Sheathing The Sword The Demilitarisation:

Sheathing the Sword Meirion Harries, Susie Harries, 1989 Gold Warriors Peggy Seagrave, Sterling

Seagrave, 2020-05-05 In 1945 US intelligence officers in Manila discovered that the Japanese had hidden large quantities of gold bullion and other looted treasure in the Philippines President Truman decided to recover the gold but to keep its riches secret These combined with Japanese treasure recovered during the US occupation and with recovered Nazi loot would create a worldwide American political action fund to fight communism This Black Gold gave Washington virtually limitless unaccountable funds providing an asset base to reinforce the treasuries of America's allies to bribe political and military leaders and to manipulate elections in foreign countries for more than fifty years Terasaki Hidenari, Pearl Harbor, and Occupied Japan Roger B. Jeans, 2009-01-01 This book sheds light on Japanese intelligence and propaganda activities in the United States prior to Pearl Harbor Japanese attempts to use American isolationists and pacifists in 1941 and Japanese and American efforts to save Emperor Hirohito from being tried as a war criminal during the US occupation of Japan It utilizes the American cracking of the Japanese diplomatic code FBI surveillance and wiretapping records and the personal papers of Americans with whom Terasaki Hidenari had contact to conclude that he wanted peace between the United States and Japan in 1941 and worked to preserve the imperial institution following the war Kamikazes, Corsairs, and Picket Ships Robin L. Rielly, 2020-01-10 The untold story of ferocious air and naval combat during the WWII Battle of Okinawa drawn from primary sources and survivor interviews This is the story of an overlooked yet significant aerial and naval battle during the American assault on Okinawa in the spring of 1945 While losses to America's main fleet are well recorded less well known is the terrific battle waged on the radar picket line the fleet's outer defense against Japanese marauders Weaving together the experiences of the ships and their crews drawn from ship and aircraft action reports ship logs and personal interviews historian Robin L. Rielly recounts one of the most ferocious air and naval battles in history The US fleet and its accompanying airpower was so massive that the Japanese could only rely on suicide attacks to inflict critical damage Of the 206 ships that served on radar picket duty twenty nine percent were sunk or damaged by Japanese air attacks making theirs the most hazardous naval surface duty in World War II The great losses were largely due to relentless kamikaze attacks but also resulted from the improper use of support gunboats failure to establish land based radar at the earliest possible time the assignment of ships ill equipped for picket duty and as time went on crew fatigue US air cover during the battle is also described in full as squadrons dashed from their carriers and land bases to intercept the Japanese swarms resulting in constant melees over the fleet Reading Penguin George Donaldson, William Wootten, 2013-07-26 Founded by Allen Lane in 1935 Penguin Books soon became the most read publisher in the United Kingdom and was synonymous with the British paperback Making high quality reading cheaply available to millions Penguin helped democratise reading In so doing Penguin played an important part in the cultural and intellectual life of the English speaking world For this book which has its origins in the successful international conference held at Bristol University in 2010 to mark 75 years of Penguin Books recognised scholars from different fields examine various aspects of Penguin's significance and achievement David Cannadine and Simon Eliot offer wide historical perspectives of Penguin's place and impact Other scholars including Alistair McCleery Kimberley Reynolds Andrew Sanders Claire Squires Susie Harries Andrew Nash Tom Boll and William John Lyons examine more particularised subjects These range from the breaking of the Lady Chatterley ban to the visions of the future contained in Puffin Books from Penguin Classics to the scholarly and commercial interests in publishers' anniversaries from the art and architectural histories of Nikolaus Pevsner to the art and design of Penguin covers and from the translation of poetry to the transcription of the Dead Sea Scrolls Together the essays depict much of what it was that made Penguin the most important British publishing house of the twentieth century

Democracy in Post-War Japan Rikki Kersten, 2013-06-17 Democracy in Post War Japan assesses the development of democracy through the writings of the brilliant political thinker Maruyama Masao The author explores the significance of Maruyama's notion of personal and social autonomy and its impact on the development of a distinctively Japanese democratic ideal This book based on contemporary documents and on interviews with Maruyama is the only full scale analysis of his work and thought to be published in English

Democracy and Peace Making Philip Towle, 2004-01-14 Democracy and Peace Making is an invaluable and up to date account of the process of peace making which draws on the most recent historical thinking It surveys the post war peace settlements of the nineteenth and twentieth centuries including the Vienna congress of 1815 the Treaty of Versailles the peace settlements of the Second World War peace talks after the Korean War the Paris Peace Accords of 1973

Nikolaus Pevsner Susie Harries, 2011-08-18 Born Nikolai Pevsner into a Russian Jewish family in Leipzig in 1902 Nikolaus Pevsner was a dedicated scholar who pursued a promising career as an academic in Dresden and Göttingen When in 1933 Jews were no longer permitted to teach in German universities he lost his job and looked for employment in England Here over a long and amazingly industrious career he made himself an authority on the exploration and enjoyment of English art and architecture so much so that his magisterial county by county series of 46 books on The Buildings of England first published 1951-74 is usually referred to simply as Pevsner As a critic academic and champion of Modernism Pevsner became a central figure in the architectural consensus that accompanied post war reconstruction as a general practitioner of architectural history he covered an astonishing range from Gothic cathedrals and Georgian coffee houses to the Festival of Britain and Brutalist tower blocks Susie Harries explores the truth about Nikolaus Pevsner's reported sympathies with elements of Nazi ideology his internment in England as an enemy alien and his sometimes painful assimilation into his country of exile His Heftchen secret diaries he kept from the age of 14 for another sixty years reveal hidden aspirations and anxieties as do his numerous letters he wrote to his wife Lola every day that they were apart Harries is the first biographer to have read Pevsner's private papers and through them to have seen into the workings of his mind Her definitive biography is not only rich in context and far ranging but is also brought to life by quotations from Pevsner himself He was born a Jew but converted to Lutheranism trained in the rigour of German scholarship he became an Everyman in his copious commissions publications broadcasts and lectures on art architecture design education town planning social housing conservation Mannerism the Bauhaus the Victorians Zeitgeist Englishness and how a nation's character may or must be reflected in its art His life as an outsider yet an insider at the heart of English art history illuminates both the predicament and the prowess of the continental migrants who did so much to shape British culture after 1945

Transcultural Justice at the Tokyo Tribunal, 2018-03-06 While the International Military Tribunal at Nuremberg has been at the centre of scholarly attention the Tokyo Tribunal has for decades been largely neglected This is surprising insofar as this tribunal was a well organized Allied endeavour and prefigured the international courts and tribunals of our day Eleven national teams were sent to Tokyo between 1946 and 1948 to bring about justice in the aftermath of the Pacific War This volume offers an innovative approach to the Tokyo Tribunal as an arena of transcultural engagement It contextualizes legal agents as products of transnational forces constituted through dialogues about legal concepts and processes of faction making The endeavour was challenged by different national policies divergent legal traditions and varying cultural perceptions of the task ahead Contributors are Milinda Banerjee Anja Bihler Neil Boister David M Crowe Kerstin von Lingen Narrelle Morris Hitoshi Nagai Valentyna Polunina Ann Sophie Schoepfel Lisette Schouten James Burnham Sedgwick Yuki Takatori and Urs Matthias Zachmann
