Saber-tooth curriculum, including other lectures in the history of paleolithic education Harold Raymond Wayne Benjamin, 1939 Of Education, Fishbowls, and Rabbit Holes Jane Fried, 2023-07-03 This book questions some of our most ingrained assumptions not only about the nature of teaching and learning but about what constitutes education and about the cultural determinants of what is taught What if who you think you are profoundly affects what and how you learn Since Descartes teachers in the Western tradition have dismissed the role of self in learning What if our beliefs about self and learning are wrong and relevance of knowledge to self actually enhances learning as current research suggests Jane Fried deconstructs the Grand Western Narrative of teaching and learning describing it as a cultural fishbowl through which we see the world rarely aware of the fishbowl itself be it disciplinary constructs or the definition of liberal education She leads us on a journey to question the way things are to attend to the personal narratives of others from ethnic racial and faith groups different from ourselves to rediscover self authorship as the core task of learning in college and to empower ourselves and students to navigate the disorientation of the Alice in Wonderland rabbit holes of modern life This is a book for all educators concerned about the purpose of college and of the liberal arts in the 21st century and what it is we should reasonably expect students to learn Jane Fried both upends many received ideas and offers constructive insights based on science and evidence and does so in an engaging way that will stimulate reflection Quality education Muchativugwa L. Hove, Martha Matashu, 2021-11-30 This book investigates the intersections between education social justice gendered violence and human rights in South African schools and universities The rich and multifarious tapestry of scholarship and literature emanating from South African classrooms provides a fascinating lens through which we can understand the complex consequences of the economies of education social justice imperatives gendered violence in the lives of women and children and marginalised communities The scholarship in the book challenges readers to imagine alternative futures predicated on the transformational capacity of a democratic South Africa Contributors to this volume examine the many ways in which social justice and gendered violence mirror express project and articulate the larger phenomenon of human rights violations in Africa and how in turn the discourse of human rights informs the ways in which we articulate interrogate conceptualise enact and interpret quality education The book also wrestles with the linguistic contradictions and ambiguities in the articulation of quality education in public and private spaces This book is essential reading for scholars seeking a solid grounding in exploring quality education the instances of epistemic disobedience the political implications of place and power and human rights in theory and practice Volume 1: Research Syntheses M.
