Midwives Coping with Loss and Grief Doreen Kenworthy, Mavis Kirkham, 2019-01-22 The experience of stillbirth and other losses in pregnancy at what is usually a time of great joy is tragic for everyone involved including midwifery professionals Although research increasingly shows how profound the effects of loss can be few studies have explored the effects of pregnancy loss which often leads to other personal and professional traumas such as loss of autonomy or a workplace on midwives This in depth investigation uses a phenomenological approach to capture midwives experiences of loss and grief in their own words and encompasses both pregnancy loss and wider professional and personal issues It then makes recommendations to enhance midwives resilience and ability to cope appropriately whilst giving maximum support to their clients Reflections on the emerging implications for midwifery education and practice further broaden the scope of the analysis The insights in this book will be of great use to midwifery managers and supervisors They will also help midwives to nurture themselves their colleagues and their clients at a time when pressures on the service can leave support lacking The devastating experience of losing a baby for women and their families is something that as midwives we strive to understand in order to provide appropriate practical and emotional support Doreen and Mavis encourage us to consider how we are affected by the grief of others at a deeply personal level Ultimately the message in this book is one of hope through reflection and the sharing of experiences midwives who have been with women whose babies have died can regain their personal strength and learn to re shape memories in ways that contribute to personal growth and understanding A From the Foreword by Nicky Leap Loss and Bereavement in Childbearing Rosemary Mander,2007-04-11 This new edition of a groundbreaking work reflects important developments in the general understanding of and research into loss and death Providing a wealth of information for both experienced and inexperienced midwives the book covers topics including perinatal and neonatal loss miscarriage and termination for foetal abnormality death of a mother in third world and first world settings difficulties encountered during future childbearing Combining an authoritative research based orientation with a critical yet human approach to this sensitive topic the book aids midwives in providing effective care and support to those who experience loss The author draws on relevant and largely research based literature from a wide range of related disciplines to inform this area which is only now receiving the attention it has long deserved Bereavement, Loss and Learning Disabilities Robin Grey,2010 Losing a loved one and coping with the subsequent adjustments that follow are a difficult fact of life but people with learning disabilities face specific difficulties in processing and managing these changes Adopting an integrative approach this book acknowledges the importance of helping relationships in supporting this vulnerable group through periods of loss and bereavement The author explains how to engage the person with a learning disability in talking therapy by creating an open dialogue Common signs of stress factors to consider in assessing risk and advice on how best to approach difficult subjects are presented The role of supervision in counselling and issues surrounding terminal illness are also discussed and practical solutions offered Professionals working in the field of learning disabilities such as counsellors therapists carers and health and social care students will find this informed guide beneficial in communicating and supporting people with learning disabilities Handling Death and Bereavement at Work David Charles-Edwards,2005 This is a uniquely invaluable book which tackles how death and bereavement can affect the workplace It is a sensitive and constructive text for dealing with issues that touch all working lives "Understanding Loss and Managing Change" ,1995 Loss, Bereavement and Grief Bob Spall,Stephen Callis,1997 Helps the reader to confront and address the personal issues of experienced and feared loss thus enabling them as a professional carer to work more effectively with others Presents a clear insight into the links between theoretical personal and professional issues Provides highly practical guidance on coping with the most difficult situations Structured questions are designed to trigger consideration of key issues
