Shaping Of South African Society 1652 184:

The Shaping of South African Society, 1652-1840. Richard Elphick, Hermann Giliomee, 2014-01-15 History is a powerful aid to the understanding of the present and those who are concerned with the escalating crisis in South Africa will find this an invaluable source book This is the story of the evolution of a society in which race became the dominant characteristic the primary determinant of status wealth and power Cultural chauvinism of the first European colonists primarily the Dutch merged with economic and demographic developments to create a society in which whites relegated all blacks free blacks Africans imported slaves to a systematic pattern of subordination and oppression that foreshadowed the apartheid of the twentieth century From the beginning of the nineteenth century the new empire builders the British reinforced the racial order In the next century and a half the industrialized South Africa would become firmly integrated into the world economy Published originally in South Africa in 1979 and updated and expanded now a decade later this book by twelve South African British Canadian Dutch and American scholars is the most comprehensive history of the early years of that troubled nation The authors put South Africa in the comparative context of other colonial systems Their social political and economic history is rich with empirical data and rests on a solid base of archival research The story they tell is a complex drama of a racial structure that has resisted hostile impulses from without and rebellion from within Afrikaners and the Boundaries of Faith in Post-Apartheid South Africa Annika Björnsdotter Teppo, 2021-09-30 This book examines the shifting moral and spiritual lives of white Afrikaners in South Africa after apartheid The end of South Africa's apartheid system of racial and spatial segregation sparked wide reaching social change as social cultural spatial and racial boundaries were transgressed and transformed This book investigates how Afrikaners have mediated the country's shifting boundaries within the realm of religion For instance one in every three Afrikaners used these new freedoms to leave the traditional Dutch Reformed Church NGK often for an entirely new religious affiliation within the Pentecostal or Charismatic churches or New Religious Movements such as Wiccan neopaganism Based on long term ethnographic fieldwork in the Western Cape area the book investigates what spiritual life after racial totalitarianism means for the members of the ethnic group that constructed and maintained that very totalitarianism Ultimately the book asks how these new Afrikaner religious practices contribute to social solidarity and integration in a persistently segregated society and what they can tell us about racial relations in the country today This book will be of interest to scholars of religious studies social and cultural anthropology and African studies Historical Archaeology in South Africa Carmel Schrire, 2018-12-13 This volume documents the analysis of excavated historical archaeological collections at the Cape of Good Hope South Africa The corpus provides a rich picture of life and times at this distant outpost of an immense Dutch seaborne empire during the contact period Representing over three decades of excavation conservation and analysis the book examines ceramics glass metal and other categories of artifacts in their archaeological contexts An enclosed CD includes a video reconstruction plus a comprehensive catalog and color illustrations of the artifacts in the corpus The parallels and contrasts this volume reveals will help scholars studying the European expansion period to build a richer comparative picture of colonial material culture

The Languages of Urban Africa Fiona Mc Laughlin, 2011-10-27 The Languages of Urban Africa consists of a series of case studies that address four main themes The first is the history of African urban languages The second set focus on theoretical issues in the study of African urban languages exploring the outcomes of intense multilingualism and also the ways in which urban dwellers form their speech communities The volume then moves on to explore the relationship between language and identity in the urban setting The final two case studies in the volume address the evolution of urban languages in Africa This rich set of chapters examine languages and speech communities in ten geographically diverse African urban centres covering almost all regions of the continent Half involve Francophone cities the other half Anglophone This exciting volume shows us what the study of urban African languages can tell us about language and about African societies in general It is essential reading for upper level undergraduates postgraduates and researchers in sociolinguistics especially those interested in the language of Africa
