Russian Versification:

Russian Versification Boris Ottokar Unbegaun, 1956 About the structure of Russian poetry Russian Poets and Poems Nadine Jarintzov, 1917 Russian Versification B. O. Unbegaun, 1956 Reference Guide to Russian Literature Neil Cornwell, 2013-12-02 First Published in 1998 This volume will surely be regarded as the standard guide to Russian literature for some considerable time to come It is therefore confidently recommended for addition to reference libraries be they academic or public Russian Versification Boris Unbegaun, 1968 Russian Writers on Translation Brian James Baer, Natalia Olshanskaya, 2014-07-16 Since the early eighteenth century following Peter the Great's policy of forced westernization translation in Russia has been a very visible and much discussed practice Generally perceived as an important service to the state and the nation translation was also viewed as a high art leading many Russian poets and writers to engage in literary translation in a serious and sustained manner As a result translations were generally regarded as an integral part of an author's oeuvre and of Russian literature as a whole This volume brings together Russian writings on translation from the mid 18th century until today and presents them in chronological order providing valuable insights into the theory and practice of translation in Russia Authored by some of Russia's leading writers such as Aleksandr Pushkin Fedor Dostoevskii Lev Tolstoi Maksim Gorkii and Anna Akhmatova many of these texts are translated into English for the first time They are accompanied by extensive annotation and biographical sketches of the authors and reveal Russian translation discourse to be a sophisticated and often politicized exploration of Russian national identity as well as the nature of the modern subject Russian Writers on Translation fills a persistent gap in the literature on alternative translation traditions highlighting the vibrant and intense culture of translation on Europe's periphery Viewed in a broad cultural context the selected texts reflect a nuanced understanding of the Russian response to world literature and highlight the attempts of Russian writers to promote Russia as an all inclusive cultural model Russia in the Early Modern World Donald Ostrowski, 2022-01-25 A fundamental problem in studying early modern Russian history is determining Russia's historical development in relationship to the rest of the world The focus throughout this book is on the continuity of Russian policies during the early modern period 1450-1800 and that those policies coincided with those of other successful contemporary Eurasian polities The continuities occurred in the midst of constant change but neither one nor the other continuities or changes alone can account for Russia's success Instead Russian rulers from Ivan III to Catherine II with their hub advisors managed to sustain a balance between the two During the early modern period these Russian rulers invited into the country foreign experts to facilitate the transfer of technology and know how mostly from Europe but also from Asia In this respect they were willing to look abroad for solutions to domestic problems Russia looked westward for military weaponry and techniques at the same time it was expanding eastward into the Eurasian heartland The ruling elite and by extension the entire ruling class worked in cooperation with the ruler to implement policies The Church played an active role in supporting the government and in seeking to eliminate opposition to the government

How Literatures Begin Joel B. Lande, Denis Feeney, 2021-07-20 A comparative history of the practices technologies institutions and people that created distinct literary traditions around the world from ancient to modern times Literature is such a familiar and widespread form of imaginative expression today that its existence can seem inevitable But in fact very few languages ever developed the full fledged literary cultures we take for granted Challenging basic assumptions about literatures by uncovering both the distinct and common factors that led to their improbable invention How Literatures Begin is a global comparative history of literary origins that spans the ancient and modern world and stretches from Asia and Europe to Africa and the Americas The book brings together a group of leading literary historians to examine the practices technologies institutions and individuals that created seventeen literary traditions Chinese Japanese Korean Indian Greek Latin Hebrew Syriac Arabic English Romance languages German Russian Latin American African African American and world literature In these accessible accounts which are framed by general and section introductions and a conclusion by the editors literatures emerge as complex weaves of phenomena unique and deeply rooted in particular times and places but also displaying surprising similarities Again and again new literatures arise out of old come into being through interactions across national and linguistic borders take inspiration from translation and cultural cross fertilization and provide new ways for groups to imagine themselves in relation to their moment in history Renewing our sense of wonder for the unlikely and strange thing we call literature How Literatures Begin offers fresh opportunities for comparison between the individual traditions that make up the rich mosaic of the world's literatures The book is organized in four sections with seventeen literatures covered by individual contributors Part I East and South Asia Chinese Martin Kern Japanese Wiebke Denecke Korean Ksenia Chizhova and Indian Sheldon Pollock Part II The Mediterranean Greek Deborah Steiner Latin Joseph Farrell Hebrew Jacqueline Vayntrub Syriac Alberto Rigolio and Arabic Gregor Schoeler Part III European Vernaculars English Ingrid Nelson Romance languages Simon Gaunt German Joel Lande and Russian Michael Wachtel Part IV Modern Geographies Latin American Rolena Adorno African Simon Gikandi African American Douglas Jones and world literature Jane O Newman
