Lost Geography Charlotte Bacon, 2002-01-05 In this heartbreaking debut novel Bacon explores the transitions that 60 years visit upon the members of an unforgettable family a Saskatchewan woman her Scottish husband and their daughters who have migrated elsewhere The Scrap Book, 1908 Geographical Imaginations Indranil Acharya, Ujjwal Kumar Panda, 2022 The book is aimed at providing a short introduction to the divergent ways in which space and place evince themselves in literature With suitable illustrations from some very well known canonical texts the book offers a brief survey of the possible ways of looking at the seemingly impossible relationship between Literature and Geography The Geography of Lost Things Jessica Brody, 2018-10-02 In this romantic road trip story perfect for fans of Sarah Dessen and Morgan Matson a teen girl discovers the value of ordinary objects while learning to forgive her absent father A lot can happen on the road from lost to found Ali Collins doesn't have room in her life for clutter or complications So when her estranged father passes away and leaves her his only prized possession a 1968 Firebird convertible Ali knows she won't keep it Not when it reminds her too much of all her father's unfulfilled promises And especially not when a buyer three hundred miles up the Pacific coast is offering enough money for the car to save her childhood home from foreclosure There's only one problem though Ali has no idea how to drive a stick shift But her ex boyfriend Nico does The road trip gets off to a horrible start filled with unexpected detours roadblocks and all the uncomfortable tension that comes with being trapped in a car with your ex But when Nico starts collecting items from the quirky strangers they meet along the way Ali starts to sense that these objects aren't random Somehow they seem to be leading her to an unknown truth about her father A truth that will finally prove to Ali that some things even broken things are worth saving Handbook of the American Novel of the Twentieth and Twenty-First Centuries Timo Müller, 2017-01-11 Increasing specialization within the discipline of English and American Studies has shifted the focus of scholarly discussion toward theoretical reflection and cultural contexts These developments have benefitted the discipline in more ways than one but they have also resulted in a certain neglect of close reading As a result students and researchers interested in such material are forced to turn to scholarship from the 1960s and 1970s much of which relies on dated methodological and ideological presuppositions The handbook aims to fill this gap by providing new readings of texts that figure prominently in the literature classroom and in scholarly debate from James's The Ambassadors to McCarthy's The Road These readings do not revert naively to a time before theory Instead they distill the insights of literary and cultural theory into concise introductions to the historical background the themes the formal strategies and the reception of influential literary texts and they do so in a jargon-free language accessible to readers on all levels of qualification The New York Times Book Reviews 2000 New York Times Staff, 2001 This anthology examines Love's Labours Lost from a variety of perspectives and through a wide range of materials Selections discuss the play in terms of historical context dating and sources character analysis comic elements and verbal conceits evidence of authorship

imperial home front in the suburbs of Northern Virginia In this covert capital the suburban landscape provided a cover for the workings of U S imperial power which shaped domestic suburban life The Pentagon and the CIA built two of the largest office buildings in the country there during and after the war that anchored a new imperial culture and social world As the U S expanded its power abroad by developing roads embassies and villages its subjects also arrived in the covert capital as real estate agents homeowners builders and landscapers who constructed spaces and living monuments that both nurtured and critiqued postwar U S foreign policy Tracing the relationships among American agents and the migrants from Vietnam El Salvador Iran and elsewhere who settled in the southwestern suburbs of D C Friedman tells the story of a place that recasts ideas about U S immigration citizenship nationalism global interconnection and ethical responsibility from the post WW2 period to the present Opening a new window onto the intertwined history of the American suburbs and U S foreign policy Covert Capital will also give readers a broad interdisciplinary and often surprising understanding of how U S domestic and global histories intersect in many contexts and at many scales American Crossroads 37      Empires of Print Patrick Scott Belk, 2017-05-08 At the turn of the twentieth century the publishing industries in Britain and the United States underwent dramatic expansions and reorganization that brought about an increased traffic in books and periodicals around the world Focusing on adventure fiction published from 1899 to 1919 Patrick Scott Belk looks at authors such as Joseph Conrad H G Wells Conan Doyle and John Buchan to explore how writers of popular fiction engaged with foreign markets and readers through periodical publishing Belk argues that popular fiction particularly the adventure genre developed in ways that directly correlate with authors experiences and shows that popular genres of the late nineteenth and early twentieth centuries emerged as one way of marketing their literary works to expanding audiences of readers worldwide Despite an over determined print space altered by the rise of new kinds of consumers and transformations of accepted habits of reading publishing and writing the changes in British and American publishing at the turn of the twentieth century inspired an exciting new period of literary invention and experimentation in the adventure genre and the greater part of that invention and experimentation was happening in the magazines      A Road Course in Early American Literature Thomas Hallock, 2021-02-23 A Road Course in Early American Literature Travel and Teaching from Atzl n to Amherst explores a two part question what does travel teach us about literature and how can reading guide us to a deeper understanding of place and identity Thomas Hallock charts a teacher s journey to answering these questions framing personal experiences around the continued need for a survey course covering early American literature up to the mid nineteenth century Hallock approaches literary study from the overlapping perspectives of pedagogue scholar unrepentant tourist husband father friend and son Building on Ralph Waldo Emerson s premise that there is creative reading as well as creative writing Hallock turns to the vibrant and accessible tradition of American travel writing employing the form of biblio memoir to bridge the impasse between public and academic discourse and reintroduce the dynamic field of early American literature to wider audiences

