Balagopalan, 2014-04-29 Through a rich ethnography of street and working children in Calcutta India this book offers the first sustained enquiry into postcolonial childhoods arguing that the lingering effects of colonialism are central to comprehending why these children struggle to inhabit the transition from labour to schooling

Child Survivors of Genocide Shirley A. Heying, 2022-06-27 Child Survivors of Genocide Trauma Resilience and Identity in Guatemala presents mixed method comparative ethnographic research conducted with orphaned child survivors who are now adults

These survivors were orphaned during Guatemala's thirty six year internal armed conflict and particularly during the heightened period of genocide from 1978 to 1983 referred to as la violencia. Raised for the majority of their childhoods in a family style permanent residential home in the highlands region the author examines the long term consequences that these individuals have faced not only from grieving the loss of their parents and family members but also because of their orphan status. While they suffer from lasting trauma these child survivors have become resilient well adapted adults with a strong internalized sense of ethnic identity. They also engage in creative and transformative practices regarding ethnic identity and belonging that have contributed to their abilities to adapt to their life circumstances in positive constructive ways and have expanded what it means to be Maya Indigenous Guatemalans today. Child survivors' experiences offer inspiration justify expanded research with child survivors as their own distinct survivor group and warrant reconsideration of in country residential care when other forms of loving nurturing in country care are unavailable.

Cultural Dimensions of Well-Being
 Clementine K. Fujimura, Simone Nommensen, 2017-11-22 This book presents a cultural history of human animal relations in Germany Japan Russia and the United States with a focus on the uses of animals for comfort healing and in developing a sense of well being. Fujimura and Nommensen discuss the contexts in which the culture of wellbeing has developed and incorporated alternative therapies with animals. The authors turn to qualitative research conducted over a period of two years in veterinary clinics hospices reading programs search and rescue organizations as well as an extensive review of existing literature on cultural studies of human animal relations to inform their analysis of complex ways in which humans and animals interact. The extent to which animals are accepted either as members of society or in contrast as mere material possessions poses a cultural contradiction leading to questions of the ethical treatment of animals.

Throw Your Voice
 Meghanne Barker, 2024-08-15 Throw Your Voice is a story of loss and recovery. It relates how children placed in a temporary care institution make sense of their situations. Moving between a Kazakhstan government children's home Hope House and the Almaty State Puppet Theater Meghanne Barker shows how children and puppets as proxies bring to life ideologies of childhood and visions of a rosy future. Sites and stories run in parallel. Framed by the narrative of Anton Chekhov's Kashtanka about a lost dog taken in by a kind stranger the author follows the story's staging at the puppet theater. At Hope House children find themselves on a path similar to Kashtanka dislodged from their first homes to reside in a second. The heart of this story is about living in displacement and about the fragile intimacies achieved amidst conditions of missing. Whether due to war migration or pandemic people get separated from those closest to them. Throw Your Voice examines how strangers become familiar and how objects mediate precarious ties. She shows how people use fantasy to mitigate loss.
