentieth century The study expands the whole context of reception studies and opens up questions about reception relevant to other national cinemas
