The Oxford Handbook of Digital Technology and Society Simeon Yates, Ronald E. Rice, 2020 The Oxford Handbook of Digital Technology and Society will equip readers with the necessary starting points and provocations in the fields of social science and technology so that students scholars and policy makers can effectively assess future research practice and policy

The Making of Singapore Sociology Tong Chee-Kiong, Lian Kwen-Fee, 2021-11-08 This book presents a collection of essays of how the city state of Singapore's societal dynamics have evolved from the time of its birth as a nation in 1965 to the present Key areas of Singapore society are explored contributing to the understanding of the social organisation of the city This study reveals a shift from the modernisation studies in the 1970s to a more political economic turn as a consequence of the influence of dependency and world systems theories Topics covered include urban studies family education medical care class and social stratification work language ethnic groups religion and crime and deviance Handbook of Marriage and the Family Suzanne K. Steinmetz, Marvin B. Sussman, 2013-11-11 The lucid straightforward Preface of this Handbook by the two editors and the comprehensive perspectives offered in the Introduction by one of them leave little for a Foreword to add It is therefore limited to two relevant but not intrinsically related points vis a vis research on marriage and the family in the interval since the first Handbook Christensen 1964 appeared namely the impact on this research of the politicization of the New Right and of the Feminist Enlightenment beginning in the mid sixties about the time of the first Handbook In the late 1930s Willard Waller noted Fifty years or more ago about 1890 most people had the greatest respect for the institution called the family and wished to learn nothing whatever about it Everything that concerned the life of men and women and their children was shrouded from the light Today much of that has been changed Gone is the concealment of the way in which life begins gone the irrational sanctity of the home The aura of sentiment which once protected the family from discussion clings to it no more We want to learn as much about it as we can and to understand it as thoroughly as possible for there is a rising recognition in America that vast numbers of its families are sick from internal frustrations and from external buffeting We are engaged in the process of reconstructing our family institutions through criticism and discussion 1938 pp 3 4 Social Capital in Singapore Vincent Chua, Gillian Koh, Ern Ser Tan, Drew Shih, 2020-12-27 How can social cohesion be achieved in a meritocratic and multicultural global city state Meritocracy poses a paradox On one hand it integrates individuals through frameworks of equal treatment equal justice and opportunity regardless of race language or religion On the other hand individuals are then segregating through academic sorting they are rewarded based on credentials and performance which also results in elite identification and bonding After a generation without mitigation action social stratification can result Distinctive circles differentiating social elites from non elites the professional classes from non professional classes emerge The remedy the authors propose is network diversity which is the organic forming of ties across class and other social boundaries built on deliberate policies programmes and platforms designed to facilitate that This social mixing forged in social infrastructure such as schools workplaces and voluntary associations pays off by producing the collective goods of national identity and trust This hypothesis has been tested in the case of Singapore society and the empirical results from the research on the power of network diversity and bridging social capital are found in this volume An insightful read for scholars and practitioners in public policy and social network analysis looking to understand the challenges faced by and the experiences that have emerged from the case of Singapore with its multicultural and cosmopolitan setting Managing Diversity In Singapore: Policies And Prospects Mathews Mathew,Wai Fong Chiang,2016-05-11 Singapore society is increasingly becoming diverse During the first few decades of nation building policies were designed to homogenise aspects of Singaporean society while enshrining principles to allow restricted amounts of diversity Fast forward to the present and fifty years after independence the number of areas where diversity is profoundly apparent remains copious and its manifestations more varied This book provides an updated account on the tensions posed by diversity in Singapore and how this is being managed primarily by the state through policies and programmes but also by communities who attempt to negotiate these tensions Such an enquiry is crucial especially at this juncture when the nation is finding ways to embrace the different forms of diversity brought about through external impetuses as well as manage internal reactions from the various communities The book chapters highlight important considerations if Singapore s diversity management strategies will hold promise for the future Knowledge, Control and Critical Thinking in Singapore Leonel Lim,2015-09-07 This book examines how critical thinking is regulated in Singapore through the process of what the influential sociologist of education Basil Bernstein termed pedagogic recontextualization The ability of critical thinking to speak to alternative possibilities and individual autonomy as well as its assumptions of a liberal arrangement of society is problematized in Singapore s socio political climate By examining how such curricular discourses are taken up and enacted in the classrooms of two schools that cater to very different groups in society the book foregrounds the role of traditional high status knowledge in the elaboration of class formation and develops a critical understanding of post developmental state initiatives linked to the parable of modernization in Singapore Knowledge Control and Critical Thinking in Singapore offers chapters on Critical Thinking and the Singapore State Meritocracy Illiberalism and Neoliberalism Sacred Knowledge and Elite Dispositions Recontextualizing Critical Thinking in an Elite School Power Knowledge and Symbolic Control Official Pedagogic Identities and the Politics of Recontextualization This book will appeal to scholars in comparative education studies curriculum studies and education reform It will also interest scholars engaged in Asian studies who are struggling to understand issues of education policy formation and implementation particularly in the areas of critical thinking and other knowledge skills Columbia University Bulletin Columbia University,1923 A Chinese from Singapore Samuel Wong,2009-03-23 A young Chinese came to the U S for theological training His goal was to become a pastor teacher in Singapore Upon graduation he returned to Singapore with his Caucasian wife to fulfill his obligations and to do post graduate study concurrently Unwittingly the young couple was entangled in church and secular politics and they had to leave Singapore They began a new life in America At several critical junctures of the protagonists career when he was in a relatively comfortable environment he moved out of the comfort zone to tackle a new challenge in response to a higher calling The detours in his life journey the prejudice and discrimination in the workplace the consistent acts of fairness of people of good will the secrets of his success and the mellowing of his worldview and religious faith are the substance of this unusual book of inspiration For a deeper appreciation of one who has led a life full of challenges a life characterized by many successes against high odds and a life replete with recognitions and awards in secular and religious settings I invite you to read on

Handbook of Sports Studies Jay Coakley, Eric Dunning, 2000 An authoritative cast of international and inter disciplinary contributors present the best of current thinking in sports studies as the subject matures and develops academically

Religious Diversity in Singapore Lai Ah Eng, 2008 Religious and ethno religious issues are inherent in many multiethnic and multi religious societies Singapore society is no exception It has long been multiethnic multicultural and multi religious being at the crossroads of many major and minor civilizations cultures and traditions and its religious diversity continues to develop in the current contexts of growing religiosity religious change and conflict often in the name of religion Despite this background there is lack of in depth knowledge nuanced understanding and regular dialogue about religions and the meanings of living in a multi religious world This volume covering major themes of Singapore s religious landscape religion in schools and among the young religion in the media religious involvement in social services and interfaith issues and interaction fills important gaps in the knowledge and understanding of Singapore s religious diversity and complexity A collective effort of researchers and practitioners it is a timely and useful reference for scholars decision makers leaders and practitioners as well as for concerned citizens and followers

Rationalizing Religion Chee Kiong Tong, 2007 Disputing the secularization hypothesis this book examines the relationship between religion and modernity detailing and explaining religious conversion revivalism and religious competition in Singapore There is intellectualization of religion a shift from unthinking acceptance to rationalized religions
