Babies and Young Children Marian Beaver, 2004 Provides comprehensive coverage of the mandatory and optional units of the NVQ 2 specification This book references performance criteria throughout enabling students to see which activities they are covering at any time It is endorsed by City and Guilds

Reflexive Practice Angela Mary Lisle, 2010-07-06 At the heart of this book is the notion of reflexive practice as a meta cognitive self reflexive learning style for personal and professional development Reflexive practice is covered in a multidimensional way It is examined as part of the personal development of a student as personal development of the educator and as a thinking style of the individual in the agency structure dialectic of the global post modern human condition and the place of early childhood education if not education per se within that international contextual framework In addition reflexive practice is examined as a phenomenon in itself as a behaviour emergent of biology Piagetian genetic epistemology within the psychophysical social context of the Marxian Vygotskian historical materialist dialectic It takes an interactionist stance that is the view that ontogenetic development is an outcome of nature and nurture Thus its discourse is mainly psychological with input from other disciplines where there is overlap of concepts or concerns with theoretical insights Its historical roots start from the enlightenment philosophy through to postmodern philosophy culminating into psychophysics The philosophy of methodology for example of reflexive practice is examined from the critical theory of Marx and the use of dialectics manifest within post modernity as the reflexive turn Both Schns notion of reflexive practice as a critical conversation with the situation used in education and by psychologists within social work and counselling are examined The neuropsychology of reflexive practice is also examined and theorised as the psychophysics of brain mind The psychophysics of brain mind is in addition examined in the way it connects to learning style discourses such as the visual auditory and kinaesthetic modalities the brain exuberates These learning styles coalesce within the active learning approach the Marxian Vygotskian method of learning A secondary thread that runs through the chapters is the notion of dialectic The individual identity is woven with the richness senses bring and values that emotions weave with the evolving world as the agency structure dialectic of development continues its journey Thus reflexive practice as a cycle of learning that converts into development and that is the basis for the development of identity the ontogenetic development of the individual is examined on several plains For example what is the childs site of negotiation within the everyday postmodern world or the students site of negotiation within this rich construal of discourses and how are the professional and personal juxtaposed compromised and or resolved Reflexive practice as a critique of practice and search for truths within ones social context is catalyst for agency and truth of ones real place within the human condition to bring about emancipation Identity formation as a social psychological phenomenon is political as well as cultural and geographically located In terms of polity does parliament stand as guardian to practices within education and social welfare or is it but one influence inside the elaborate arena of negotiation In the present economic climate as western societies embrace their margins the bounded nations and othernessss twinned sites of local and local with global changes of emergencies bubble up in a glowing spectra the UK is but one physicality of many as all that is solid melts into air Marx Economic 1890 The final encounter may well be one of total eclipse or a unified glorification as global capitalism struggles for its feet hovering beneath its own carriage on a blanket of air without the support of the industrial base Money paper alone will not support the march of capitalist accumulation As inflation rises and gross national product falls mindful of the fact that debit accounts are debt in the guise of growth without anything but words on paper to support them EBOOK: Working with the Under Threes: Training and Professional Development Lesley Abbott, Helen Moylett, 1997-12-16 In order to do justice to the range of issues surrounding the care and education of the under threes and to meet the many and varied needs of the adults who work with them two books have been written under the title Early Interactions The books incorporate the views of a wide range of people with a wealth of experience in the early years field as both practitioners and trainers They are intended as an accessible informative and challenging resource for all those involved in the care and education of children under three Multiprofessional and interdisciplinary team work is essential in working with young children and their families and as the Rumbold Report 1990 emphasises no one person will possess all the knowledge and skills required for this important responsibility The books provide a range of perspectives and will appeal equally to professionals parents and anyone who cares about young children They are particularly valuable as a resource for use in training at all levels The training and support needs of Early Years workers is a key issue and provides a focus for debate in the present educational climate Working with under threes carries a particular responsibility The contributors to this book represent a wide range of experience and involvement as practitioners and trainers which they share in interesting and accessible chapters The book is intended for all those responsible for or training to work with children under three on a variety of courses Topics covered include New approaches to training continuing professional development equal opportunities working with parents and carers men working with under threes special educational needs child protection and the inspection process Key issues are identified for consideration by all those working with young children A Practical Guide to Working with Parents Christine Hobart, 2003 Working with parents is a key competence required in all areas of child care employment and this much needed resource provides thorough coverage of this important area Unlike other books this guide offers a comprehensive yet truly practical approach to all aspects of working with parents and is a valuable addition to the best selling Practical Guide series Childminding Christine Hobart, Jill Frankel, 2003 Officially endorsed by the NCMA this book contains numerous case studies that place child care theory in a realistic context allowing students to apply their knowledge and skills to real life childminding situations Each chapter addresses the National Standards and helps prepare childminders for the OFSTED regulations and inspections Working Together For Young Children Tricia David, 2013-07-23 With 1994 designated the United Nations Year of the Family young children and their relationship with parents and carers is firmly back on the political agenda Amongst recent legislation to meet this agenda in Britain is the Children Act 1989 The Act seeks to improve the position and perception of children in society by stressing the rights of children and the responsibilities that parents and the caring professions have towards them Working Together For Young Children addresses the central issues facing young children and their families in the light of this new social and political climate The contributors experienced in the fields of health education social and voluntary services provide information research evidence and ideas about practice in the light of recent legislative reform Emphasising the need for continuity comprehensiveness and collaboration at all levels of care provision different chapters explore the services directed at children in need as well as children in general      Nursery Nurse to Early Years' Practitioner Hazel G.

Education for All Richard Pring, Geoffrey Hayward, Ann Hodgson, Jill Johnson, Ewart Keep, Alis Oancea, Gareth Rees, Ken Spours, Stephanie Wilde, 2012-08-21 There are two key questions at the heart of the ongoing debate about education and training for all young people irrespective of background ability or attainment What counts as an educated 19 year old today Are the models of education we have inherited from the past sufficient to meet the needs of all young people as well as the social and economic needs of the wider community Education for All addresses these questions in the light of evidence collected over five years by the Nuffield Review of 14 19 Education and Training the most rigorous investigation of every aspect of this key educational phase for decades Written by the co directors of the Nuffield Review Education for All provides a critical comprehensive and thoroughly readable overview of 14 19 education and training and makes suggestions for the kind of education and training that should be provided over the coming decade and beyond The authors acknowledge that much has been achieved by the respective governments massive investment in resources closer collaboration between schools colleges training providers voluntary agencies and employers recognition and promotion of a wider range of qualifications They are also optimistic about the good things that are going on in many secondary classrooms enormous amounts of creativity courageous efforts to meet problems a deep concern and caring for many young people otherwise deprived of hope and opportunity But they argue for a radical reshaping of the future in the light of a broader vision of education a greater respect for more practical and active learning a system of assessment which supports rather than impoverishes learning respect for the professional expertise of the teacher a more unified system of qualifications ensuring progression into higher education and employment the creation of strongly collaborative and local learning systems and a more reflective and participative approach to policy Education for All should be read by everyone working in or with an interest in secondary level education in England and Wales and beyond