Hallock's own road course begins and ends at the Lowcountry of Georgia and South Carolina following a circular structure of reflection. He weaves his journey through a wide swath of American literatures and authors from Native American and African American oral traditions to Wheatley and Equiano through Emerson, Poe, and Dickinson among others. A series of longer place-oriented narratives explore familiar and lesser-known literary works from the sixteenth-century invasion of Florida through the Mexican War of 1846-1848 and the American Civil War. Shorter chapters bridge the book's central themes: the mapping of cognitive and physical space, our personal stake in reading, the tensions that follow earlier acts of erasure, and the impossibility of ever fully shutting out the past. Exploring complex cultural histories and contemporary landscapes filled with ghosts and new voices, this volume draws inspiration from a tradition of travel, place-oriented, and literature-based works ranging from William Carlos Williams's In the American Grain and Jack Kerouac's On the Road to Alice Walker's In Search of Our Mother's Gardens, Wendy Lesser's Why I Read: The Serious Pleasure of Books, and Rebecca Mead's My Life in Middlemarch. An accompanying bibliographic essay is periodically updated and available at Hallock's website www.roadcourse.us.

Writing the City Peter Preston, Paul Simpson-Housley, 2002-09-11 Arguing that classic geographical descriptions of the city fail to accommodate the crucial aspect of human life, this visualizes the city through the hopes, aspirations, disappointments, and pains of international novelists and creative writers.

Another Jesus, a Different Spirit, a Different Gospel Steven H. Propp, 2011-12-13 It's the Christmas season, the most wonderful time of the year for most people in River City, California. But for Jehovah's Witnesses, Lawrence and Brad, it's a time for them to try to explain the truth about this holiday season to the people of the community. Their earnest efforts may earn them ridicule, disagreement, or a door slammed rudely in their faces, but they persist and are sometimes able to find a mind and heart receptive to their urgent message about Jehovah's coming Kingdom. Whereas for Elders Skousen and Marshall, two Latter-day Saint Mormon missionaries, the season is another opportunity to share their Church's distinctive interpretation of the Christian gospel, but their efforts are often rebuffed as well. In the course of their work, these two pairs of men engage in dialogue with traditional Christians as well as members of the Church of Christ, the Community of Christ, RLDS, Seventh-day Adventists, and Oneness Pentecostals, not to mention skeptics, atheists, and the increasing numbers of people who lack any particular religious beliefs. But when a local church brings in a researcher to give a series of lectures on cults, and specifically targeting the Jehovah's Witnesses and Mormons, a confrontation is ensured where theological and biblical concepts collide in a public forum. Who, if anyone, really has the Truth? Can one still discover the true meaning of Christmas in the midst of passionate disagreements over the validity of the holiday season? Are objections raised about the secularization and rampant commercialism of the modern celebration valid? Spend a holiday season or any other season with some interesting and intellectually stimulating characters as they explore these and other challenging questions. Readers of the author's earlier novel A Multicultural Christmas will be pleased to see a brief reappearance of two characters from that book.
