To the Reader

This Figure, that thou here beholds,
Is none but gentle Shakspeare's face,
Whom the Great God hath thus
With Nature's pen, so rare and brave
O, could he but have done more to me
As well as he has, who has
Hath so, the Poet would be proud
All due respect and reverence
But, since he cannot, Reader, be
Not on his Pillow, but his Book.

Shakespeare's Historical Plays:

Contrast in Shakespeare's Historical Plays Francis Meehan, 1915 Shakespeare's Historical Plays William Shakespeare, 1883 Shakespeare's Historical Plays Subodh Chandra Sen Gupta, Oxford University Press, 1966

Thoughts on Shakespeare's Historical Plays Albert Stratford George Canning, 1981 Shakespeare's History Plays A. J. Hoenselaars, 2004-09-23 This volume with a foreword by Dennis Kennedy addresses a range of attitudes to Shakespeare's English history plays in Britain and abroad from the early seventeenth century to the present day. It concentrates on the play texts as well as productions, translations and adaptations of them. The essays explore the multiple points of intersection between the English history they recount and the experience of British and other national cultures, establishing the plays as genres not only relevant to the political and cultural history of Britain but also to the history of nearly every nation worldwide. The plays have had a rich international reception tradition, but critics and theatre historians abroad, those practising foreign Shakespeare, have tended to ignore these plays in favour of the comedies and tragedies. By presenting the British and foreign Shakespeare traditions side by side, this volume seeks to promote a more finely integrated world Shakespeare. The English History Play in the Age of Shakespeare Irving Ribner, 2005 Recognized as one of the leading books in its field, The English History Play in the Age of Shakespeare presents the most comprehensive account available of the English historical drama from its beginning to the closing of the theatres in 1642.
