Shenac's Work at Home Margaret M. Robertson, 2019-12-24 In Shenac's Work at Home Margaret M Robertson crafts a poignant narrative that explores the struggles and aspirations of a young Scottish woman navigating the complexities of domestic life in the late 19th century The novel is characterized by its vivid depictions of rural society and the nuanced portrayal of gender roles emphasizing the tension between personal ambition and societal expectations Robertson's literary style is marked by a combination of realism and lyrical prose allowing readers to engage deeply with Shenac's internal conflicts as she grapples with her duty to her family and her desire for independence amidst the constraints of her environment Margaret M Robertson was born in a period when women's literary voices were often marginalized Her own experiences as a woman in Scotland undoubtedly informed her portrayal of Shenac reflecting not only the challenges faced by women of her time but also a progressive lens that advocates for female empowerment With a growing interest in social reform Robertson's writing embodies the spirit of the suffragist movement making Shenac's Work at Home a significant contribution to women's literature that challenges traditional narratives This novel is highly recommended for those interested in feminist literature historical fiction and the intricate dynamics of family life Readers will find themselves drawn into Shenac's world reflecting on universal themes of identity duty and self discovery Robertson's insightful storytelling offers a rich tapestry of emotional depth making this book an essential read for anyone seeking to understand the complexities of a woman's role in society

White Civility Daniel Coleman, 2006-01-01 In White Civility Daniel Coleman breaks the long silence in Canadian literary and cultural studies around Canadian whiteness and examines its roots as a literary project of early colonials and nation builders He argues that a specific form of whiteness emerged in Canada that was heavily influenced by Britishness Examining four allegorical figures that recur in a wide range of Canadian writings between 1820 and 1950 the Loyalist fratricide the enterprising Scottish orphan the muscular Christian and the maturing colonial son Coleman outlines a genealogy of Canadian whiteness that remains powerfully influential in Canadian thinking to this day Blending traditional literary analysis with the approaches of cultural studies and critical race theory White Civility examines canonical literary texts popular journalism and mass market bestsellers to trace widespread ideas about Canadian citizenship during the optimistic nation building years as well as during the years of disillusionment that followed the First World War and the Great Depression Tracing the consistent project of white civility in Canadian letters Coleman calls for resistance to this project by transforming whiteness into wry civility unearthing rather than disavowing the history of racism in Canadian literary culture
