sustained text that documents the maturation of the airplane aviation and women's growing desire for equality in American society. In Their Own Words takes up the writings of eight women pilots as evidence of the ties between the growth of American aviation and the changing role of women. Harriet Quimby 1875-1912, Ruth Law 1887-1970, and the sisters Katherine and Marjorie Stinson 1893-1977, 1896-1975 came to prominence in the years between the Wright brothers and World War I. Earhart 1897-1937, Louise Thaden 1905-1979, and Ruth Nichols 1901-1960 were the voices of women in aviation during the Golden Age of Aviation. Anne Morrow Lindbergh 1906-2001, the only one of the eight who legitimately can be called an artist, bridges the time from her husband's 1927 flight through the World War II years and the coming of the Space Age. Each of them confronts issues relating to the developing technology and possibilities of aviation. Each speaks to the importance of assimilating aviation into daily life. Each details the part that women might and should play in advancing aviation. Each talks about how aviation may enhance women's participation in contemporary American society, making their works significant documents in the history of American culture.
